SNOWDEN AGAIN SHOUTS "NO" IN EARS OF ALLIES

But Whispers He'll Discuss Offer.

BULLETIN.

THE HAGUE, Tuesday, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Representatives of the six principal powers in attendance at the governments' reparations conference here arranged today to meet at 5 p. m. (12 noon Chicago daylight saving time). It was believed the meeting would mark the crucial point of the conference.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Holland, Aug. 26.—The four "sacrificing allies'" latest offer of a portion of their shares of the German reparations was rejected by Great Britain tonight.

"The offer was inadequate," Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, wrote succinctly.

But the fiery little British spokesman, after banging the door shut, gently re-opened it, leaving the key hanging invitingly on the outside.

"I am not leaving, but remaining at The Hague at the disposition of the gentlemen of the other delegations," he wrote.

Only 57% of British Needs.

The British estimate that the French, Italian, Belgian, and Japanese offer is about 57 per cent of what they require. Mr. Snowden demanded $11,424,000 per annum additional and the allies first offer amounted to $5,140,800. Today's offer amounts to $6,806,800. Premier Henri Jaspar of Belgium delivered the four power memorandum to Mr. Snowden this morning.

The chancellor read it carefully, interrupting his perusal occasionally to chuckle grimly. Then the chancellor took a tack hammer and nailed the memorandum against the door of the delegations' big conference parlor like a target. The British treasury experts opened fire and relentlessly perforated the memorandum until they found every vulnerable spot. They discovered that the sacrifices were figured in the actual capital values at 6½ to 7 per cent instead of the 5½ per cent as the money market provides.

They found that the four powers were handing Great Britain sums the Young plan already had earmarked for England. They found the European allies handing over sums, which were allocated to the little peoples—the little entente, and Greece, Portugal and Poland. They also found the creditors awarding sums from Germany, although the Germans have not promised anything additional.

Delegates on Pins and Needles.

Meanwhile the chief sacrificing delegates sat waiting. Finally came Mr. Snowden's note of reply that the "offer is totally inadequate." Despite the seriousness of the situation it implied, everyone brightened up perceptibly—it would mean the end of the long drawn out conference. Then they read the next sentence and everyone was plunged into gloom. Mr. Snowden said he was not leaving and was awaiting their next move.

There is no next move except the unthinkable one of surrendering some of their own perquisites. They already gave away the belonging to everyone else and that did not satisfy. The sacrificing powers intend to offer no new proposal, the French asserted tonight.

"I feel sure that Mr. Snowden will reconsider tomorrow when we call on him to accept the compromise and save Europe and the world from catastrophe," said Premier Briand of France tonight.

Britain Says It Is Through.

British sources tonight did not hide the fact that it is the end unless the four other creditors decide to make sacrifices.

"It is the last conference on the Young plan," it was asserted, meaning the four months' work of the experts would be discarded unless there was an agreement under which the British get 22 per cent of the indemnity as the Spa agreement provided, regardless of the others. The British would leave Germany free to negotiate separate arrangements with the other European powers.

Such a stand would be strengthened by the British determination to evacuate the Rhineland by Jan. 1 at the latest. It was expected that Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, would make a final effort to reach a compromise tomorrow.

Germany Pays $36,000,000 Interest.

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The second biennial installment of interest on industrial debentures totaling one hundred and fifty million gold marks [$36,000,000], due today, was punctually paid to the agent general for reparations.

BRITISH TROOPS FIGHT ARAB RAID ON JERUSALEM

4 Chicagoans Dead in Hebron Massacre.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 27 (Tuesday).—From accounts of heavy firing in the vicinity of Jaffa reaching London early this morning it would seem that British troops and marines, after landing from warships, are meeting considerable opposition in making their way toward Jerusalem. Government communiques are silent on the point of whether the railway connecting Jaffa and Jerusalem is functioning and the acting high commissioner's report significantly says, "Further reports concerning Jaffa will be made later."

JERUSALEM, Aug. 26.—The latest corrected reports of the casualties in Jewish-Arab rioting at Hebron give more than 70 dead. Of the 190 students in the Slobodko rabbinical college, 30 were killed. eight of whom were Americans and four from Chicago. Following is the casualty list among the Americans:

The dead:

JACOB WEXLER, 17, son of Richard Wexler, 4237 Van Buren street, Chicago, retired radio dealer.

DAVID EPSTEIN, 17, son of Rabbi Ephraim Epstein, 1331 Independence boulevard, Chicago.

HENRY FROHMAN, Chicago. He is believed to be Harry Frauman, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mandel Frauman live at 1250 South Kildare avenue. Frauman, who came with his family from Hamilton, Ont., was formerly a student at the Hebrew Theological college, Douglas boulevard and St. Louis avenue.

KRASSNER, first name unknown, Chicago.

WILLIAM BERMAN, Philadelphia, Pa.

BENJAMIN HURWITZ, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Seriously Wounded.

David Winchester, formerly a rabbi at Springfield, Ill. He was stabbed in the abdomen and there is little hope for his recovery. He is the son of Morris Winchester, 1106 North Christiana avenue.

Slightly Wounded.

Lester Harbiter, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Max Harbiter, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Moses Sanders, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Samuel Sanders, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The following escaped uninjured:

Gold, Brooklyn; Zeideh Berman, Philadelphia; Israel Snow, Brooklyn; Ralph De Koven, Chicago; Ben Cohen, Seattle; Mr. Forman and wife, Brooklyn; Kusner, Brooklyn; two Goodman brothers, Cleveland; Baruch Kaplan, Brooklyn; Mr. Toledetski, New York; Rabbi Harold Goltesman, Brooklyn. De Koven, who is the son of Bernard De Koven, 7230 Sheridan road, was reported injured in earlier dispatches.

Eighteen Killed in Home.

In the house of A. D. Slonim, manager of the local branch of the Anglo-Palestine bank, where nearly 50 sought refuge, 18 were killed, including the manager, his wife and two children, and his wife's parents, who were visiting them.

The barbarity of the attackers knew no bounds. Not content with killing, the Arabs attacked Mrs. Sokolover, an American citizen, newly married. She is seriously injured.

(According to an uncensored dispatch by way of Cairo, Egypt, the Jewish community board of Jerusalem estimates the Jewish deaths at between 120 and 150. At least 100 Arabs were also killed in the riots, according to estimates of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.)

War Spreads Over Holy Land.

Despite the arrival of British warships, planes, and large contingents of troops the racial warfare is spreading to all parts of the Holy Land.

The sound of machine gun shots are still reëchoing in Jerusalem. British soldiers have just repelled an attack of some seventy Arabs on the Jewish quarter of Sharei Chesed.

Robt. Curtis, Broker, Sued for Divorce

Mrs. Isabelle Baker Curtis yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Circuit court against her husband, Robert M. Curtis, stock broker. Mrs. Curtis, who is a sister of Mary Landon Baker, charges cruelty. The action had been expected in social circles for almost a year.

The Curtises were married Jan. 27, 1917, in a fashionable wedding at the home of the bride's parents, the late Alfred L. Baker, financier, and Mrs. Baker, at 1130 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Curtis was attended by her sister. After French and Italian customs, the Curtises made their home with the bride's parents for a year after a wedding trip through the west.

Mr. Curtis is a decendant of an old Boston family. He came to Chicago several years before his marriage and took a position in the firm of the late Mr. Baker.

Mrs. Curtis charges that in the last five years her husband has been guilty of extreme cruelty. She alleges that Curtis struck her on June 8, 1927, as they were at tea in their Lake Shore drive apartment. A second instance of cruelty is set at Oct. 17, 1928, when Curtis is said to have struck her in the home at Lake Forest.

On that date Mrs. Curtis charges that her husband abandoned her and took an apartment at the Ambassador hotel. The Curtises have two daughters, Priscilla, 10 years old, and Isabelle, 5 years old. A son died several years ago.

Mrs. Curtis asks for the custody of both children and for alimony and attorney fees.

Mr. Curtis is actively interested in aviation. He was one of the first society men to purchase a plane and secure a pilot's license. Mrs. Curtis is also an enthusiast. Before their estrangement Curtis was teaching his wife to fly.

BOY SHOT AS HE FLEES OAK PARK BURGLARY SCENE

Frank Dvorak, 16 years old, 2738 South Turner avenue, was shot in the abdomen and probably fatally wounded early this morning when he tried to escape from policemen who said Dvorak and another youth had robbed the Person drug store at Roosevelt road and Wesley avenue, Oak Park. Dvorak's companion escaped.

The policemen were summoned to the drug store by a neighbor who saw two men break into the place through a window. When they arrived Dvorak and his companion were walking north in Wesley avenue. The police gave chase and the youths turned to run down an alley. Policeman James Skala fired. Dvorak fell as his companion fled.

The wounded youth was taken to the Oak Park hospital. The police found two phone boxes had been ripped from booths in the drug store and rifled of $50.

Bomb Store of Secretary to L. F. King

A bomb, placed in the front doorway of the Graham & Sons paint store at 1821 West 35th street, early this morning wrecked the front of the store, causing damage estimated at $5,000. Windows in several nearby buildings were blown out by the force of the explosion.

The store is owned by Jeffrey P. Graham, 3451 Elaine place, and his brother, Sellac G. Graham, 3531 South Hoyne avenue, Republican state central committeeman of the 4th congressional district, and president and secretary of the 12th ward regular Republican club. Sellac Graham also is secretary to Lawrence F. King, sanitary district trustee and Thompson political leader of the southwest side, who has twice been the target of bombers within the last eight months.

Front of Store Wrecked.

The blast tore out the front of the Graham store, wrecking partitions and damaging part of the stock of paint. The Graham brothers' mother, Mrs. Sarah G. Graham, and Miss Lillian Graham reside in the apartment above the store, but they are in Benton Harbor, Mich., preparing to return from a summer outing, and the flat was unoccupied.

Sellac Graham is at Pickerel, Wis., on a fishing trip. Jeffrey Graham told the police that he knew of no motive for the bombing. He said the store had not been involved in any difficulties with others and that he does not believe the attack was due to politics.

Former Prohibition Enforcer.

Sellac Graham has been active in Republican politics on the southwest side for several years. For two years he was a group chief of the Illinois prohibition enforcement department, retiring on July 1, 1925.

This morning's bomb was the fourth in which politicians or their relatives have suffered property damage in the last few months. The King bombs were exploded on Dec. 18, 1928, and on Aug. 19, this year, the first at his city home, 3636 South Hamilton avenue, and the second at his country residence in Justice Park. Last Thursday a bomb damaged the auto accessories store of Israel Warshawsky, son-in-law of Morris Eller, city collector and boss of the 20th ward.

HEIR TO PACKARD MILLIONS KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—[U. P.]—Warren Packard, 35, heir to the Packard millions, was killed late today when his private seaplane crashed into a marker in a marsh near Grosse Pointe.

Talbott Barnard, piloting the plane, was critically injured and unconscious tonight, but is expected to live.

Packard was the son and heir of his father and uncle, who founded the Packard Motor Car company.

Legge Tells Capital His Social Status

It is with great pleasure that Alexander Legge of the crass town of Chicago, the chairman of President Hoover's new farm board, announces a solution of the problem regarding where he ought to sit at the grand social fêtes in Washington.

Mr. Legge was interested in dispatches from Washington which revealed the perplexities of Washington hostesses who were faced with alarming probability in the case of Mr. Legge. It had been suggested that the President might undertake to exalt some of the Hoover patriots, Mr. Legge among them, men who had given up high business and social rank to take jobs in Washington which are not quite in the social swim.

Kitchen Suits Mr. Legge.

The problem, Mr. Legge said, was whether he should sit up table or down? With the social lions and their dames, or down with Mr. Gann and the light weights?

So Mr. Legge announces that he'll eat in the kitchen, along with the rest of the help.

"And if that interferes with the cooking I'll be glad to wait for second table," Mr. Legge adds.

The long, lean farm leader, drawling his good natured contempt for the niceties of the Washington protocol, emerged in his shirt sleeves from a session of the farm board being held in the Hotel Sherman. Leading the reporter to a corner of the hotel, he pulled up chairs and settled down.

Mr. Legge, picked by Mr. Hoover from a wide field to lead the American farmer into prosperity, gave up a $100,000 a year job with the International Harvester company to accept the President's appointment. As a social light——

"Get this right," said Mr. Legge, "when it comes to society, I'm a dud."

The Cowboy's Lament.

He wiped his brow and murmured: "What a hell of a predicament for an ex-cow puncher to be in!" Then he went about settling—he hopes—the question of whether he should sit behind or before the twelfth assistant subsecretary of state.

"This thing started shortly after I got to Washington to get on this new job," Mr. Legge began. "I was busy chasing around pretty much, and one day my stenographer stopped me and said she had been getting calls from some of the ladies there, and their social secretaries. They wanted to know my family history, what my social connections were in Chicago, and that sort of stuff. What should she tell them, the stenographer wanted to know.

"So I told her to tell them I'd talk for myself on that subject, and pretty soon I got a call from one of them. And so I said to this social fellow, who wanted to put me right in the catalogue, I guess, that I didn't want any mistake about my social status.

"'My first claim to any prominence,' said I to this fellow, 'was robbing Wells-Fargo stage coaches. When they went out I took up train robbery.'

"'Since I've been in Chicago I signed up with Al Capone, and you can just put me down wherever this rates me.'

"But the fellow had hung up before I got through, so I'll finish what I want to say in this interview.

What Farmers Hanker For.

"We farmers are busy and we don't hanker after any social functioning. I've read the agricultural marketing act through twenty times or more, and I don't find any requirement that we farmers have social obligations.

"So we don't want to go to any select dinners, but if we have to—for some reason we can't see now—and we have to put on fried shirts and such things, then all I want to say is this:

"We respectfully ask that we be given places in the kitchen, with the rest of the help, and as I said before, if that interferes with the culinary business back in the kitchen, we want to wait for second table.

"What's more, I'm used to going to bed early, and getting up early, and I don't know what I'd do when 9 o'clock came around, if I had a United States senator's wife on one side and a foreign nobleman's dame on the other, with the eagle eye of a hostess watching me from the head of the table."

Mr. Legge's home is in Hinsdale, where it's quiet of nights, and where folks get up with the roosters.

LOADED 'L' TRAIN HITS EMPTY CARS; 4 SLIGHTLY HURT

About 150 passengers on an Englewood elevated train, southbound from Wilson avenue, were shaken last evening when the train of six wooden coaches bumped a string of empties at North avenue and Orleans street. Four persons were slightly hurt.

Thomas Cassidy, 45 years old, 6417 Carpenter street, motorman of the express, applied his brakes, but the train slid into the empties at 3 miles an hour.

Police took the motorman, Kelly Anderson, 33 years old, a Negro of 552 East 46th street, and Euligio Barnales, 23 years old, and Mario Villamor, both of 2012 West Adams street, to the Henrotin hospital.

HOPES WORLD TOUR WILL BE MADE IN 12 DAYS

150,000 See Airliner Quit Los Angeles.

BULLETIN.

Municipal Airport, Los Angeles, Cal., Tuesday, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin scraped a high tension electric line with its tail shortly after taking off here for Lakehurst, N. J. First word that the Zeppelin had met with an accident was received more than an hour after the takeoff when the Radio Corporation of American reported intercepting a message from the dirigible saying the damage had been slight and that the flight would not be interrupted.

BULLETIN.

Los Angeles, Tuesday, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The Southern Pacific railroad chief dispatcher here reported that the Graf Zeppelin was sighted passing over Mexicali, Lower California, border town, at 3:51 a. m. (6:51 Chicago daylight saving time). Mexicali is approximately 300 miles from Los Angeles.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin took to the air at Mines field, Los Angeles, at 12:14 a. m. (3:14 a. m. Chicago daylight saving time) and slowly swung away on the last leg of the great silver gas bird's 19,500 mile round the world trip to Lakehurst, N. J. The flight to Lakehurst is expected to be made in 48 hours.

Fifty-two persons aboard, including 16 passengers and 36 officers and crew, answered the cheers of 150,000 watchers on the ground as the great ship swung off.

Sends for More Hydrogen.

The dirigible's departure from its temporary mooring mast at Mines field was a laborious process, viewed with mingled admiration and misgivings, due to repeated interruptions in the getaway.

The crew had stood by an hour and a half awaiting final orders of the commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener, during which they threw overboard first 300 pounds of equipment, and followed by discharging all water ballast and some of the ship's fuel oil to gather needed lifting power to get away. As a last resort, Dr. Eckener sent for additional tanks of hydrogen gas, and the great ship then patiently felt its way along.

Dr. Eckener said that his eastward route from El Paso will be determined by wind conditions he meets in the air and weather reports which are radioed to him. He could not declare whether he would adhere to a route northeastward from El Paso over Oklahoma, over St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Chicago, and the south rim of the great lakes, or whether the Zeppelin would sail across southern Texas toward New Orleans and then fly over Birmingham, Ala., and Washington, D. C.

Dr. Eckener Last to Board Ship.

If the Zeppelin pursues its tentative El Paso to Chicago course it should become visible to Chicagoans early Wednesday. Dr. Eckener was last to board his craft, his appearance being delayed by conferences with weather experts about the heavy storm in southern Arizona. Before the first order to loosen the cables which held its nose to the mast the Zeppelin discarded 300 pounds, which included two propeller blades, a flywheel, crankshaft, rope ladder, and two bags of ballast.

This failed to lighten the ship sufficiently and all the water ballast and some of the fuel oil next was dumped. The ship then came slowly off the mooring mast and was "walked" haltingly up the field and swung around on trucks with 500 U. S. bluejackets and marines tugging at the ground ropes.

Hunt for Stowaway.

After the airship left the mooring mast, its departure was halted for 30 minutes. The wait was occasioned by a final batch of mail going aboard. During the delay passengers were placed, and the German crew hunted the recesses of the ship for a stowaway. None was found. A final survey of the ship and its ability to negotiate the Rocky mountains was made by experts while the great craft trembled on the ground. The experts decided the great craft would be in no danger as far as lifting ability was concerned, and the Zeppelin finally took the air.

* * * * *

The 770-foot sky liner received a wild welcome in din and acclaim here early yesterday. One hundred thousand persons gathered at Mines field and waited all night, from the moment the Zeppelin first appeared in the southern California sky at 1:35 a. m., until dawn brought sufficient light for the air monster to settle down on earth, four hours later.

Once the news was spread that the Zeppelin had moored, 300,000 others tried to join the 100,000 watchers already gathered near Mines field. The vast throng moved slowly all day yesterday along the narrow highways and across fields to get a glimpse of the great gray shape.

Dubious About Mooring Pole.

The Graf Zeppelin was to have remained in Los Angeles for one more day, but Commander Hugo Eckener became dubious about the slender mooring pole that had been provided here for his cherished craft. Dr. Eckener countermanded the schedule with orders to hop off early today. He did this shortly after landing and inspecting the mast and other arrangements.

The 17-hour wait granted the commander, his staff of German officers and his cosmopolitan passenger list of German, British, Japanese, French, Swiss, Spanish and American notables, a day in which to exchange greetings with the governor of the state, C. C. Young, the mayors of California cities, and officials representing the U. S. navy and army, U. S. federal service and high officers of the Japanese navy now in port at Los Angeles in two cruisers.

O. W. Von Hentig, German consul general at San Francisco, conveyed news of Dr. Eckener's dissatisfaction with the mooring mast.

In Hurry to Get Away.

According to Von Hentig, Dr. Eckener, "did not relish" having his ship anchored so flimsily and was in a hurry to be off to Lakehurst, where the mooring arrangements were to his satisfaction. Another German returned from Mines field with the information that "it is feared that a storm or a heavy wind might even pluck the mooring mast away from the ground and the ship and the mast might go sailing away, totally lost, into the clouds."

Dr. Eckener himself was ill and after his first quick trip of scrutiny about the dirigible, immediately upon landing yesterday, he remained in a hotel suite with his son, Knute, and William B. Leeds of New York. The airship's chief officer saw no one nor returned to the mooring field during the day, it being explained that he was suffering from indigestion and overstrain.

The route from Los Angeles to Lakehurst, where the Zeppelin hopes to land Wednesday, will depend on weather conditions—chiefly winds. If conditions are favorable the Zep probably will pass over these cities:

Phoenix or Tucson, Ariz.; Lordsburg, N. M.; El Paso, Tex.; Midland, Tex. Oklahoma City, Muskogee, Tulsa Okla.; Kansas City, Jefferson City St. Louis, Mo.; Springfield, Chicago Ill.; Toledo, Cleveland, O., and then on through the Mohawk valley, Buffalo, Syracuse, Albany, N. Y., and Lakehurst.

U. S. Collect $700 in Duty.

The duties of United States immigration, customs and health officers were made a formality when the Zeppelin discharged passengers. Nevertheless the customs men took in $700 in duties. Wines on board the ship were under seal and will not be opened until the craft leaves the United States.

Thirty-five automobiles transported the 19 trans-Pacific passengers and part of the crew of 41 to hotels, while an American ground crew of 400 sailors and marines hauled on the ropes which warped the great gray bulk into line. The American ground crew was under Lieutenant Commander J. B. Wells. Lieut. E. B. Koger, commanding ten U. S. naval pursuit planes, carried out orders which warned American civilian craft to stay 2,000 feet away from the moored dirigible, and the planes to fly directly above the dirigible, no matter what the altitude. Lieut. Koger's duties included the forcing down of over-venturesome planes, and the taking into custody of their pilots.

Three hundred Los Angeles police officers and deputy sheriffs, constituted the landguard about Mines field, and kept the throbbing throng behind lines nearly 1,000 yards away.

Among a cluster of some 50 welcomers who were allowed a close up of the great gray ship were three of America's own round the world air travelers of 1924. They were Lieuts. Leslie Arnold, Leigh Wade, and Henry Ogden.

The Zeppelin will carry east 22 pieces of mail. Most of it was directed to Germany, although some was addressed to English, French, Spanish, Italian and Dutch cities.

Among the passengers aboard were Commander Charles E. Rosendahl and Lieut. J. C. Richardson, United States navy; William B. Leeds, New York; Joachim Rickard, Boston and Madrid; Dr. Heronimo Megias, Madrid; Gustav Kauder, Ullstein press; Baron Heinz von Parkhammer, German photographer; Heiz von Eschwege-Lickbert, Scherl publications; Herr Geisenheimer, Frankfort-on-Main; Leo Gerville-Resche, Paris; Prof. Karkins, soviet Russian geographer; Dr. Seilkopf, Hamburg weather bureau, and Lieut. Col. Christopher Iselin, Swiss army.

The most striking compliment paid to the handlers of the German craft was that of Lieut. Commander Rosendahl, chief officer of the United States navy's Los Angeles.

"Remarkable speed, remarkable handling, the best airflight ever made," was Rosendahl's comment.

The Zeppelin has flown 16,880 miles since it left Lakehurst, N. J. It flew from Tokio to San Francisco, about 5,000 miles, in 68 hours. Elapsed time from Tokio to Los Angeles, 5,800 miles, was 78 hours 45 minutes. Zeppelin officials predict the globe circling trip will be made in twelve days, elapsed flying time. If this is accomplished, it will be the shortest time man, in any craft, has gone around the world.

BERLIN JUBILANT.

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—German newspapers were jubilant today over the swift trans-Pacific flight of the Graf Zeppelin from Tokio to San Francisco. Many of them compared the time, 68 hours, with the fortnight required by the fastest steamers for the distance.

Tageblatt said: "The passage of the Zeppelin from Tokio to Los Angeles represents a long distance speed record never yet attained by any airplane and it is noteworthy that for more than half of this distance the Graf was obliged to plow through a vast sea of fog. Notwithstanding, it reached its goal in this record time, thanks to the excellent weather transmission by American meteorological stations and the admirable navigation by its officers and crew."

Germania called attention to the fact that the Zeppelin covered the greatest distance over open sea ever accomplished by any air conveyance.

Deutsche Zeitung compared the accomplishment of the Graf as the first airship to cross Atlantic and Pacific with the exploratory voyages of Drake and Magellan. "It is hoped," it continued, "that Germany soon will be able to construct Zeppelins meeting all requirements for transoceanic service without American financial backing. Not until a super-airship world service under the German flag is consummated will the dream of old Count Zeppelin be realized."

Zep Success Stops 'Suicide Atonement' of 17 Japanese

BY ST. CLAIR M'KELWAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 26.—All Japan was thrilled this afternoon over the news of the Graf Zeppelin's safe arrival in Los Angeles, but to a score of families scattered over Tokio the trip's success meant far more than just another page in the history of aviation.

Had the Zeppelin met with disaster five officers of the Japanese navy and a dozen enlisted men in all probability would have killed themselves.

As unbelievable as this may be to western peoples, it is quite understandable in this empire, where ancient traditions still hold sway amid modern inventions and modern modes of living. For centuries before America was discovered or Germany formed, the accepted way of atoning for public criticism or disgrace has been suicide. Only recently the Japanese minister to Moscow killed himself because it was the common belief he had been tricked at the empire's expense.

When 30,000 persons burned to death in the last earthquake the police captain, lieutenant, and seven patrolmen who had directed the victims to the fatal field where the flames killed them stood before the station house following the tragedy and shot themselves dead.

There is a special word in the language—"seppuku"—meaning "suicidal atonement."

It was rumored at Kasumigaura airport after the Zeppelin's mishap Thursday morning, when the hawsers jammed, causing the ship to bump on the floor and damaged the fifth engine's gondola, that Commander Iraki, Japanese naval boss of the ground crew, and several officers and men had planned "seppuku," but desisted when Dr. Eckener made it plain that he blamed no one.

A close friend of Commander Iraki admitted today that the commander, five officers, and a dozen men had solemnly agreed to end their lives anyway if the Zeppelin failed in its Pacific hop. They figured characteristcally that if the Zeppelin failed it was their responsibility, because the ship would have succeeded had the mishap not interrupted Thursday's takeoff.

"Seppuku" goes back to the twelfth century or before, when the warriors of chieftains considered it only manly to kill themselves if their chief met death. Often a chief would sink his sword into his stomach after defeat in battle, then his entire personal bodyguard would emulate him, and then a great part of the troops.

The wives here commonly follow their husbands to the grave, and lovers commit double "seppuku" if their parents or circumstances interfere with their passion. Only last week the wife of Count Terauchi, former premier of Japan, shot herself following her husband's death by appendicitis. Yesterday a Miss Tsuneko Inagaki, daughter of a former director of the South Manchurian railroad, and Fukuichiro Shimoda, young civil engineer, hanged themselves in a woodland by the seaside because her parents insisted she marry another.

DISCOVER GASOLINE LEAKING FROM ZEP DURING REFUELING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Capt. Ernst Lehmann, navigation officer, was directing the refueling and servicing of the Graf Zeppelin today when a drop of gasoline dropped on him.

He discovered gasoline was dripping steadily. The fluid had worked through the ceiling fabric of the wardroom and had flowed off in two directions, one pool forming on the floor and another trickle following the ceiling back through the gondola roof to the cabins.

A screw cap on a gasoline tank had worked loose by vibration during the journey from Japan. Had the leak been followed by a spark, the Zeppelin's airy story might have been one of disaster.

CHICAGO MAY GET GLIMPSE OF ZEP ON FLIGHT EAST

Eckener Promises to Fly Over City "If Possible."

Chicagoans may get a glimpse of the Graf Zeppelin as it passes across the United States to Lakehurst, N. J., on the last leg of its world trip. Weather conditions are expected to govern the route chosen by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, when he swings his ship away from Los Angeles, but he has promised to visit Chicago if possible.

In response to the invitation of the Chicago Association of Commerce, Dr. Eckener wired President Frank F. Winans: "Will comply with your request if possible." As weather conditions are favorable at present and there is little likelihood of sudden changes at this time of the year, Mr Winans said, the visit is regarded as highly probable.

Promises View to Chicago.

Yesterday's telegram was the first direct assurance from Dr. Eckener that he would endeavor to give Chicago a view of the huge ship. Efforts were begun immediately to ascertain the approximate time of the Zeppelin's arrival, so that Chicagoans will know when to look for the ship.

The telegram of invitation sent to Dr. Eckener said: "The Chicago Association of Commerce, on behalf of business and commercial interests of the central west, would appreciate your flying via Chicago on trip across the continent to Lakehurst. Your visit to Chicago on occasion of your second Atlantic flight, Monday, Oct. 23, 1928, won the hearts and admiration of our people for your leadership in the advancement of aeronautical science. If you could circle Chicago on your way east it would be greatly appreciated by your numerous Chicago friends. Would like advice from you so arrangements can be made for our people to view the ship in transit day or night."

Sometimes Tomorrow Is Guess.

The Graf's arrival over Chicago will depend on the time of its departure from Los Angeles. Officials of the commerce association said that in view of Dr. Eckener's wish to land at Lakehurst tomorrow, the Zeppelin might fly over Chicago earlier that day. When it is certain that the Zeppelin will fly here, hurried preparations for a demonstration will be made.

As the ship will be unable to land here, officials expressed the hope that Dr. Eckener would circle the entire city and fly slowly along the lake front to give every one a good view.

Among those appointed by Mr. Winans to serve as welcoming committee are Col. A. A. Sprague, Philip D. Armour, W. R. Abbott, William R. Dawes, Henry M. Dawes, Elmer T. Stevens, Melvin A. Traylor, and Joseph T. Ryerson.

Endurance Flyers Up 87 Hrs. Supply Plane Is Guarded

C. E. Steele and Russell Mossman, endurance pilots of the plane Chicago-We-Will passed their 87th hour of sustained flight at 2:31 o'clock this morning, hovering in a haze over Sky Harbor. For the first night since the plane took off last Friday it was necessary to illuminate the airport. Although no rain fell, the ceiling was low, causing poor visibility.

Having taken on a capacity load of 235 gallons of fuel at 7:30 p. m., the pilots expected to continue until noon today without having to make another contact with the supply plane, Big Ben.

Guard Supply Plane.

Three extra guards were assigned to watch the Big Ben last night as a result of the slashing of the gasoline hose yesterday. Whether the damage was malicious mischief or an accident was not determined, but no ill results occurred, as the hose was replaced before the Big Ben took off for the morning contact.

Spectators had two unscheduled thrills at the airport yesterday. J. O. Hayden, former stunt flyer and hose handler on the Big Ben, slipped from his perch as contact was broken in the forenoon, and slid down five feet of hose, where he rode a few minutes with only atmosphere below. He clambered back to safety before the ship zoomed for a landing.

Oscar Bert Wilson, an aviation student of Richmond, Va., was watching the We Will and fell against the whirling propeller of a plane he had been oiling. His injuries were severe, but unlikely to be fatal.

Mossman Veteran Pilot.

Mossman, chief pilot of the We Will, has had eight years' flying experience. He learned to fly at Partridge field, and has been instructor at Checkerboard and Heath fields, and the Municipal airport. He is 31 years old.

Mossman's co-pilot, C. Earl Steele, served overseas with the artillery and began to fly in 1920. For a time he operated his own flying school in Omaha and later in Los Angeles. He is now in the service of the Universal Air Lines, flying planes between Omaha and St. Louis, but was granted leave for duration of the We Will flight. He is 30 years old.

Jack Hunter, pilot of the Big Ben, posted a $200 reward last night for the safe return of his pet and the flight mascot, an Arkansas razor back hog named Felix. The hog, which has flown hundreds of hours, broke from his stake some time Sunday night and has not been seen since, despite a search of the countryside.

U. S. TO LONDON MAIL GAINS DAY BY AIR SERVICE

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—A whole day was gained in the delivery of American mail today when 1,234 letters from the North German Lloyd liner Karlsruhe arrived in London after having been carried by air from Galway, Ireland, to the Croydon airdrome. The first flight of the new service was made by Charles Russell of the Free State air force, who was waiting with a big Vickers plane at the Cranmore airdrome while the Karlsruhe anchored at Galway in the early hours of the morning.

A special tender brought the mails to the Galway docks, where they were loaded aboard the plane in record time. At 7:30 Russell's plane roared away in the direction of Croydon while a crowd watched and cheered. The machine landed at Baldonnel airdrome near Dublin a half hour later for refueling and took off for Croydon at 8:30.

The entire flight was completed before noon in a total flying time from Galway to Croydon of 3½ hours.

"Pants" Robbers Hold Up Near North Side Hotel

A gang of four "pants" robbers invaded the Lincoln Park West apartment hotel at 2136 Lincoln Park West early this morning and held up the clerk, Chester Burton, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huber, guests of the hotel, who were in the lobby. The bandits pulled the Hubers' coats over their heads, thus blindfolding them, stripped Burton's trousers to his ankles, bound his hands with his necktie and tied him to a chair. Then one of the gang took $265 from the cash drawer and walked out with his companions. The robbers overlooked $250 and $2,500 in notes in the hotel's strongbox.

ITALY'S ENTRY IN SCHNEIDER RACES SEEMS ASSURED

DESANZANO, Italy, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Italian Schneider cup team, which has been training here, received orders today to hold themselves in readiness to leave for England at a moment's notice.

This was taken to mean that Italy definitely intends competing for the Schneider cup at Calshot in September, although no official communication has yet been issued to clear up the doubtful situation.

Recover Capt. Motta's Body.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Aug. 26.—Today saw the final act of the Desanzano air tragedy, in which Capt. Giuseppe Motta dived into Lake Geneva last Friday while he was testing his hydroplane for the Schneider cup race. Capt. Motta's body was recovered from the wrecked machine in 175 feet of water this evening. The first honors to the flyer's remains, recovered after four days of feverish search, were paid by Gen. Balbo. The Italian government will pay the expenses for the funeral, which is expected to draw thousands of mourners from Italy and abroad.

LOUISE THADEN WINS WOMEN'S FLYING DERBY

Ruth Nichols Crashes; Amelia Wins Third.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Municipal Airport, Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden of Pittsburgh is the winner of the first women's transcontinental air derby.

Her yellow winged biplane crossed the finish line at 2:15 p. m. today as waves of cheers came from the great throngs in the stands. Mrs. Thaden flew the 1,530 miles from Santa Monica, Cal., in an elapsed time of 20 hours 19 minutes and 20 seconds, according to unofficial figures.

Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., won second place with an elapsed time of 21:21:41. Amelia Earhart, trans-Atlantic flyer, was third in the heavy plane class with an elapsed time of 22:16:42.

Phoebe Omlie of Memphis, Tenn., was first in the light plane group. Her time was 25:12:47.

Fifteen Women Finish.

Fifteen of the nineteen flyers finished. Of the four who did not reach Cleveland, one, Miss Marvel Crosson, was killed. Three others were forced out of the race by crack-ups, or mishaps along the route.

Miss Ruth Nichols, New York society girl, was eliminated at the beginning of the last lap of the race. Taking off from the airport at Columbus this afternoon, a wing of her plane struck a tractor parked on the runway. The wing was torn away and the plane turned over twice but Miss Nichols was uninjured. She was flown to the races later in another plane.

Ruth Elder, trans-Atlantic flyer, was the last to arrive. On the way up from Columbus she lost her way and was forced to land at Akron to inquire directions. Later, speaking before the microphone to the crowd here, she explained that she discovered on taking off from Columbus that she had lost her map. She apologized for being late.

Runs Out of Gas.

"I feel quite ashamed of myself for losing my way," she said. "I had another forced landing ten miles from here in a farmer's field, not far from a prison. I was on the right course and following a railroad, but I ran out of gas."

Miss Elder will leave Cleveland tonight for New York, where she is to marry Walter Camp Jr., son of the famous Yale football mentor.

Mrs. Thaden appeared tired and worn from the grueling eight day race. For ten minutes after her arrival she sat in her cockpit, occasionally drawing a tanned arm across her forehead.

"It was a hard race, but we enjoyed it all the way," she said.

Carried Baggage for Others.

In the cabin of her plane were the personal effects and spare parts belonging to some of her fellow contestants. She explained that her plane was light and that she had volunteered to carry baggage for other women flyers who were heavily loaded. Mrs. Thaden's luggage and a spare propellor for one of the other planes filled the back end of Miss Earhart's plane.

All the women flyers, except Thea Rashe, the German aviatrix denied the report that some of the contesting planes had been tampered with. Miss Rashe declined to comment upon the report until an investigation was made.

Chases Herd of Pigs.

Miss Keith Miller, the eighth flyer to cross the finishing line described a mishap which occurred to her plane on the last lap. She was forced to land in a farmer's field near Xenia, O., yesterday. Taking off this afternoon she had to chase a herd of pigs into one corner of the field before taking off.

Aileen Stanley's Stage Name's Her Real One Now

Aileen Stanley, veteran vaudeville performer recently featured in musical comedies, yesterday legally assumed her stage name. The change was made in two acts. Two months ago her maiden name of Maude Elsie Muggeridge was restored when she won a divorce before Superior Judge Gemmill from her accompanist-husband, Charles Buttenuth. Yesterday she asked Circuit Judge Klarkowski to approve the second change.

President Caldwell of the school board and Maj. Reed Landis, secretary of the Chicago Aero commission, yesterday flew to Cleveland to witness the national air races there. Their ship was a regulation Douglas mail plane, fitted with dual controls and the latest type of radio installation, which allows pilots to obtain weather information while flying.

WHAT TOP-NOTCHERS ARE ACCOMPLISHING IN RACING PLANES

[By the Associated Press]

"Speed" Holman of Chicago, flying over his old mail route from St. Paul to Milwaukee yesterday led seven other entrants in the Portland, Ore., to Cleveland Derby. Taking off last and landing first, Holman made the distance in 1:49:09. They race to Cleveland today.

Earl Rowland of Jacksonville, Ill., led the flyers from Miami, Fla., to Bowman field at Louisville, Ky., on a hop fom Nashville, Tenn. Pilot C. D. Bowyer of Westfield, N. J., who led into Nashville, successfully made a forced landing a few minutes after taking off for Louisville.

Lee Schoenhair of Los Angeles, flying a Lockheed-Vega, jumped from Los Angeles to Cleveland in 13 hours, 51 minutes, 10.8 seconds.

H. A. Speer of Marshall, Mo., flying a Barling, won the all-Ohio Derby with an elapsed time of 4 hours 22 minutes, 59 second.

Mrs. Louise M. Thaden of Pittsburgh won the Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland Derby with an elapsed time of 20 hours 19 minutes 4 seconds, after nine days of flying.

Robert C. Nagel, Oakland, Cal., led the six Oakland to Cleveland derbyists into Omaha, Neb., for the night stop after a hop from Cheyenne, Wyo.

AIR RACE CROWD GETS THRILL OUT OF MEN'S DERBY

Schoenhair First to Hop from Los Angeles.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The first plane in the pilots' cross-country race streaked across the finishing line late this evening. It was flown by Pilot Lee Schoenhair of Akron, O., and was a fleet Lockheed Vega.

Schoenhair left Los Angeles at 6:35 this morning on the nonstop flight to Cleveland. His time for the 2,072 mile flight was 13 hours, 51 minutes and 10.8 seconds.

Schoenhair was the first contestant in the men's Derby, which may take the rest of the week to run off. The flyers leave singly from Los Angeles, and the winners will be picked by elapsed time. A ruling requires that the flyers must finish at the Cleveland airport between 2 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The Akron flyer was the only contestant to start today.

Arrival Thrills Crowd.

His arrival here was the most thrilling event of the day. Appearing first out of the great dust cloud to the south he sped across the field before the crowds, circled about and paraded back, dipping a wing of the all-white plane in salute.

Just before Schoenhair landed, the five planes which started from here yesterday to race around the rim of Ohio arrived. The race was won by H. A. E. Spears flying a Boeing N. B. His elapsed time was four hours, 22 minutes and 59 seconds. Second to cross before the finishing pilot was Lewis Love, whose flying time was 4:43:15. B. S. Zimmerly was third in the race with an elapsed time of 5:13:01. Only five of the six starting planes finished. Four refueling stops were made during the flight.

The first race for the day for Liberty motored planes was won by J. Sydney Owens of Philadelphia with a time of 60 minutes 43 and 9-10 seconds for the eighty-mile race. Second place was won by B. J. Nasief of Philadelphia and third place went to John K. Gill of Cleveland.

Lindberghs Cheered.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived to attend the races today. Accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, he flew here from New York yesterday and landed on the outskirts of Cleveland. Today the couple flew over to the field in a navy Fairchild and were escorted to the reviewing stands as the crowd rose and cheered.

Later this evening the Lindberghs flew away to an unknown destination.

Nick Marber and Art Walker, pilots of the Sun God, holder of the cross-country refueling endurance records, flew to the races today. Tomorrow they will demonstrate refueling.

Roger Q. Williams, who has just returned from his flight across the Atlantic to Spain, was among the famous flyers who continue to arrive here for the races.

Army, navy and marine maneuvers continued today, providing a continuous spectacle in the sky over the field. Among the great variety of flying craft flying about the field today, was the Goodyear non-rigid ship.

SINCLAIR IS NOT ILL FROM PRISON LIFE, JAILER TELLS U. S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil man who is serving a sentence in the District of Columbia jail for contempt of court, and who has applied for commutation on the ground that his health is being undermined, is not believed by his jailer to be suffering physical ailment as a result of confinement.

Maj. William M. Peake, jail superintendent, who has made a secret report to Attorney General Mitchell on Sinclair, said today that the oil man is not in bed and apparently is not ill. He asserted Sinclair had lost about fifteen pounds since entering the jail but attributed this to his daily work.

The superintendent said he knew of no reason, however, why Sinclair's application should not be granted since he had been a model prisoner. The oil magnate's term would expire Nov. 22, allowing time off for good behavior.

Thirty Drown in Floods in Bulgaria; Take to Roofs

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Thirty persons were drowned by floods in the Radomir district. The high waters have checked relief trains so that they could not reach the villages of Gorna, Dikanja, Dolna, and Dugan. Many inhabitants have sought refuge on the roofs of their homes.

SEIZE SEVEN HERE IN $35,000 DENVER JEWEL ROBBERY

Seven men were held by police last night after confessions by two Chicago men revealed their participation in a $35,000 jewel robbery in Denver on Aug. 17 and subsequent sale of part of the loot in Chicago.

Lieuts. John L. Sullivan, Al Booth, and John Mikes of the detective bureau, working on a request of Denver police, who had been informed by a girl friend to whom one of the men had written a letter confessing the robbery, went to the Halwood hotel, 740 Englewood avenue, and arrested Edward Fragant, 24 years old, 6030 South Racine avenue, and Elmer H. Buhle 24 years old, 7019 South Talman avenue.

The two men confessed that they, with Eugene Davis, who was captured in Denver, held up the Provident Loan company in Denver. They said that Sam Katz and Joe Harris, owners of a poolroom at 1704 Roosevelt road, and Manny Mendelsohn, 1216 South Racine avenue, bought 120 diamond rings from them for $1,468.

Detectives arrested Sam Katz, his brother, Joe, and Harris. With the arrest of Albert Goldman, jeweler, 604 Mallers building, all of the jewels were recovered. Goldman said the rings had been turned over to him by the Katz brothers and Mendelsohn for appraisal and that he had removed the diamonds from the rings, selling the latter for $269. Later police arrested Mendelsohn.

WAR OF JEW AND ARAB SPREADS OVER HOLY LAND

Britain Rushes Troops; 4 Chicagoans Die.

that leads to the section. They were all well armed and began firing at once.

The British troops hurried to the scene in armored cars. Machine guns were turned on the Arabs, who fled in all directions.

An official communique was issued here today. Large patrols of British infantry, backed by airplanes, armored cars, British police and special constables, have been established in Jerusalem and the outlying Jewish colonies, it states. The casualty list given for Jerusalem shows:

Killed—10 Moslems, 3 Christians, 19 Jews.

Slightly wounded—32 Moslems, 15 Christians, 66 Jews.

A strong detachment of British planes and British police from Jerusalem reëstablished order in Hebron. The Jewish population has been evacuated from Hebron and placed temporarily in the police barracks in Jerusalem, where they are under guard. The situation generally, says the communique, is well in hand.

Calls Situation Extremely Grave.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26.—[Jewish Telegraphic Agency.]—Uncensored reports from Jerusalem described the situation this evening as extremely grave notwitstanding the presence of a larger number of British troops and marines in the country.

Isaac Ben-Zvi, Jewish labor leader, at 9 o'clock tonight telephoned here and said the attacks spread today all over the country, in the north and in the south, in the valley of Jezreel and in Haifa, in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem. Many are reported killed and wounded in all places.

"Many from among us have been killed. Our arms have been taken away by the authorities but not from the Arabs," Mr. Ben-Zvi stated. "The riots continued in Haifa."

Advices received from the Vaad Ha'ir, the Jewish community board of Jerusalem, were that Arab attacks on the Jerusalem Jewish quarters Machneh Yehudah and Sharei Chesed were in progress. The board said the number of Jewish dead ranges from 120 to 150.

In Tel Aviv, fights continued today.

British troops arrived but the Jewish population complained their action was weak and that they have ordered the Jewish self defense corps of the city to abstain from action. Five Jews were killed there today.

At 7 p. m. a member of the Jerusalem Vaad Ha'ir telephoned a message that the Arab attacks on Jerusalem come continuously from different positions.

It was charged in the reports that the government's protective action was weak and that the officials are obstructing the work of the Jewish self defense corps. An attack on the Jerusalem suburb of Beth Alpha was repelled.

Conflict Spreads Over Holy Land.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 25.—(AP)—British police fired on a crowd attacking the government offices at Jaffa last night and killed five Arabs and wounded 30.

Haifa was also attacked both yesterday and today and many Jews wounded. At Beisan all Jewish houses were burned, one Jew killed and 21 wounded. Rehowoth, south of Jaffa, was attacked yesterday but no casualties have been reported. The Jewish colony at Artuf, between Jerusalem and Jaffa, was set on fire.

The lack of authentic information because of the government prohibition on newspaper publication has caused scores of rumors to spread which are impossible of verification. In this city almost all shops remain closed and there is a great shortage of bread and provisions. All Jewish workers have joined the self-defense organization.

Many Christians in Jerusalem have marked their houses with blue crosses as a sign that the buildings do not harbor any of either of the contesting races. A Jewish religious school in the old city was burned by Moslems.

Becomes Racial War.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 26.—[Jewish Telegraphic Agency.]—British troops and marines have been landed in Palestine but the attacks of the Moslem Arabs against the Jewish population of Palestine have assumed the character of a racial war.

The numbers of the dead and injured mount hourly. More than 100 Jews have been killed. The number of the Arab dead could not be ascertained as the Moslem Arabs, following their custom, clear away the fallen. It is assumed they at least equal those of the Jews.

The city is full of refugees from the suburbs and the colonies. There is a scarcity of medical supplies and of food. The Jerusalem Jewish communal board has started a fund to maintain the refugees. Looting was going on. The house of Dr. A. Levin-Epstein, an American, and a Mr. Gordon, director of the Anglo-Palestine bank here, were ransacked during the attack on the suburb Talpioth.

More Warships Sail.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Three more warships and 880 more British troops sailed from Malta for Palestine today. They will reinforce the 600 soldiers and two warships which have already been rushed there to quell the fighting between the Jews and Arabs.

A dispatch from Cairo says an additional battalion of infantry supported by a squadron of armored cars and a detachment of sappers and signallers are also being rushed to Jerusalem by train. Besides the troops the Courageous carried a full complement of pilots and airplanes.

It is understood the Labor government will take steps to have Great Britain relieved of its mandate in Palestine.

Demands Protection for Americans.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—Protection for the lives and property of American citizens in the trouble areas in Jerusalem, where Arabs and Jews have met in armed conflict over the right of religious worship at the wailing wall, was asked of the British government at London today by Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

New York Jews Protest.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Seven thousand Jews, many of them middle aged or old men, marched down Broadway and past city hall and the British consulate this afternoon in protest against what they cahracterized as the laxity of the British in dealing with the anti-Jewish disorders in Jerusalem.

The marchers carried small American flags and companion flags of broad blue and white stripes set with the star of David. Others bore placards which read: "England! Carry out the mandate sanctioned by the league of nations and U. S. A." "Remove officials causing anti-Jewish excesses in Palestine," "Society of Sons of the Land of Israel." Raphael Hurwitz of Brooklyn, father of Benjamin Hurwitz, one of the American Jewish students killed in the Palestine riots, also was among those at the head of the parade.

Legion Post Offers to Fight in Palestine.

Chicago Jews last night took action on the Moslem-Jewish riots which were reported spreading over Palestine. Members of Yarmo-De Vore Post of the American legion,, 90 per cent of whom are of Jewish faith, adopted resolutions seeking from congress the power to form military units, arm themselves and go fight for the Chicago students and others caught in the riot zone.

At the same time a group of orthodox religious organizations of Jews held a meeting in the Hebrew Theological seminary, St. Louis avenue and Douglas boulevard, and framed an appeal to the United States government to intervene.

Let Us Fight, Legion Asks.

The resolutions of the Legionnaires composed the most drastic action:

"Be it resolved that the members of Yarmo-Devere Post, No. 469, American Legion, 90 per cent of whom are of Jewish faith, importune the President that the government immediately communicate to the British Empire, through our state department, a demand for adequate protection for citizens of the United States;

"And be it further resolved that unless the government of the British Empire takes immediate and drastic action to prevent any further outbreaks, we, as citizens of the United States, ask the congress that we be empowered to recruit from among our own ranks two machine gun companies, two bombing squadrons, two light tank corps units and auxilliary bodies, so that we can protect the lives and rights of our fellow citizens and co-religionists."

These resolutions was adopted by a vote of five to one by the members of the post. Attorney H. B. Ritman, who is a member, spoke against the adoption of the militant section, but other members, including the commander, Joseph R. Dorfman, quickly talked him down.

Copies of the resolutions are to be sent to President Hoover, the senators from Illinois, the congressman from the 6th district, James T. Igoe, and the congressmen at large.

The meeting in the theological seminary was one of excitement. There were speeches in Hebrew and there appeared to be much dissension. In the end a committee was appointed to draw up an appeal to the President and the state department, seeking protection for the Jews from the British government.

Another appeal to Washington was made by Rabbi Ephriam Epstein, of 1331 Independence boulevard, whose son, David, 17 years old, was one of the four Chicagoans reported killed. At the time Rabbi Epstein sent his appeal he did not know that his son was one of the slain. He was acting on the news that Jacob Wexler, 17 year old son of Richard Wexler of 4237 Van Buren street, had been killed by the Arabs.

Scant word came from the riot zone to relatives of the slain youths. Dr. E. B. DeKoven, a dentist, received word that his brother, Ralph, 18 year old son of Dr. Bernard DeKoven of 7230 Sheridan road, had been slightly wounded and was safe.

Confused Reports Received.

Other messages received by parents or relatives of those reported dead indicated that great confusion reigned in the riot zone. Mrs. Abe Friedman, 5622 West Madison street, aunt of the Wexler boy, said a message had been received by the family stating that either young Wexler or Young Epstein might be alive.

"Perhaps this was sent to give us a faint bit of hope," Mrs. Friedman said. "The Wexler's have little hope, however. They are prostrated by the tragic news."

UNITED... in the interests of greater SERVICE

FIFTY years ago—the State Bank of Chicago was founded. If among all the fine characteristics of this institution, it may be said that one overshadows all the rest—that one is service. Not the type or measure of service that has for its objective mere mercenary gain. But service so generously rendered as to win lifelong friendships by the very sincerity of it.

Sixty-seven years ago—The Foreman National Bank was founded. The reputation enjoyed today by this great institution is due in a comparable measure to the service code of its founders. "To deal humanly with our clients, to share the common interests of our friends, to serve with generous understanding on a common ground with our patrons, to make this a bank where people feel at home."

As neighbors, these two great banks, with principles and ideals so closely paralleling each other, have grown and prospered.

Their union, to take place shortly, will result in an institution with invested capital of $38,000,000 and resources of over $220,000,000.

Physically, this institution will be one of the world's truly complete banking institutions. But this alone cannot make a great bank.

United—in the interests of greater service—these two Chicago banks will carry into the new and greater bank, the same principles—the same ideals responsible for their splendid growth.

Such a union, through added facilities, greater resources and complete harmony in the fundamentals of banking, will result in a bank of greater warmth and friendliness, and greater service to all who enter its doors.

SOCIETY WOMAN GOES TO AID OF FIRST OFFENDER

Saves Youth from Jail; Gets Him New Chance.

Youthful criminals figured in the day's news yesterday. A society woman launched a sort of crime clinic, with a youth as the first subject, and a deputy police commissioner, John Stege, told why young men between [illegible] and 23 years old commit 90 per cent of all crimes in Chicago.

Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, 25 Banks street, wife of the senior member of the architectural firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, is giving Robert O'Brien, 21 years old, a chance to retract what he says is his first misstep.

Gives Youth a Chance.

Mrs. Graham's Christmas dinners to aged derelicts have become an institution; she has a large number of private philanthropies besides. Now she is testing the faith of young O'Brien, whom she saved yesterday just as he was being taken to the Bridewell.

"I saw a little story in the newspaper yesterday, relating that this lad, caught in his first crime, had tried to kill himself in his cell," said Mrs. Graham last night. "I thought he couldn't be so bad if he was moved to such desperate remorse, so I went to see him.

"He seemed just a fine young man, worth trying to save, and so I've agreed to try it. He told me that his mother died when he was half a year old, and his father died four months later, leaving him an orphan. He has just drifted around, without opportunities.

Can't Pay His Fine.

"In want, he stole a leather jacket from a man who had sheltered him, but when he realized what he had done, he went to return it and was arrested. Judge Schulman fined him [illegible] and costs this morning. The lad couldn't pay it, and he was about to be sent to the Bridewell when I called the judge and asked him to let me intercede for the prisoner. He agreed to see me tomorrow, and meanwhile he ordered young O'Brien held at the Chicago avenue police station. Judge Schulman told me if I wished to help the boy he would let me do it.

"I have arranged to get him a room at the Y. M. C. A. and will pay his board until he gets on his feet. He wants to learn the machinist trade, and I'll arrange to make that possible, too. I'm sure we'll win out in this experiment."

Stege Gives Comment.

Deputy Stege, going over an unusually large number of reports of crimes committed by minors over the week-end, said that police work would be a simple thing if crimes by young men could be eliminated.

"Without doubt, the greatest problem for criminologists is to prevent crimes by minors," he said. "With [illegible] per cent of all our crimes charged to men between 16 and 23 years of age, there is a field for great reform.

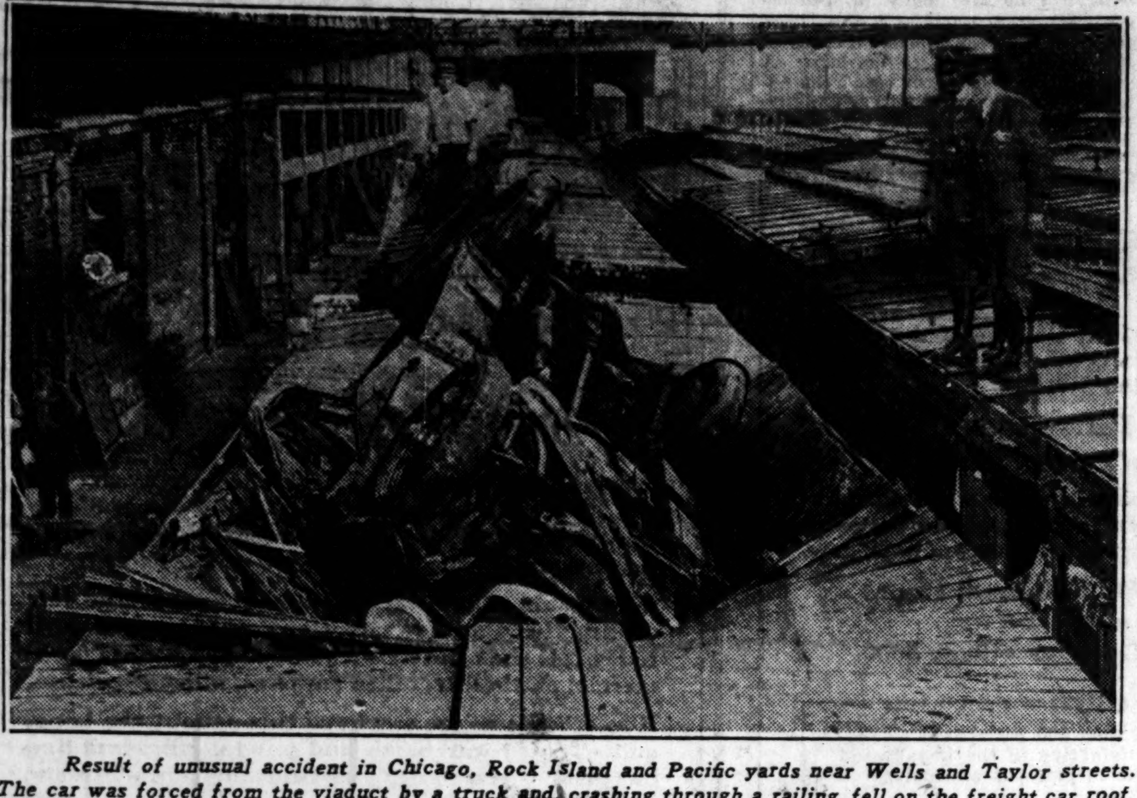
"I believe a cure would be to strengthen the supervision of probation officers over first offenders. If the lads just starting out in crime were properly taught its follies, they wouldn't stay at it. Our probation system is good as far as it goes, but there isn't enough of it. Probationers are forced to visit the probation offices. It should be the other way around—the officers should go to the homes of the probationers. There should be more of these officers, enough to bring them into personal contact with all these youthful offenders."

Two Youths Caught.

Two youths who fled when their companion was wounded in a police battle after a stickup were captured yesterday. They are Frank Daniels, 19 years old, 344 Swan street, and Alex Slacker, 17 years old, 4554 South Halsted street. They were arrested on information given by their wounded companion, Joseph Roach, 23 years old, 744 West 48th street, at the Bridewell hospital.

Stanley Oholo, 16 years old, 664 Fay street, was shot by policemen when he and two other youths were interrupted in an effort to force the rear door of the Grand Wholesale Grocery company, 662 West Grand avenue.

Auto Plunges from Viaduct to Smash Freight Car Roof



Result of unusual accident in Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific yards near Wells and Taylor streets. The car was forced from the viaduct by a truck and, crashing through a railing, fell on the freight car roof, shattering it. Frank Davidson, 2353 West 63d street, and Lawrence Harrington, 6400 South Oakley avenue, the occupants of the car, were only slightly hurt.

Writ Blocks Lake Fill at Campus of Loyola U.

Circuit Judge Klarkowski yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining Loyola university from filling in the lake to extend its campus. The injunction was sought by the North Shore park district which holds that the submerged land cannot be converted for private use. The university was given until Sept. 6 to file an answer to the suit.

AUTO LEAPS OFF BRIDGE IN R. R. YARDS; 2 UNHURT

Frank Davidson, 29 years old, 2353 West 63d street, and Lawrence Harrington, 6400 South Oakley avenue, escaped with a few scratches yesterday when their automobile plunged through an iron railing above the Rock Island tracks near Wells and Taylor streets. Davidson swerved to avoid a collision with a motor truck. The car made a somersault, landing on a box car and crashing half way through the roof.

Two deaths yesterday raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 555. The victims:

Geno Frisa, 65 years old, 2215 Carmen avenue. Fatally injured when struck by an automobile on the outer drive in Lincoln park, near Fullerton avenue.

Margaret Gaughan, 12 years old, 5358 Wentworth avenue. Fatally injured when struck by an automobile at Garfield boulevard and Wentworth avenue.

When the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a truck near Dixon, Ill., Alphonsus Ring, 28 years old, 937 Eastwood avenue, was killed, and his companon, A. E. Anderson of Dixon, was seriously injured.

Edward Dahlin, 56 years old, a farmer, was killed when he stepped in front of an automobile driven by Joseph Fessler of Naperville in Aurora.

STEALS TWO NEW AUTOS.

Morton, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Thieves early today entered the Walz and Wieckhoff automobile agency, loaded two new cars with tires, batteries, spotlights, and a $300 cash register containing 50 cents, and drove away.

Report Chief Justice Taft Recovering from Illness

MURRAY BAY, Que., Aug. 26.—[U. P.]—Chief Justice William Howard Taft, after being ill the first few weeks of his vacation here, is now steadily gaining in health, members of his household said today. He expects to remain here until Oct. 1, although he usually returns to Washington about the middle of September.

325 MINERS CALL OFF STRIKE.

Central City, Ky., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Three hundred twenty-five miners of Brownsville mine of the Gibraltar Coal company, who went on strike last Wednesday, returned to work today, being restored to their old jobs.

Governor Asks New Parley on Gas Tax Road Program

BY HAL FOUST.

Gov. Emmerson indicated yesterday that he would like another conference with his citizens' committee which prepared recommendations for the use of the state's share of the gasoline tax in the metropolitan area for the next biennium. The news was contained in a letter from the governor to Frank F. Winans, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and chairman of the highway advisors.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, welcomed the prospects of another conference as an opportunity for further consideration of the club's minority report on construction recommendations. The advisory committee's majority report, following in the main the proposals of the Chicago Regional Planning association, listed projects for the state to spend $21,800,000 in the next two years, but it did not recommend the priority for construction. The club listed an order of construction.

Has No Ax to Grind.

"The Motor club," said Mr. Hayes "is not interested in any realty enterprize—has not any political axes to grind. Its motives are purely to benefit the owners of automobiles, the users of the roads.

"Gov. Emmerson, in appointing the advisory committee, asked that it list the highway projects in the order of their importance. This was not done. I cannot understand why the Chicago Regional Planning association should prepare a report without designating priority."

No Mention of Controversy.

The governor's letter does not mention this controversy. It is more in the nature of an acknowledgment of having received the committee's report and a reiteration of the governor's promise to aid Chicago with its traffic problem. It reads in part:

'Hon. H. H. Cleaveland, director of the department of public works and buildings, is going into your report in a very complete manner and will be in position to discuss it with your committee within a very short time. I shall recommend to Director Cleaveland that a conference be held between your committee as a whole or a subcommittee appointed by it and the department, and shall be glad to be a party to that conference when agreed upon.

Wants to Aid Area.

"The highway department has already received instructions from me to carry out to its utmost ability the program outlined by me at our conference in Chicago. Assuring you of my desire to coöperate in every consistent way in the furtherance of the highway work in the metropolitan region of Chicago, I am,

"LOUIS M. EMMERSON."

Mr. Winans said the committee will meet in Chicago or Springfield at the governor's convenience.

COL. OTIS DUNCAN, IS FOUND GUILTY; DROPPED BY I. N. G.

Col. Otis B. Duncan, colored commander of the 8th Infantry of the Illinois National Guard, the Negro regiment that won honors in the world war, was dishonorably discharged from the service yesterday. Gov. Emmerson approved a report finding Col. Duncan, who was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for bravery, guilty of losing property assigned to his command.

Col. Duncan attempted suicide on April 18, two hours before he was to have been served with a warrant charging him with misappropriation of government property. It was said then that his mind was affected because of the death of his father and the illness of his mother.

HE'S a familiar figure down on Water Street in the early morning hours. The market men know him . . . welcome him . . . Ed Quinn, buyer of fruit, vegetables and dairy products for Thompson's Restaurants. Before him they lay their choicest offerings, for they know that nothing short of the finest will be acceptable.

Carefully he makes his selections. This man knows produce as do few men in Chicago. He buys only on personal inspection, since it is an ironclad law of the Thompson organization that only foods of the very finest quality may be served.

Long before most Chicagoans are astir Mr. Quinn's purchases—the very "cream of the crop"—are carried away for distribution, crisp and fresh, to the half-a-hundred Thompson's Restaurants throughout the city.

Now you know why your breakfast grapefruit or melon at Thompson's always seems even more delicious than those you can secure for your own table at home.

It is the same with every item on Thompson's menu. No effort is spared in the selection of the best. Thompson's marvelous system of handling and distributing keeps all foods at every Thompson's Restaurant continually fresh and in the finest condition.

43 SEEK PLACES ON REPUBLICAN JUDICIAL TICKET

Coalition Terms Worry Steering Committee.

Chairman Charles V. Barrett and the other members of the Republican steering committee making arrangements for the county judicial convention were swamped yesterday with applications for places on their ticket.

In the event of complete coalition there would be only three or four open spots for the Republicans to fill. But forty-three aspirants, either through their ward committeemen or otherwise, filed completed questionnaires outlining their careers and records.

With this supply of candidacies on hand the committee tried to get down to business, but after a couple of hours of discussion it was announced that no real progress had been recorded and that another meeting probably will be held today.

Worry Over Democratic Terms.

What the problems were which took so long to talk over was not disclosed officially, but it was understood before the afternoon was over that the conferees were more worried about the coalition terms offered by the Democrats. In brief, these are that no man shall be placed on the slate who does not prove acceptable to the Chicago Bar association and that the Republicans surrender one of the places they now count among their holdings.

There are two vacancies on the Circuit bench that are to be filled. In addition, it is reported, there will be two or three openings on the list of twenty for the Superior court. The Democrats have said they will strike a bargain if given one place in either of these two groups.

While the Republicans won't willingly surrender anything to which they consider themselves entitled, it is the "acceptability" demand of their friendly enemies that is said to be causing the real trouble. Not only are some of the leading Republican candidates unacceptable to the lawyers' organization, but, according to rough estimates, about half the names now proposed already have been turned down by the association.

Includes 13 Present Judges.

The list includes thirteen of the twenty-six Republicans now sitting in the Municipal court. They are Judges Howard W. Hayes, Joseph L. McCarthy, Daniel P. Trude, John H. Lyle, John J. Lupe, Max Luster, William R. Fetzer, George B. Holmes, Edgar A. Jonas, Samuel H. Trude, George A. Curran, F. L. Fairbank, and Joseph W. Schulman.

The other names on the list were the following:

Senator A. A. Huebsch
Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg
Joseph J. Sullivan
Edward H. Morris
Louis P. Piquett
Ransom E. Walker
B. P. Barasa
Hextor A. Brouillet
Henry T. Chace
Francis J. Vurpillat
Robert C. O'Connell.

W. D. Saltiel
John Richardson
Craig A. Hood
Stephen A. Day
Henry K. Walker
A. M. Eberhart.
Louis Blumenthal.
Levi H. Fuller.
Charles C. Carnahan.

While the Republicans were struggling among themselves the Democrats were calm except for one development. It was reported that Martin J. O'Brien and Timothy J. Crowe, chairman and secretary respectively of the managing committee, had offered to resign if Ald. John S. Clark [30th] could be agreed on as chairman. The Cermak forces insist that the managing committee is out of legal existence and that the county central committee is in full charge. Therefore the proposal got nowhere.

FATHER REGAINS BOY, 3, IN COURT BATTLE WITH KIN

Three year old Bobby Marti went back yesterday to the father and brother he had never known. Superior Judge David signed the order after calling the boy to the stand to decide between his father, William Marti of Toledo, and his brother, William Jr., 5 years old, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schank.

Bobby was entrusted to his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Schank, at his mother's death when he was only a week old. His father remarried and petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus averring that he could provide a home for the boy. Mr. and Mrs. Schank pleaded that they be allowed to keep the child.

On the stand Bobby looked eagerly at his father and his brother and professed great love for them. But when he was led away he screamed for his foster parents, and struggled to wrench himself from his father. Mrs. Schank fainted and moaned for Bobby.

"It's heart breaking for the aunt and uncle, I know," Judge David said. "I sympathize with them. If it were up to me personally I would like to arrange it otherwise, but under the law the boy must go back to his father."

MICHIGAN VETS ON SIBERIAN RIVER ESCAPE DROWNING

ARCHANGEL, Siberia, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Members of the Michigan commission now seeking to locate the graves of American soldiers in North Russia escaped uninjured when their small boat was rammed by a tug early today and sank in the Dvina river.

Ray Derham of Iron Mountain and John Evans of Detroit, were thrown into the water but were rescued by another boat. Some baggage and equipment were lost.

Approximately 70 graves have been located thus far, many in isolated spots on widely scattered fronts. Identification has been difficult because of the lack of crosses or markers. A group of 24 bodies has been removed from the Archangel cemetery and prepared for shipment to the United States.

MAGGIO ORDERED TO TRIAL TODAY; PROBE RELEASE

Chief Justice Exonerates Kerner of Blame.

Deputy Police Commissioner Stege's efforts to keep Rocco Maggio in jail until he can be deported met with a measure of success yesterday. Maggio was ordered to trial before Judge Otto Kerner on the charges against him this morning, and the judge announced that when the case is called he will investigate all phases of Maggio's release on bonds.

Stege was incensed Saturday on learning that Maggio was at liberty, although awaiting trial on a murder charge and on other charges of extortion, bigamy and rape. He said he had received complaints that Maggio was going through the Italian section of the west side intimidating witnesses who are expected to testify against him, and that Maggio was also demanding and collecting contributions to a defense fund.

Sullivan Exonerates Kerner.

Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court made a statement holding Judge Otto Kerner blameless for the release of Maggio. Judge Sullivan said he had issued an order fixing bail for Maggio and Judge Kerner could do nothing but accept the bail tendered when the state's attorney's office approved the bonds submitted.

Maggio was convicted of murder in 1926 and Stege got an order for his deportation whenever he should be released from the penitentiary. The supreme court reversed the verdict sentencing Maggio to life imprisonment and thereupon the U. S. immigration officials cancelled the deportation order. Stege knew nothing of either of these orders and when, three weeks ago, he found Maggio a prisoner at the detective bureau on several charges of extortion he made an investigation which resulted in the reinstatement of the murder case against Maggio.

Cites Supreme Court Finding.

"I read the supreme court's finding very carefully," Chief Justice Sullivan said. "The fact that the state's attorney's office did not retry him indicates it did not have a strong case against him. It was shown in the record that a co-defendant who testified against Maggio wrote him letters offering to change his testimony for a small sum of money. In view of these facts I admitted Maggio to bail.

"It pains me to think that Judge Kerner has been hurt by this. He is an able, honest and conscientious judge. I will sit en banc with him tomorrow and we will have an open hearing on the Maggio case."

Judge Kerner also issued a statement, which, after telling of the order of Judge Sullivan regarding Maggio, said he was not removed from the criminal bench a year ago on complaint of the crime commission. His fellow judges dismissed the complaint against him with the finding that he had given "painstaking, industrious, judicial service with absolute integrity," he declared.

The bride, who made her home with an uncle, Royston Bigelow, 6737 Paxton avenue, and young Holmes, son of Horace Holmes of Harvey, a south side banker, were married Saturday by Dr. Charles E. Brooks, pastor of the First Baptist church of Englewood. They plan to spend their honeymoon registering for classes in the University of Iowa.

TESTS FOR INTELLIGENT PEOPLE — A SERIES

Why did England's King start the vogue of the Windsor chair?

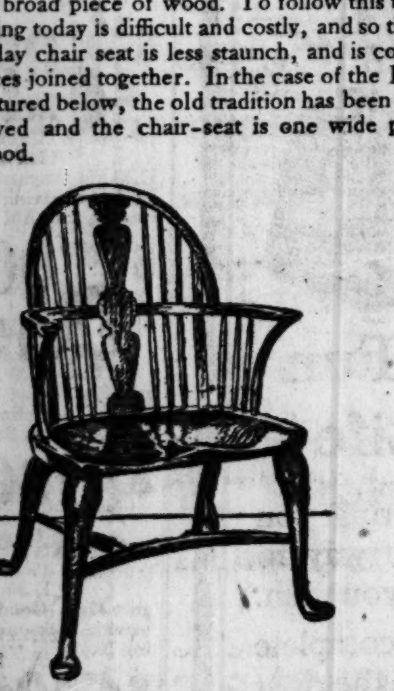
In a shepherd's hut near the royal castle at Windsor, King George I one day sought shelter from the storm. There he rested upon a chair unlike any he had ever seen before. It had been fashioned by the village wheelwright, on the principle of a wheel, with bent spokes and slender rim or felloe. The King was so pleased with its beauty that he had the chair copied and thus, according to legend, began the vogue of the Windsor chair. Its graceful lines are seen at their best in the Danersk Windsor chair pictured below.

When must hickory be split by hand?

The spindles of the back of an ordinary chair can be machine-made. But to impart the grace and individuality required for a fine Windsor, each spindle must be handmade and hand-shaped. The interesting character imparted by such hand-craftsmanship can clearly be seen in the hand-split hickory spindles of the Danersk Windsor pictured below.

What type of chair-seat was most prized by our forefathers?

In olden times when good wood was more plentiful than now, the seat of a fine Windsor chair was usually carved from a single broad piece of wood. To follow this tradition in chair making today is difficult and costly, and so the average present-day chair seat is less staunch, and is composed of many pieces joined together. In the case of the Danersk Windsor pictured below, the old tradition has been scrupulously observed and the chair-seat is one wide piece of solid tulipwood.



In the Danersk Windsor pictured above, other points of distinction are the exceptionally graceful cabriole legs, the interesting duck feet, the curved and straight stretchers, the unusually ample proportions. The solid wood of each leg is carried clear through the seat, with a heavy round tenon, and is wedged from the top. Like all Danersk furniture, this chair exemplifies the finest in craftsmanship and design and was made by our own colony of Scotch and English cabinet-makers. Come and see this interesting Danersk piece together with the many new ones which have been added since your last visit.

NEW G. O. P. HEAD SAYS SOUTH IS LOSING BIGOTRY

Huston Keeps Silent on Prohibition.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The Republican party has turned to a tall, lean man with icy blue eyes and tight lips to shape its course and guide it through the next presidential campaign. He is Claudius Hart Huston, a canny Scot from Tennessee, and he represents President Hoover's welcoming gesture to southern fundamentalists to remain within the party's fold.

CLAUDIUS H. HUSTON.
[U. & U. Photo.]

Mr. Huston will not receive formal notification of his selection as chairman of the Republican national committee until Sept. 9 at Washington, when Dr. Hubert Work, retiring chairman, turns over to him the party's purse strings and inner secrets, but that does not mean he is not prepared to take the job. Col. Huston has been preparing for political leadership for twenty years.

Taciturn and Astute.

It was with the expectation of meeting a silent, aloof, sternly mysterious person that your correspondent today called on the soon-to-be-named party leader in his skyscraper office facing Wall street. Indiana born, Tennessee trained and Washington made, Mr. Huston has followed his political success with financial success and business keeps him in New York a deal of the time.

He is not silent, aloof nor mysterious, but he is taciturn as concerns his politics, stern except when he talks of the growth of the Republican party in the south, and deft in his handling of politically delicate subjects.

Mr. Huston has been referred to as a "lily white" Republican and Negro political leaders have objected to his elevation in the party. This afternoon, while avoiding any direct discussion of the vexed racial and religious questions, he intimated that in his opinion, they were not the moving factor behind the southern trend toward the Republican party.

Political Bigotry Dying.

He believes it is becoming easier and easier for an independent voter to follow his convictions to the polls in the south.

Mr. Huston is the first man from below the Mason and Dixon line to have a chance at the Republican leadership and he sees a great future for the party in the south.

He professes slight interest in the activities of the fundamentalists and modernists in a political way in the south, but admits their activities.

He is an elder in the Second Presbyterian church of Chattanooga, Tenn., and a guiding spirit in the moral and civic groups of that city.

"I do not care to discuss fundamentalism at this time," he said this afternoon. "I am going to stand on my rights as a private citizen."

But fundamentalism vs. modernism has been removed from religion to politics, he was reminded.

"Well, we will not discuss it now," he said.

How about prohibition, was the next question.

"That, too, will have to wait. If I am called from private life I may have something to say about it."

Smiles Over Scopes Case.

Mention of the Scopes trial, in which the teaching of evolution in Tennessee was aired, brought a smile from Mr. Huston.

"I taught school in the Chattanooga normal in the late nineties and was chairman of the executive committee of the University of Chattanooga until I resigned to go to Washington in 1921," he said. "During all this time the question of teaching evolution never was brought to my attention and I taught almost everything in the normal school. We didn't have fundamentalists and modernists in those days."

Mr. Huston is an efficient man. Everything in his office indicated his Scotch training, even to the saving of time. His desk was bare except for a scratch pad. When a secretary brought in an evening paper, it was opened at the market page and a half dozen stocks had a blue ring drawn around their closing price.

He Talks of Early Life.

The next republican leader wears blue clothes seven days in the week. He is given to stiff collars and plain neckties and he speaks with only the barest trace of a southern accent. He is a combination of the west, south, and east, and talks freely only when on the subject of his boyhood and early life.

"I was born in Harrison county, Indiana, Feb. 18, 1876," said Mr. Huston. "My father was Dewitt Huston, a Presbyterian minister, and my mother was Margaret Eleanor Macrae Huston. She was from North Carolina. I taught school in Boone township, Indiana, for $30 a month and saved enough to educate myself at South Ridge normal. In 1897 I went to Chattanooga and taught school there. Later I bought the Southern Business college and ran it for three years. It was there that I got to know the business men of the city.

"I became president of the chamber of commerce, of the Y. M. C. A., of the Dixie Highway association and a lot of other civic organizations. In 1920, I began to reorganize manufacturing concerns—iron and textile plants—and that year I was chairman of the campaign finance committee in Tennessee.

How He Met Hoover.

"I next became chairman of the national ways and means committee and then in 1921, assistant secretary of commerce. I first met Mr. Hoover when he was food administrator, but it was not until I became his associate that our intimate acquaintanceship began. I resigned in the spring of 1923 and in 1924 I was secretary of the committee on arrangements for the Cleveland convention and a member of the campaign advisory committee in charge of the Chicago office.

"After leaving my government post in 1923 I effected the reorganization of the Trans-Continental Oil company and became chairman of the board in 1925. My resignation from that position was accepted last Friday.

"I was active in pre-convention work for Mr. Hoover and also during the campaign, although I held no official position. I have been credited with having considerable to do with the five southern states that broke the solid south, but I do not know—I was not down south often during the campaign."

An Expert Money Raiser.

The man President Hoover has chosen to keep the so-called solid south broken has a mysterious ability to raise campaign funds without raising any dust. He can remain in the background and still keep Dixieland lined up. He has a reputation for skill and shrewdness in politics that may blossom out in the next campaign. Mr. Huston is a widower, has four daughters in school in Washington, is a 33d degree Mason, and belongs to many civic and social clubs. He is chairman of the board of the Associated Bond and Share corporation of New York; chairman of C. H. Huston & Co. of New York; president of the Brotherhood Management corporation and a director of several banks. He maintains homes in Chattanooga, Washington and New York and commutes between them, but he goes to church and votes in Chattanooga.

'FAIR RETURN' IS FARE INCREASE, HARLAN WARNS

Urges Capital Rate Be Put in Ordinance.

Higher fares will be inevitable if the city fails to specify the rate of return on invested capital in a grant to the proposed consolidated transit company. This statement was made yesterday by Attorney John Maynard Harlan, sponsor of the Lisman transit settlement plan, before Prof. Charles Thompson's "deadlock committee."

"Any high school boy can demonstrate from past reports of the elevated and surface lines that their demand for a 'fair and reasonable' return, rather than a fixed return, means a fare increase," Mr. Harlan asserted.

The committee spent nearly all afternoon listening to Mr. Harlan. During the morning it heard George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Continental Illinois bank, who warned against city control of the new company, and to John J. O'Brien of Byllesby & Co. Mr. O'Brien recommended that the rate of return be regulated by the transit commission.

Wants Grant to Fix Rate.

Prof. Thompson's committee, named following a deadlock in negotiations between the companies and the council transit committee, is endeavoring to iron out several disputed points in the financial terms of a franchise ordinance.

Mr. Harlan insisted that the rate of return should be fixed definitely in the ordinance — especially the return upon preferred stock and bonds—while fares should remain unchanged.

"I have never yet heard a direct answer from the companies to the question: What do you think the rate of return should be?" Mr. Harlan said. "It is small wonder.

"Last year, with 800 million passengers, the net return on the surface lines' investment was 6.3 per cent while that of the elevated, with 200 million passengers, was 3.25 per cent. It is manifest that if you put the two together, and give a 7 or 8 per cent return, fares will have to go up. As the elevated fare is now 10 cents, the increase probably would be on the surface cars."

Should the companies persuade the city to write a "fair and reasonable rate of return" into the ordinance, they will be able to gain in the courts a far better deal than by negotiation, Mr. Harlan averred.

Mr. Harlan said he deplored the absence of Samuel Insull, who is in Europe, suggesting that the committee cable him a request to return. Until Mr. Insull displays more interest in the proceedings, he asserted, there is small hope for a settlement.

Several times Patrick J. Lucy, attorney for the elevated lines, objected to Mr. Harlan's statements. He pointed out that the Lisman attorney, as an interested party, had no right to be classed with the bankers and business men to whom the committee has been listening.

Reynolds Urges Simplicity.

The simplest form of a transit settlement ordinance with an amortization plan was advocated by Mr. Reynolds. He said he hoped that the settlement would not involve "a co-partnership," giving the city a voice in the management of the properties. Such a partnership, he said, would mean continual political strife and frighten away prospective investors.

Mr. Reynolds suggested a ratio of two and one-half to three times the bond interest charges for the earnings of the new company.

"The question of 1 or 2 cents difference in fare is important," he added, "but not so important as the maintenance of efficient service to get workers to and from their work. Most of them are willing to pay for good service."

The committee's hearings, which have been in progress for a week, will be continued this morning at the Chicago plan commission offices in the Morton building at 208 West Washington street. Mr. Harlan was the first of several persons, opposed to the company plan to be heard and others are expected to appear today.

Identified as Member of Kidnap Bandit Gang

Lee Phillips, 35 years old, seized by Policeman Charles Jackson at Lawrence and Kimball avenues yesterday in an automobile with four pistols, was identified last night at the Damen avenue police station by four tradesmen as one of a band who had kidnaped them, compelled them to open their stores, and robbed them of sums ranging from $400 to $800 in the last three months, according to the police. Phillips said he lives at 5627 North Mozart avenue.

CHICAGO BEAUTY WED TO VET SHE MET IN HOSPITAL

Miss Kittie Mulhall of Chicago, president of the ladies' auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and known as the "sweetheart of the V. F. W.," was married last night in the Roman Catholic cathedral of St. Paul, Minn., in the presence of thousands of delegates attending the 13th national convention of the veterans.

The bridegroom was Charles V. Nolan of Clifton, Ky., a veteran whom Miss Mulhall met in an American hospital on his return from the front, wounded. Miss Mulhall is the daughter of James F. Mulhall, a retired policeman of 5342 Lovejoy avenue.

After the ceremony, performed by special dispensation, the couple rode from the cathedral to an auditorium on a caisson drawn by a team of white mules and were presented with scores of wedding gifts, including a bungalow.

RESCUE FARMER IMPRISONED IN WELL 51 HOURS

Allegan, Mich., Aug. 26.—[U. P.]—After being imprisoned by great chunks of earth 35 feet below ground for 51 hours, George Peet, 36, farmer, was rescued from the bottom of his collapsed well late today.

Peet was repairing the well when its walls caved in Saturday. Rescue crews worked continuously in an effort to rescue him.

Finally, when it appeared as if their efforts would be in vain, rescuers dug to within a few feet of him, and attached three blocks and tackles to Peet's body. Upon being dragged from the well, Peet collapsed, mumbling incoherently. Doctors said, however, that he had suffered no injury more serious than a badly lacerated left foot and that he would recover.

REVIVE VICTIM OF AUTO FUMES, FOUND IN GARAGE

Wesley P. Heilman, president of the Frank G. Heilman company, commission merchants at 945 Fulton street, was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from his automobile last night as he was repairing a tire in a garage at the rear of his home, 3004 Normandy place, Evanston.

At 10 p. m., after her husband had been out of the house for half an hour, Mrs. Heilman went to the garage and found him unconscious. The motor of the car was still running. Police were called and Patrolman Leo Larkin and Philip Reiman and an inhalator squad of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois revived Mr. Heilman after working for half an hour. Dr. S. W. Sneider, who also was called, said he would recover.

FIND DEMOCRACY BOAT ANCHORED WITHOUT PERMIT

Officials of the Cook County Democracy club anchored their clubhouse, the ship Rotarian, to the city's dock at Wells street without a permit. Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe learned this yesterday after an investigation. He immediately asked the corporation counsel's office for an opinion to determine if the city should receive a fee for the use of the quay.

In the meantime club officials informed Commissioner of Police Russell that taxi dancing, a system whereby girl partners receive one-half the charge for each dance, had ceased. The discovery last week that the boat was being used for taxi dancing resulted in an investigation which disclosed that no licenses had been obtained for the dancing, restaurant, service bar, or sale of cigarets.

Legal action brought by the city over the lack of licenses will be heard in the Municipal court Thursday. Subpoenas were served last week and the case continued.

HOOVER TO GET PLEA DEFENDING LAKE DIVERSION

Mississippi States Join Chicago in Fight.

Within two weeks a formal challenge of the charges made by the lake states opposing the Chicago lake diversion, will be presented to President Hoover. Howard W. Elmore, president of the sanitary district, made this announcement following a conference yesterday of sanitary district officials and attorneys for the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Mississippi Valley association.

The memorial will be presented to the President to counteract the propaganda which Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York have circulated in their efforts to limit the Chicago diversion to 1,000 cubic second feet for navigation purposes only.

Refute Levels Charges.

The memorial, which the opposing lake states presented to President Hoover on July 26, charges that the diversion at Chicago has been responsible for lowering lake levels, disregarding the fact that Lake Michigan this summer has reached its highest levels in thirty-five years. The sanitary district counter-memorial will direct attention to evidence refuting the accusations of Chicago's opponents.

Six Mississippi valley states, which will benefit from the projected lakes-to-gulf waterway, probably will join Chicago and Illinois in the counter memorial. According to Mr. Elmore, Illinois will ally with Missouri, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana in a determined politico-economic combine. The sanitary district is assured of the support of Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Enlists State Officials.

Cornelius Lynde, representing the Chicago Association of Commerce as an associate counsel of the sanitary district in its case before the U. S. Supreme court, said yesterday that he had been in communication with the several attorneys general of the Mississippi valley states in regard to their support of the waterway plans.

CLEVER POLICEMAN ENDS ENDURANCE TEST OF WINNETKA MONKEY

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast," mused Patrolman Alfred Facchini of the Winnetka police force, and he forthwith set out to end Winnetka's monkey endurance test. Roka, a pet monkey belonging to Tommy Casey, 10 years old, 188 Myrtle avenue, Winnetka, broke from its cage Saturday to take a fling at the vagrant's life in the trees of the north shore suburb, and Facchini decided something should be done about it.

So the policeman summoned an organ grinder friend, Tony Lazaro, who took his hand organ and his monkey to a tree in which Roka was chattering cheerfully at pursuers. Tony set up his organ and began grinding tune after tune, his own monkey grimacing at Roka.

For awhile Roka was obdurate, but after an hour's serenading he could resist the strains no longer, and he came down. Patrolman Facchini seized him and returned him to his young master.

The monkey had been sitting in the trees 56 hours when he ended his endurance test.

FARMER KILLED BY TRAIN.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—George W Holmes, 65, farmer, was struck and killed by a train late yesterday, as he was walking along the track inspecting a corn field.

SECRETARY GOOD INSPECTS STATE GULF LINK TODAY

A two days' inspection of the Illinois waterway, the uncompleted link in the route from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, will be started today by Secretary of War Good and Gov. Emmerson. It will be their first trip over the project.

The tour, which was arranged by the Illinois Manufacturers' association, to give them a personal view of the construction work which the state of Illinois is doing at a cost of $20,000,000, will be made by steamer and automobile.

The party will include Senator Deneen and other members of the Illinois delegation in congress, officials of industrial, commercial, financial and agricultural organizations, to the number of sixty.

Out of the trip is expected to come an agreed program on plans to complete the waterway by 1931. The state finds itself between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 short of necessary money for completion of the job, on which it is now spending $500,000 a month, and as more funds would require a constitutional amendment, congress is to be asked to appropriate the money to be spent under the direction of the war department.

The party leaves from La Salle street bridge at 8 o'clock this morning on the steamer Robert R. It will reach Joliet at noon and after a luncheon will leave by automobile to inspect the construction work at Dresden island. It reaches Morris at 3:30 o'clock and La Salle at 7 o'clock, after inspecting the work at Marseilles.

Tomorrow, the tour continues from La Salle at 8 o'clock reaching Peoria at 5 o'clock for a dinner and a night meeting.

Tie Up 5 Chinese Waiters, Dog; Rob Cafe of $1,500

Five Chinese waiters were trussed up yesterday in the Golden Pumpkin inn, 3827 West Madison, by five youthful robbers who broke open the wall safe of the restaurant and fled with $1,500. The bandits entered the restaurant early yesterday through a rear door as Chen Chue, one of the waiters led Beaux, the inn's German police dog, out for an airing. Chue was seized and he and the dog were tied up with his four comrades.

4,587 Erie Railroad Clerks Get 2½ Cts. Wage Increase

Through the employé-employer representation plan the 4,587 clerks employed by the Erie Railroad company have been granted an increase in wages of two and one-half cents an hour. It is estimated the increase will cost the Erie company approximately $300,000 a year. The clerks belong to the Erie System Clerical association, which is represented in Chicago by F. P. Lindquist, the system's general chairman.

A PICNIC on CONOCO!

Extra miles paid for everything at this party.

PERHAPS you have been accepting the extra miles that are packed into Conoco gasoline as a matter of course. You expect an organization with such facilities and resources as those of the Continental Oil Company to produce a motor fuel of highest efficiency and greatest economy. And you have never been disappointed!

But have you ever figured in a concrete way just what you could buy with the savings which Conoco's extra miles bring to you . . . Last week's picnic, for instance . . . Did it occur to you that, after all, you were having that party on Conoco . . . That the extra miles you have been getting from Conoco all summer really paid the picnic bills?

Prove this for yourself. Note your speedometer reading the next time you fill with Conoco . . Then keep an accurate record of your miles per gallon. That will be convincing evidence of the economy which comes from using Conoco.

OUTLINE PLANS OF $20,000,000 FARMERS' CO-OP

Organizers Begin Work with Board Here.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Creation of the farmer-owned $20,000,000 Farmers' National Grain corporation proposed by the federal farm board was taken up yesterday by the committee of sixteen picked a month ago at the conference between the board and fifty-two officials of wheat pools, coöperative elevators, and farmer sales agencies at the central markets.

William H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau federation, and one of the leaders in the "farmers' revolt" at Kansas City at the Republican national convention, was chairman of the meeting. Alexander Legge, head of the farm board, and three of its other members attended in an advisory capacity.

Will Be Eligible for Loans.

The day's discussion of the details of organization centered largely in the question of forming the sales corporation as one big unit for marketing without disturbing the present setup of the various pools and coöperative associations. The projected corporation is to be so based on coöperative lines that it will be eligible for loans under the new farm relief act, and it is to serve as liaison agency between the board and the farmers' organizations. Among the principal questions debated was that of establishing unity of action for grain marketing without destroying the identity of the member organizations.

Reports from committee members who have spent the last month in sounding the sentiment among the 650,000 grain growers represented by the co-operative groups which are working out the project, were reported to be overwhelmingly favorable.

"All the reports were that the farmers are for the proposition," said Chairman Settle after adjournment. "They realize this is something we have been dreaming of for years, and that it is a real start towards stabilization.

Satisfied with Programs.

"Today we have progressed satisfactorily. The discussion of the details of the set-up of the new corporation has been thoroughly amicable. It takes time and much discussion to work out the set-up of a corporation of such mammoth proportions. Many problems are to be considered and they are being thrashed out in detail. This will be one of the most gigantic corporations ever contemplated in the country in its far reaching effects and everything is being studied out carefully and thoroughly.

"As to when the corporation will be organized, that depends upon how rapidly we can work out all the manifold details, for this has to be done right. The whole sentiment in the meeting is that we are making good progress, although as yet we have reached no definite conclusions."

The conference will assemble again at the Sherman hotel this morning.

Grain Holding Not Discussed.

According to Mr. Settle, the accumulation of grain in the terminals, proposed embargoes, and whether the farmer should be advised to hold his wheat, were not taken up.

"I've never considered it in my province to advise farmers as to whether they should hold their grain," said Mr. Settle. "Ex-Secretary Jardine did that, didn't he? And what happened? Terminal elevators are undoubtedly congested. However, that did not come up, for our problem is the setup of a mammoth farmer owned and controlled corporation which will meet the requirements of the federal marketing act and the Capper-Volstead act as a coöperative agency."

The organization committee is to serve as an incorporating board of directors. Permanent directors are to be elected later, and the method of their selection was one of the points debated.

May Form Two Divisions.

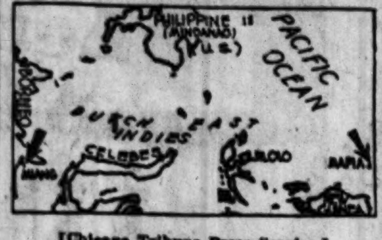
Two branches or marketing divisions, one to handle wheat on national and international markets and the other to handle coarse grains, may be created by the organizers. One of the principles adopted at the July meeting was that no loans are to be made where they would encourage coöperatives in competition with each other, and that loans should not be made to pools and organizations which do not patronize the central marketing facilities to be established.

Ex-Gov. Samuel McKelvie of Nebraska, the "wheat" member of the farm board, will attend today's sessions. The members who sat in yesterday in addition to Chairman Legge, were James C. Stone, Carl Williams and W. F. Schilling. All sixteen members of the organization committee were present except L. J. Tabor of Columbus, O., who is ill.

John Napier Oyer, president of the National Horticultural council, last night warned fruit and vegetable growers to guard against exploitation under the new farm relief act.

At the Sherman hotel, organizers of the contemplated $20,000,000 grain corporation pointed out that it is to be farmer owned and controlled, established and managed by the coöperative groups which unite in forming it.

DISPUTED ISLAND



[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Aug. 26.—Following the decision of the world court that the Isle of Miang, near the Philippines, belongs to the Netherlands and not to the United States, a new situation has arisen between the Dutch and American governments. This is regarding possession of the Isle of Mapia, in the Dutch New Guinea archipelago, to which the United States lays claim. It is likely that ownership of this island will also be settled by the world court.

U. S. FARM BOARD SPEEDS 9 MILLION AID TO GRAPE MEN

Vineyardists Called to Conference Thursday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Details of the program under which the federal farm board and a group of California banks will advance more than $9,000,000 to assist in the stabilization of the California grape industry are to be worked out by the board this week.

Donald Conn of San Francisco, Cal., president of the California Vineyardists' association and other spokesmen for grape growers' organization, have been summoned to confer with the board on Thursday, it became known today.

Combination of Banks.

A maximum of $9,000,000—one half of which will be advanced by the board and one half by the combination of banks—is to be made available to the Sun Maid Raisin Growers, a coöperative association, which will operate raisin pools for non-members as well as member-growers. In addition, the board and the banks have agreed to loan funds through the Federal Fruit Stabilization corporation, to stabilize fresh grape prices.

It was contended by the California Vineyardists in the negotiations that preceded the board's decision to make the loans, that prohibition largely is responsible for the plight in which the fresh grape growers find themselves. High prices offered by home wine makers for several years after the enactment of prohibition encouraged growers to increase their vineyard acreage and the result has been, they assert, an over-production which forced prices to unprecedented low levels.

Plans For Fruit Growers.

Plans of the recently organized United Growers of America, a $50,000,000 corporation, to offer a national coöperative sales service to small fruit and vegetable growers' coöperative associations have been approved by the federal farm board.

Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of the new organization and chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce, W. M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture in the Coolidge cabinet, and Arthur R. Rule, vice president of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, appeared before the board on Aug. 23.

Common stock of the organization, which alone will have voting power, is to be held, the board was told, by grower-owned and controlled fruit and vegetable coöperatives and the organization proposes to furnish marketing service to the many small coöperatives, whose individual output is not sufficient to warrant the maintenance of the year-around sales organizations.

ORDER 100 MORE TO FACE CANAL GRAFT INQUIRY

A fresh batch of 100 subpoenas issued yesterday makes a total of 760 so far in connection with the renewed grand jury inquiry into pay roll padding and other alleged graft of the Timothy J. Crowe régime of the Sanitary district. The new investigation conducted by Assistant Prosecutor Otho Fasig, so far has confined its work to the water department of the district.

Twenty-eight witnesses were taken before the grand jury in connection with the case yesterday. Upon the order of First Assistant Prosecutor John E. Northup, who yesterday returned from his vacation, the testimony given and the identities of the witnesses were suppressed. It is planned to eventually summon for questioning the greater part of the 2,112 persons whose names appeared on the water division pay roll while Crowe was president.

Ready for To-morrow Today

The history of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a romance of achievement.

In the beginning it served the pioneer—it was one of them, sharing their dangers and hardships.

Always, in its zest for scientific exploring, in its eagerness to push ahead into unknown realms of knowledge, in its willingness to meet and conquer difficulties—in its readiness to pay the price of progress—this Company has proved itself a true pioneer. The story of its development of gasoline will illustrate.

Gasoline at first was an undesirable by-product of petroleum, unavoidably obtained in the manufacture of kerosene. Then came the automobile and men needed gasoline more than kerosene. The demand increased so rapidly that it appeared certain that the earth could not yield sufficient crude oil to supply the millions of motor cars.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) met the situation by increasing the yield of gasoline from crude petroleum by developing "cracking" processes, thus initiating an entirely new method of refining.

The importance of this scientific pioneering to modern automobile transportation is suggested by the American Petroleum Institute.

"Without the supply of gasoline obtained from 'cracking' operations, the use of automobiles could probably not have expanded to its present proportions for lack of fuel." This statement is supported with statistics to show that "cracked" gasoline supplied fuel for 8,600,000 motor vehicles in 1926.

Anticipating the development of a new type of automobile engine having higher compression, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) introduced Red Crown Ethyl in the Middle West—a gasoline that gives the advantages of high compression to any engine.

Stanolind Aviation Gasoline is another pioneer product. This Company, recognizing the practical possibilities of commercial aviation, developed special products for airplane engines. It was the first organization in the petroleum industry to buy an airplane for use of its officials.

In the manufacture of every product, in every phase of its work, in every part of its organization, this Company is a perpetual pioneer, searching always for better ways of doing things, seeking always to improve old products and to develop new ones as new needs arise.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has the long perspective of a corporation whose life is not measured by the lives of men. Its solid strength is the result of years of achievement. To the past it looks with respect for the wisdom long experience teaches. To the future it looks with the vision of the pioneer.

SLAY WITNESSES TO HOTSY TOTSY CLUB KILLINGS

Three Employes Victims, Whalen Says.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Three of the men who saw the murders in the Hotsy Totsy club July 13 will not be on hand when the slayers are tried. The underworld has "put them on the spot."

This disclosure of gangland executions to block justice was made today by Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen. He said Hymie Cohen, entertainment manager at the night club, and two waiters, one unidentified and the other known only as Wolgast, are the dead witnesses.

Identify One Body.

He admitted the death of Cohen had not been verified, nor had the demise of the second waiter. The bullet torn body found two weeks ago near Bordentown, N. J., has been identified as that of Wolgast, he said.

The vagueness of the police disclosures was explained by the commissioner. In so doing he revealed that the shadowy squad he has mobilized to bore from within the underworld has begun to get results.

Several of the detectives, schooled to persuade criminals that they were "pals" and crime men themselves, heard in some dim crooks' hideaway that Hymie and the two waiters had been killed.

The information was that all three murders had been committed outside of the state and, of course, beyond the bailiwick of the New York police.

"I have definite information," said the commissioner, "that three of our Hotsy Totsy witnesses have been murdered. This information, gathered by members of the secret service squad, comes to us from sources we consider very reliable.

"Our information is that the persons who committed the two murders in the Hotsy Totsy club feared that Cohen would be a weak witness. They feared that he might "spill the beans." They had him murdered and the two others killed to make certain of their silence."

Cohen, according to the commissioner, saw the fight begin that ended with the slaying of William [Red] Cassidy, west side character, and the accidental slaying of Harry, alias Simon, Walker, convict released two weeks before the night club crimes.

Take Greene to New York.

Charles Green, captured in Chicago Saturday for the murders in New York of William Cassidy and Simon Walker, waived extradition yesterday and was taken to New York.

DRY AGENT ACCUSED OF USING AMERICAN LEGION CARD IN RAID

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Charges that federal undercover agents used American Legion credentials to obtain liquor evidence against saloonkeepers at the recent convention of the Legion in Kenosha were made here today before Harry L. Kellogg, United States court commissioner, when eight saloon men were arraigned.

The information prompted Attorney Cornelius Hanley, past commander of an American Legion post here, to begin action in having the matter brought before Legion officials of the state with a view to expelling the agents from the organization.

Specific charges were made by Attorney Hanley against Edward L. Evans, who is alleged to have displayed his American Legion membership card in the saloon of Carl Wallig, after being refused a drink. The agent was then given a drink from a "hipper" carried by another Legionnaire, Mr. Hanley declared.

W. Frank Cunningham, deputy enforcement officer here, refused to condemn the subterfuge alleged to have been practiced by the agents.

"STOP MEDDLING." FATHER-IN-LAW IS WARNED IN COURT

Courtroom spectators applauded yesterday when a young husband, accused of threatening violence to a prying father-in-law, was freed in the Grand Crossing court and the father-in-law was ordered by Judge Max Luster to "mind his own business."

James Dork, 20 years old, 9351 University avenue, was accused by his father-in-law, John Ralz, 9347 University avenue, of having threatened to kill him. Dork eloped with 16 year old Margaret Ralz to Crown Point four months ago.

The young man told the court the girl's father forgave them, but that after they moved into a flat in the neighborhood he began meddling in their affairs.

"He theratened to chase me out of the neighborhood and take my wife back to his home and give her a spanking," Dork said. "I told him if he did I'd take the law into my own hands."

START SCHOOLS FOR ILLITERATES IN STATE PRISONS

Two hundred inmates of Joliet and Stateville prisons went back to school yesterday. Many of the pupils had never learned or had forgotten how to read and write; none had gone beyond the fourth grade.

Two hour class periods were held, morning and afternoon, under supervision of John Taylor, former superintendent of the state school for deaf mutes at Jacksonville. When he has established a workable routine, Mr. Taylor expects to pick five of the most intelligent prisoners for his assistant instructors.

Before autumn ends, Warden H. C. Hill expects to have at least 1,000 prisoners in school daily. Those who are wholly illiterate will be required to attend and a fair proficiency in reading, writing, arithmetic and civics will be a requisite for parole. The school is a project of Rodney Brandon, recently appointed director of the state department of public welfare.

FARMERS' GROUPS SPLIT ON HIRING OF TAX LAWYERS

Officials of the Illinois Agricultural association and the Cook County Truck Gardeners' association disagreed yesterday upon the advisability of rural residents of the county employing attorneys to argue their tax bills before the board of review.

Representatives of the two groups clashed at a conference in the office of William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission.

Through its president, August Geweke, the Truck Gardeners' association announced that its attorney, Edwin Lawlor, already has drawn up contracts for members awarding him thirty-five per cent of the reductions in tax bills he obtains from the board of review.

"You may clean up $100,000," Mr. Malone told Lawlor. "It's a good racket."

Attorney Donald Kirkpatrick and John C. Watson, statistician, representing the agricultural association, advised the gardeners against legal action until the taxpayers themselves have first tried to obtain satisfactory adjustments.

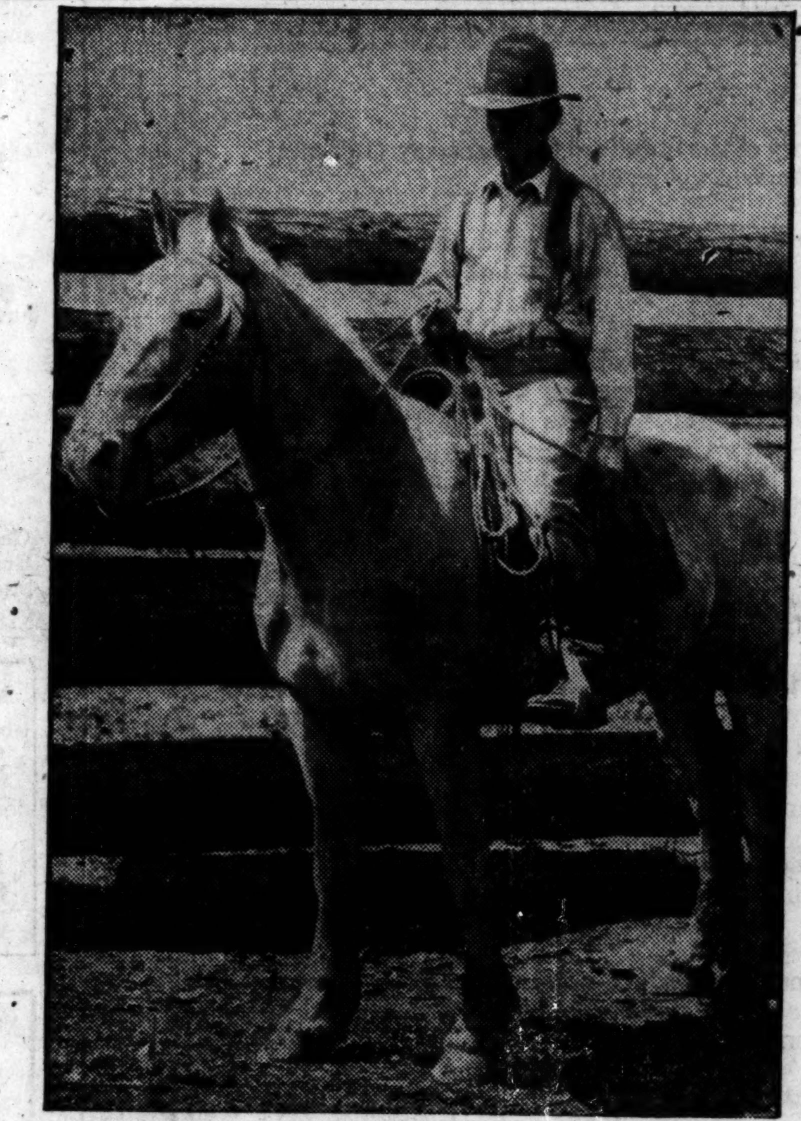
A Bank Bandit who became Vice-President of the Bank he helped to rob



"He has paid his debt to society—and then some. Everybody in this town loves and respects him." That is what the local residents say about this man who lost his reputation—but came right back and made a new one. Read his inspiring story.

CONVICTED of robbery at twenty-four, sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary, disgraced and an outcast in the eyes of the world—this man faced the future with only one girl still believing in him.

What were his thoughts as he sat behind iron bars—his freedom forfeited?

What gave him the courage to go back to the very town where he had broken the law—to meet the people who knew of his disgrace?

This story of a man's downfall and his struggle back is told in the September issue of The American Magazine. It is one of the most absorbing documents of real life that has ever appeared in this magazine.

It is a stimulating experience to look deep into the minds and hearts of such men—men who were weak and have made themselves strong—who were tragic failures and still came back.

Every month the 2,200,000 families who read The American Magazine meet just such people. People who have fought hard and lived well. Who have studied out the formulas for successful living. Who have made themselves what they want to be, and can tell how they did it.

These stories told in terms of Human Experience explain why The American Magazine is the favorite magazine of the entire family.

30 other great features in the September American Magazine

MRS. COOLIDGE'S OWN STORY—not a story of politics. Or of statecraft. Or of formal diplomatic Washington. But the intimate human story of Grace Coolidge's personal experiences as the First Lady of the Land.

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE writes—"I Am Ashamed of Myself"—a recent accident left this famous writer of dog stories dangerously close to death. While fighting his way back to health he discovered something about other people that convinced him he wasn't as fine an individual as he had thought.

HELEN KELLER writes—"If You Have Friends You Can Endure Anything"—a beautiful tribute to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell written by a courageous woman who from birth has been deaf, dumb and blind—yet who has conquered her isolation and has known the joys of human friendship.

ROCHE PREDICTS NEW CLASHES IN BEER GANG WAR

Finds "Ride Victim" Just Fell from Auto.

Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, foresaw a resumption of the beer wars yesterday in the statement of Henry Kolosky that he was taken for a ride by Saltis beer gangsters because he had quit Saltis to run beer for the Capone gang. Roche issued a statement regarding beer deliveries in the loop and then he went to the county hospital to interview Kolosky. He learned that the injured man was just drunk and had fallen out of an automobile.

"This appears to be the opening shot in an impending beer war," Roche said before his visit to Kolosky, "and if the prohibition department doesn't stop the flow of beer into the loop there will be serious shooting. I'm too busy to be enforcing the prohibition law, but I am interested in stopping the murders that are caused by the prohibition shooting.

Says It Can Be Done.

"If the prohibition agents don't get busy I will. A one-legged prohibition agent riding a bicycle could dry up the loop in half a day provided he were honest.

"Beer is being forced on loop speakeasies at $55 a barrel by the Capone-Gusick syndicate. A lot of the saloonkeepers want to take near beer but the syndicate won't let them.

"Beer has been delivered into the loop usually about once a week between 5 and 7 a. m. Danny Stanton has been acting as the muscle man with the beer and he represents Jack Gusick.

"Last Saturday morning I had twenty-five men in the loop waiting to catch the beer trucks. But the syndicate had spies out, riding in cars bearing Indiana and Michigan licenses, and no beer was delivered that morning."

Gangsters at Peace.

Roche said he had learned that Stanton was the source of trouble between the Saltis and Capone gangs, but that otherwise the beer gangsters were at peace and meet occasionally for friendly poker games where they settle their differences.

Before accepting the post of chief investigator for the state's attorney, Roche was a special agent of the intelligence bureau of the department of internal revenue and for a time had supervisory duties over prohibition agents. While there he arrested most of the important gangsters and has considerable knowledge of their operations.

Sees Trouble Brewing.

"Since Al Capone was locked up in Philadelphia trouble has been brewing among the gangs," he stated. "Capone appears to be the only one who can handle them."

Kolosky was found Sunday night in Argo lying alongside a road. His skull was fractured and he talked vaguely of his gang affiliations and said he had been taken for a ride. Internes said he was merely drunk.

Roche also ordered an investigation of the shooting yesterday of Frank Vido, 27 years old, of Melrose Park. Vido was shot in the leg as he neared his home, and police were seeking a connection between that shooting and the slaying of Louis Heisler, an alleged bootlegger, in Lyons.

Equity Council to Consider Barrymore - Gillmore Case

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The "Ethel Barrymore incident," in which Frank Gillmore, president of Actors' Equity, blamed her for making at least a temporary fizzle of Equity's movie strike in Hollywood, is to be taken up by the Equity council. This was announced today by Gillmore in his first statement since he returned from the Hollywood wars. What the ruling body of the actors' union may do to Miss Barrymore and her position of vice president of the organization is regarded as problematical.

CANADA SEIZES YANK PILOT AND RUM LADEN PLANE

Nab Michigan Flyer at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Royal Canadian mounted police and officers of the Canadian customs preventive service captured a rum running airplane today and arrested its pilot. They also took into custody a truck from which 33 cases of liquor were being transferred to the plane.

Ray Baumgartener, 27, of Plymouth, Mich., admitted he had made three trips before he was caught, merely offering the explanation, "I needed the money so I took a chance."

He pleaded guilty to landing the plane, which he said he did not own, in a place not designated by customs authorities and was given an option of paying a fine of $150 or spending two months in jail. The plane was held for a possible claimant, who can regain it by paying $400.

Urges Light Wines, Beer for U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Quebec, Aug. 26.—The use of light wines and beer ought to be permitted in the United States, according to the opinion of Dr. J. Rozier Briggs of Washington, D. C., an expert on all kinds of alcohol. Dr. Briggs returned from Europe on the White Star liner Laurentic, landing here. He went over specially to study the use of wines and beers in European countries, and was quoted recently as having stated that he was returning to Washington to advocate the use of beers and wines.

Dr. Briggs confirmed this view in an interview. "Yes, I figure we have got to have wines and beers," he said. "I was not of that opinion when I left home, but I am now. It has got to come.

"Canada is going to be the loser, too. You won't have so many tourists if we get wines and beer.

Likes Canadian Rum Laws.

After an absence of nearly 50 years James C. McNally, editor of the British American and Canadian American in Chicago, is on a brief visit to Montreal, his birthplace. Mr. McNally said his papers were urging a cordial understanding between the United States and Great Britain, and he praised the laws of Canada, especially those of this province regarding sale of liquors. He said he would advocate such laws for his own country, for the benefit of all, and especially of good order.

Anti-Saloon League Challenge.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAINT JULIEN-BEYCHEVILLE, France, Aug. 26.—Moderate drinking of wine promotes longevity, conjugal fidelity, and marital happiness. This is the answer to claims of American prohibitionists by 14 merry couples who today celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries here.

The entire Medoc district—which produces a goodly portion of the most luscious clarets and claims to be the home of octogenarians—joined in the festivities.

Since early childhood these couples have been habitual but moderate drinkers of wine, and they insist that such temperance, removed from both prohibition and alcoholism, is the secret of their long and happy lives. Following the dinner they sent a letter to the American Anti-Saloon league, challenging it to produce a village of water drinkers to equal Saint Julien's record.

Chicago Woman Leaps to Death from Elgin Building

Mrs. Katherine Kearney, 24 years old, a patient in Elgin State hospital and the wife of Andrew Kearney, 3108 West 58th street, Chicago, leaped to her death yesterday afternoon from a fifth floor window of a downtown building in Elgin. She had escaped from the car in which she had been riding with her husband when he stopped at a store to make a purchase. Two small daughters and the husband survive.

Convenient for husbands . . . but how about their wives?

In thousands of towns throughout the country, this scene is duplicated every day. A parking space or public garage filled with cars used in business, while the other members of their owners' families are marooned at home.

A second car would make their day so much easier and pleasanter. And almost any family can afford a second car by picking out a used car from the stocks of General Motors dealers.

Their sales of new cars are so large; they accept so many cars in trade—often with mileage scarcely touched—that you can find cars of every size and type in their showrooms.

Used cars are low-cost unused transportation

Every day more and more families are discovering that they can afford a second car in this way. The prices are amazingly low.

And a General Motors dealer enables you to enjoy the car you like immediately through the convenient GMAC Plan of purchase.

THE PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX INQUIRY.

A nonpartisan and nonpolitical committee has been appointed to study personal property taxation in Cook county. The committee can do a valuable work in laying the foundation for modification of the personal property taxes in the county and in the state. No one who is at all familiar with the present situation can doubt for a moment that there is vast room for improvement.

Before the state legislature can improve matters the facts regarding the present levies ought to be in hand. At present every one knows that the law is confiscatory if followed to the letter, subject to constant abuse by petty politicians and highly discriminatory as between taxpayers. The tax worked well enough when the population was largely rural and personal property was more readily appraised. Now that much, and indeed most, of the personal property owned in Illinois is in the form of intangibles the tax cannot be easily or fairly assessed.

The question remains, however, whether any personal property tax could be enacted in Illinois which would not be unjust as between individuals and between sections of the state. That is one of the questions, and probably the principal one, to which the committee must address itself. Its report should be of considerable value to the legislature in modernizing Illinois tax machinery. If the legislature fails to give the desired relief, the report of the committee may be of use to the assessors of Cook county in any effort they make to minimize present injustices.

The new committee seems well equipped for the task which faces it. Two of its members, Prof. Herbert Simpson of Northwestern university and Prof. Simon Leland of the University of Chicago, are special students of taxation. John H. Walker represents the views of organized labor and John C. Watson, statistician of the Illinois Agricultural association, of the farmers. The favorable results of the recent reassessment of real estate in Cook county will give the committee a measure of public confidence and prestige at the start. It is remembered that the reassessment was ordered as a result of the disclosures of injustice made by an investigating body of the sort which has now been set up to study personal property taxes. The chairman of the state taxation commission, who played a leading part in the realty reassessment, is sponsor of the present committee. There is good reason for the hope that the new committee's report will also be of great service in pointing the road to improvement.

BESTIALITY IN THE ASCENDANT.

Another group of young men has been arrested in Chicago charged with gang rape. The phrase is a new one and would never have been coined had not the repetition of the crime required it. Scarcely a month goes by now without its news of the rape of some young woman by a half-dozen ruffians. Even in an age which boasts that it is proof against shock, the repetition of these outrages which violate every canon of decent human behavior is startling.

The mere fact that the men hunt in packs is all the evidence required of bestiality and degradation. No further evidence is needed of their unfitness to remain at large. The public conscience would not be offended by any punishment, however severe, which may be visited upon them. The crime must be dealt with with all the promptness and severity which the law permits. There can be no mitigating circumstances.

TUG JOSEPHINE.

Steaming leisurely toward the harbor mouth, observe the tug Josephine. It is 9:45 a. m. The bridges open for her one by one. Thousands of motorists halt for her. She is rather longer than a rowboat and her pilot house, smokestack, and elaborate arrangement of davits are so high above the water that every bridge must be raised for her. In fact, the tug Josephine very well illustrates the type of craft that should be barred from the Chicago river. Her architecture belongs to the past. The loss her operation on the river occasions the public in a season undoubtedly is far beyond her value. She could probably be utilized in the outer harbor and along the lake front, but she and other local craft designed for past conditions are an economic loss to the community and a public nuisance.

We do not suggest confiscatory regulations. There is, in fact, no danger of our local river traffic suffering injustice from local regulation, but there should be not only a correction of bridge hours in favor of the major interest involved, which is the interest of the general public in uninterrupted communication; there should be an ironclad arrangement with the owners and operators of local craft using the river for the retirement from the river of craft no longer suited to river navigation under modern conditions or their remodeling so they will no longer require the opening of the bridges, or the substitution of craft designed for present conditions.

This reform is reasonably demanded by the public and the public's representatives should see that it is realized without further procrastination.

THE TROUBLE IN PALESTINE.

The Arab attacks upon the Jews in Palestine will be promptly checked by the British but they are likely to recur from time to time, for the old world peoples have not learned how to live together in peace. The present attacks are very likely the result of the recent success of the stricter and more fanatic element among Arabian Moslems, the Wahabis, who now hold the sacred cities, and have been inflamed doubtless by recent concessions to the Jews in the Holy Land, such as the right to enter the very holy mosque of Abraham at Hebron. But these concessions, irritating in themselves, must be taken together as signs of the increasing power of the Jews in Palestine and of their expansion under British protection and with American and British aid. Observing the growth of Zionist colonies the Arab must feel that in due time he will be either secluded from what is to him as much as to the Hebrew a Holy Land, and that he must resist now if ever. We do not realize that the saints and seers of the old testament and of Jewish history are saints and seers to the Arabs. Mohammed was merely a later prophet, though in the Moslems' view the greatest, and they revere Abraham, Moses and the other great men of our Bible not less than the Jew or Christian. Next to the places associated with Mohammed, Mecca and Medina, Jerusalem is a sacred place, and other places associated for us only with the old testament, like Hebron, the place of the burial of Abraham and his family, are holy places to the Arab. Under the Turks he controlled such places as the mosque of Omar so-called, or Dome of the Rock, the exquisite edifice in Jerusalem which covers the rock which is believed to mark the site of the interrupted sacrifice of Isaac. At Hebron the Moslems control the mosque which covers the cave which Abraham reserved for his burial, and Jews were not permitted until recently to enter it. By British pressure they were conceded the privilege of doing so under certain conditions, but the fanatic Moslem no doubt bitterly resented the concession.

Meanwhile the British government has one of the difficult and delicate problems which its rule over many races and religions create. They are pledged to the protection of the Jews and they have an imperial concern in keeping the Arabs in hand. They do not wish wild tribesmen sniping at traffic in the Suez canal and even threatening Port Said and Aden. On the other hand, they do not wish to inflame their millions of Moslem subjects in Africa, India, and Malaysia. To keep a safe balance amid these many irrepressible conflicts is one of the hardest and most important tasks of imperial policy, but British statesmanship, rich as it is in experience, is more competent to accomplish it than any other.

Our own immediate interest is in the protection of the Jews, some of them of American birth or citizenship, and all of them in race and religion related to a valued element of our own country. The situation will be watched with concern in America, but it is not likely to continue and the demand for our intervention is improper. The British government is taking prompt measures and would properly resent even suggestion by our government.

ZEPPELIN TRAFFIC FOR CHICAGO.

The presentation of Chicago's claim to a Zeppelin terminal should not be dismissed as merely a local incident of Dr. Eckener's voyage. It is true that the interest in the Graf Zeppelin inspired the ambition to possess adequate landing facilities for air liners in Chicago, but the ambition recognizes an obligation. Chicago is strategically located as the midwestern terminus and exchange point for Zeppelin travel, and our desire to realize the value of our position is not presumptuous.

The flight of the Graf Zeppelin is more than a feat; it is an accomplishment, which will certainly be followed by a tremendous development of Zeppelin travel. Special and expensive landing apparatus and storage facilities are required for the Zeppelin. Accordingly, the cities with sufficient foresight and initiative can and undoubtedly will attract this traffic by providing suitable harbors. If those cities, which are fortunately located on natural lines of communication, furnish terminal facilities for the Zeppelins, this travel will develop along logical routes, but if other cities, less conveniently situated, first cultivate the Zeppelin trade by building suitable terminals, cities such as Chicago will forfeit their natural advantages. Chicago can appropriate Zeppelin traffic by installing the necessary equipment. To neglect this improvement is to speculate with our future fortune.

TROUT IN MISSOURI.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Having successfully propagated the rainbow trout in the cold streams of the Ozarks, the Missouri fish and game department is now going to experiment with the German brown trout. The German brown trout has been successfully introduced in many western streams. It is commonly supposed not to require such cold water as the rainbow.

Unfortunately, there is a feeling among fishermen that while the introduction of trout in these waters is a success, it is hard on the small mouth bass. The small mouth bass has always been the glory of the Ozark streams. It is counted one of the greatest of game fishes. The rainbow trout is a bigger and stronger fish. It is also probably more pugnacious. The bass seem to disappear from water frequented by the rainbow. The latter grow very large. They are not infrequently taken in the Ozarks at as high as five pounds. In the Colorado lakes they run as high as 12 to 15 pounds, while in the Willamette river of Oregon they grow to 25 and 30 pounds. The rainbow is not a true trout. It is a salmon. Nevertheless, it is a delicious fish and a game fighter.

It will likely be found that several varieties of trout can live in the Ozark waters. The numerous springs keep some of these streams at a low temperature. This is particularly true of the Current river, which is for the most part a succession of giant springs culminating in the celebrated Big spring near Van Buren. In the Glacier National park there are six varieties of trout; probably all of these except the mountain or cutthroat trout, which requires near ice water, could be introduced in the Ozarks.

At any rate, the state will have to move fast to keep up with the fishermen. Egged on by Mr. Hoover, they are becoming legion.

How to Keep Well

HEALTH IS WEALTH

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

SOME CANCERS CURABLE.

It is generally accepted that skin cancer is curable. If an afflicted person is at all alert minded and even moderately intelligent he can be cured of skin cancer. Most of the deaths that now occur are among people who refuse to face facts for one reason or another. It is not so generally known that cure of lip cancer is the rule in properly run institutions. By cure we mean not only that the disease has been made to disappear, but that at the end of five years it has not returned or, if it has, the returning growth has been speedily cured.

New York state has an old and well established cancer institute at Buffalo. Dr. B. F. Schreiner has recently reported the results of treatment of 173 cases of lip cancer treated between 1914 and 1924. The cases treated in 1924 have been under observation five years since they were cured. Those treated prior to that time have been longer under observation. Most of these cases were treated either with X-rays or radium or both. The method of use has varied as a result of experience.

In 92 out of each one hundred cases the cancer was temporarily cured. It disappeared from the lip. However, that figure was too good to be true. Many of the cases were rather advanced and some had been badly neglected. Some day men may be alert minded and so intelligent that ninety per cent of the lip cancers may be cured and stay so, but that day has not yet arrived.

In this experience over 20 per cent of the growths returned. In 68 per cent of the cases, or more than two-thirds of the entire number, the treated patients were well for five to twelve years after the cure. A considerable number who had cancers return were cured by treatment the second time. Some have died from intercurrent diseases in no way related to cancer. These experiences prove the curability of lip cancer. It remains only for the patients and their doctors to apply the known facts.

Only four of these cases were females. None were Jews. Farmers and laborers predominated. Thirty-one remembered some hurt to the lip which they charged with being responsible. Six were burned with cigars, cigarets or hot glue. Fifteen cases were said to be due to blows on the lip, three to cuts with razor, and seven to cuts by teeth. Of the 173, 128 smoked a pipe or cigars or both, 13 smoked cigarets, and a few chewed tobacco. In one hundred and thirty-three the teeth were jagged and could easily cut the lips. In nearly every case the mouth was poorly kept.

The next field for the development of cancer control is the interior of the mouth and especially the gums and tongue.

MAY BE DUE TO PARASITE.

T. Y. writes:

1. A group of girls rented a cottage in the country and swam daily in a nearby lake. They broke out with an itchy rash much like a mosquito bite on the parts of their skin that the bathing suit did not cover. The beach was shallow and there were lots of reeds nearby. I would like to rent this cottage, but after their experience wonder if it is advisable. What would be the cause?

2. Does vinegar make an alkali ash?

3. Would baking-soda be good to stop a cold?

4. Would a swelling of the eyes in the morning and of the feet and legs at night be worth looking into if there is no indentation on pressure?

REPLY.

1. My guess is that the rash is due to a parasite. We had a story about this rash last summer. If you use this pond this summer you may expect to enjoy the same rash.

2. Yes.

3. It is used for that purpose by many people.

4. I think so.

QUININE AND MALARIA.

Mrs. F. A. C. writes:

1. Is there a cure for malaria? I have been taking a five grain quinine capsule every night since last November.

2. Is a roaring and thumping in the ears, which is very noticeable on hot days, due to the activity of these germs?

REPLY.

1. Yes. Quinine cures acute malaria. Plasmochin cures chronic malaria. Quinine, properly used, is also effective.

2. The roaring is due to the quinine. I suggest that you stop taking it. You appear to be suffering from the remedy rather than malaria.

WIRE FENCE TO END DUMPING.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Friend of the People.]—What can be done to end the disagreeable burning and dumping on vacant lot between 3548 and 3539 North Western avenue?
A. L. B.

Report is made that it has been suggested to the owner of the vacant lot that a wire fence be placed across the rear of lot to prevent further dumping thereon. Assurance has been given by him that he will be glad to coöperate with us in our efforts to stop this nuisance.
J. J. BUTLER,
Deputy Superintendent of Streets.

PROBATE PROCEEDINGS.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man died two years ago intestate. What process should the family pursue to secure title to his property?
B. M.

Probate proceedings are necessary in order to make a merchantable title to real estate. For this purpose you should employ an attorney.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TO VISIT CANADA.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—[Friend of the People.]—I came to the United States from Canada thirty years ago. Have never been naturalized. What would be my status now if I were to return to Canada on an extended visit or business trip and then seek readmission to the United States where I own a home and other property?
J. A. D.

From the facts stated you should not experience any difficulty in returning from a short visit to Canada inasmuch as you claim a continuous residence in the United States for thirty years. You should take with you on this trip documentary evidence of your continuous residence in this country.
S. D. SMITH,
District Director of Immigration.

YOU AND I.

Oh, I am as bad as you are,
And you are as good as I.
Laughter and sorrow in living,
Heaven—or hell!—when we die!
Toast and bacon for breakfast,
A new spring suit, or a hat,
A book of poems for beauty,
The chair where Washington sat!
The vase, and the yellow roses
Holding the sunlight—there—
Four stories up, and the city
Below on the streets—ah, pity
For swarming humans down there.

The same old drudge and new laughter,
The same bright blue of the sky!
Oh, I am as good as you are,
And you are as bad as I!

We'll Keep Up or Bust!

In our devoted efforts to make people culture-conscious, onion-conscious, and socks-conscious, we are also doing all we can towards the great mass movement of the day merger. We are encouraging mergers by merging our suspenders and belt. Why wear both? Up to date we have succeeded in cutting down our suspenders to a single gallus and tying the ends to the belt. But the next thing we want to get into is the three-shift work day. So after this we will run this here now Line in three shifts as follows: From midnight to 8 a. m., the dog watch, the Conductor of this Column of Calumny will be on the job; from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., the day watch, Shelby Little will be on the bridge; from 4 p. m. to 12 midnight, Hank will take the helm. Now that that's done we'll get into our rocking chairs and compete in the great Rocking Chair Marathon. It's hard to keep up with all the latest in cult and service, but, doggone it, we're doing our darndest.

ONE EYE CONNELLY called on the Line yesterday and thrilled one and all with strange recitals of how he crashed gates. And after he had gone the faithful guardian of our outer portal came in to say that One Eye Connelly was waiting outside to see us. No, sir, you just can't keep One Eye Connelly out.

MY FRIEND, MR. BAKER.

Phil Baker, the well known accordion squeezer, is a comic lad, even on his own time. Some of the things he's been up to recently are too funny for me to bear alone, so I'm going to let the neighbors in and cheat the Shuberts.

I was telling an experience of my brother Gene's, an incident that he claims is the shortest Parisian romance. A cocotte accosted him on the Rue Royale and the following colloquy took place:

Cocotte: "Allo."
Gene: "Allo."
Cocotte: "You like to come wiz me?"
Gene: "No, sank you."
Cocotte (incensed): "Go to 'ell!"
Gene (always a gentleman): "Goo'-by."

At the end of the story, which was received in respectful silence, Phil said: "I know what a cocotte is. A cocotte is something that Jewish people use to push their babies around."

• •

Sam Insull's rowdies had been making an excavation on North State street. Every day at 8:30 a. m. they beat a terrible tattoo on the asphalt with their pneumatic drills, making Phil's mornings very uneasy. At the end of the week, when the ditch was six feet deep and half a block long, Phil called me up and said: "Say, what the hell's going on? Did your little boy lose a ball?"

• •

Phil has a new kibitser story. A very intense pinochle game was in progress and a sallow gentleman standing behind one of the players kept going "Tsk! Tsk! Tsk!" This went on for an hour, until the player, infuriated, turned and said, "What's all this tsk, tsk, tsk business? What do you know about pinochle?" "Nothing." "Do you play pinochle?" "No." "Then what are you going tsk, tsk, tsk for?" "I was just thinking, I should have taken $400 for my Buick."
ERNEST BYFIELD.

A FRIEND of ours on the north shore complains bitterly because the drone of aeroplanes above his house makes him think a mosquito has jimmied its way through the screens and is charging around the house. Something has got to be done about this. The north shore mosquitoes are so big that maybe the best idea is to tie bells on their necks. Or what?

A Moan from the Twenty Per Cent.

"The decision of the judges," begins a bland statement in the September American Legion Monthly, "in the American Legion Monthly-Houghton-Mifflin company $25,000 prize war novel contest dividing the award between . . ." Now, we ask you, how does the American Legion Monthly get that way? We were a judge in that particular contest, but as Lady Macbeth said to King Duncan, thou canst not say we did it, never shake thy gory locks at us! We were agin both the novels, absolutely and positively, and said so emphatically. We didn't have but one small vote, and with five judges our vote only counted for 20%, but it hurts our feelings to have that 20% ignored. The next time the American Legion Monthly has an announcement to make we do hope they'll say the "decision of the majority of the judges." "The decision of the judges!" How do they get that way?

PREMONITION.

This day is like old brittle gold,
Breaking in my fingers,
And in the dark heart of yonder evening
There is a soft lipping
Of black water.
There is a thrust of sudden cold
In the quick wind, and pools of sun
Before it scatter,
As children, laughing, run
From hands that do not love them.
One brown leaf
Dryly skitters across the path.

WE WERE most surprised seeing that a man who played the piano for eighty-two hours at a stretch lived at Dusseldorf, in Germany. Why, the very idea! We thought he lived right across our street. And we thought he was a she.

WE WALKED right into a Chicago drug store yesterday and bought some aspirin and quinine! Think of it, aspirin and quinine! In a drug store. My dear, I cudda gone through the floor!

AND NOW they're simply worried stiff down in Washington about where Mr. Legge is going to sit at dinner parties. First, it was Mrs. Gann; and then it was the De Priests; next it was Mrs. Poindexter's butler, and now it's Mr. Legge. No wonder Mr. Hoover loves the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia. It's said to be quiet there.

CENTURIES OF RACIAL AND RELIGIOUS HATRED

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 27, 1864.

DES MOINES, Ia.—Reports of Indian depredations telegraphed you yesterday are correct. The Hon. Caleb Baldwin, in a letter from Council Bluffs to the governor, says the people all along the line of roads west and south of Fort Kearney have been murdered. The depredations are hourly becoming more extensive.

CHICAGO.—A peace meeting at Montezuma, Ia., has sent a message to the Democratic national convention that meets here day after tomorrow, that if an out and out peace platform is not adopted and candidates named to harmonize with such a platform, "we will see the platform, convention, and candidates in hell rather than vote for the candidates or to sustain the action of the convention." The resolution continues: "Any peace is more honorable than a dishonorable war."

CHICAGO.—The people, or that portion of them who train with the "hard fisted, hard handed, and hard headed Democracy," are coming to Chicago in great numbers for the Democratic national convention. They swarm around the entrances of the principal hotels like bees around a hive. It is a truth that would readily be admitted if our readers could visit the saloons, that the people who have come here are an eminently thirsty people. The drinking places are crowded and the price of drinks at fashionable places has "riz." Mint juleps and sherry cobblers sell for a quarter. This making Presidents is an expensive business. Friends of George B. McClellan claim a two-thirds majority for him on the first ballot.

CHICAGO.—A. Wilson and Miss Georgia K. Watts, both of Farmington, Ill., were married at Farmington by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, father of the bridegroom.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 27, 1899.

RENNES.—Today's session of the court martial on the whole was favorable to Dreyfus. Bertillon concluded his grotesque testimony on handwriting, and his charts, diagrams and drawings were much in evidence. He concluded his testimony by dramatically asserting: "Realizing the full responsibility of what I say, I affirm today, as in 1894, under oath, the bordereau is the work of the accused."

LONDON.—Sir Thomas Lipton sailed on the Campania from Liverpool for the United States. He expressed confidence the Shamrock will win the America's cup.

INDIANAPOLIS. — The Democratic convention renominated Thomas Taggart for mayor. The platform does not mention the silver question.

CHICAGO.—Downers Grove, by a vote of 383 to 229, decided that in the future licenses shall be issued for the peddling of beer within the village limits. The proposal was opposed by President P. C. Gallup of the town board and the church element.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 27, 1919.

WASHINGTON.—There will be no immediate strike of railroad shopmen as a result of the administration's announced policy to grant no general wage increases while endeavoring to drive down the abnormal cost of living. Union officials asked the 600,000 railroad shopmen to decide for themselves whether they should strike or coöperate in a general truce over wage disputes until normal living conditions are restored.

BERLIN.—Five million Germans have filed with the central bureau of immigration and its sixty-four substations applications for permission to leave the country. A majority of them are turning their eyes toward South America.

CHICAGO.—A deal has been closed involving the erection of a moving picture theater on the east side of State street, just south of Lake street, to cost around $1,300,000. It is said it will have a seating capacity of 5,000. It will be built by Balaban & Katz.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. Marquette A. Healy, 222 East Delaware place, announce the engagement of their sister, Miss Mary V. Healy of Lake Geneva, to Dr. Francis A. Georger of Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Healy is a daughter of the late P. J. Healy, one of the founders of Lyon & Healy.

THE SPOILS.

Chicago, Aug. 22. — Your editorial, "The Spoils," I am sure will receive much attention. It seems as if at last the world is willing to try to make good some of the monstrous wrong done to a highly cultivated people. About the war guilt lie, the German president, Von Hindenburg, in his speech at Tannenberg, on Sept. 18, 1927, made the following statement: "Germany is not responsible for the war. With a clean conscience we went out for the defense of our country and have wielded the sword with clean hands. Germany is ready at any time to prove this before any court of impartial judges."

Therefore, the allied refusal of allowing Germany to defend herself against the war guilt lie in a neutral court proves that not Germany, but the European allied powers, foremost France, Russia and Servia, were responsible for the war.

In October, 1922, at a sitting of the French chamber the famous French historian, Renauld, flung the words in Poincare's face: "You are the foremost grave digger of Europe! To you and your policy we owe the fact that French soil to the extent of over 600 kilometers has been turned into one huge grave yard."

The heavy reparations payments which the Germans have to pay for the next half century are truly the spoils of the victors who are committing the greatest robbery of all times.

The former Italian prime minister Nitti says in his book: "The result of the Paris peace conference is known sufficiently, but not so much the intrigues that have made the Versailles treaty the greatest fraud in the world's history. The most cunning trick of Clemenceau and his confederates has been to smuggle in under the cover of 'reparations' demands hideously unjust and quite contrary to Wilson's 14 points. The French have thus obtained means to do with Germany whatever they like."

In 1928 France used a billion marks of German "reparations payments" for military purposes and at present France intends to build a palace of French culture in New York at the tremendous cost of 50 million dollars. Without Germany's payments France would not be in position to waste her financial surplus in such ways.
OSCAR C. PFAUS.

GRAVE YARD SECURITY.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Mr. S. W. Ball in the Voice of the People deplores the fact that cemeteries are tax exempt and that cemetery associations profit thereby. Fields always look green at a distance. It takes unlimited funds to provide perpetual care and other very necessary expenses.

The real profits are made by people who buy lots in the newer cemeteries and hold them for a number of years. In one of the best cemeteries a $60 lot bought fifteen years ago would now be worth $1,700 and there is a reason for it; the constant death rate, the remarkable fast growth in population of the Chicago area; the limited burial space available, which at the present time is only half adequate for the present population, to say nothing of the future; the fact that cemetery styles are changing to memorial parks, and that available and suitable land for this purpose is very limited near the metropolitan Chicago area.

Most people wait till they need a lot and pay high prices, instead of buying early and getting choice lots that always have and always will increase in value anywhere from 12 to 125 per cent per year for a long period of time. The average increase in the value of lots in nine leading cemeteries, for lot owners, has been very close to 66 per cent per year for the last twelve years. I have been an insurance man and banker for the past fifteen years, but must admit that cemetery lots are not only a fine necessity but a paying investment. No taxes, no assessments and non-attachable for debt.
AN OBSERVER.

CEMETERY TAXES.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Property used exclusively for burial purposes is and ought to be exempt from taxation. But under the statute regulating the management of cemeteries, with the exception of the salary of the secretary, the paying out of any salaries, profits or dividends is prohibited evidently for the purpose of using the total income of the cemeteries for the ornamentation and perpetual care of the grounds.

However, except those that are being conducted by the different religious corporations, cemeteries are plain money making stock companies, paying big returns on the money invested in cemetery stock, such capital invested in Cook county alone running high into the millions. Why should this commercial enterprise evade its fair share of the public burden?
FRANK C. SOUHRADA.

ENFORCING THE WEED BILL.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—I was much impressed with the article in this morning's edition in regard to ragweed and hay fever.

The weed situation in Chicago should surely be taken seriously; all parts of the city are at the present time loaded with weeds from four to ten feet in height.

After returning from a visit to Portland, Ore., where a weed law is enforced, I wonder why Chicago tolerates weeds? In Portland every vacant lot is clean and free from high weeds. If the owner will not keep them cut the city puts a mower to work and the cost of the work is put on his tax bill, and I understand there are very few places where it is necessary for the city to do the cutting.

675 Sent to Prison in 7 Months, Figures Show.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Stanley Merrick, indecent liberties, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Almost twice as many prison sentences were imposed in Cook county during the seven months' period ending July 31, 1929, as in the same period in 1928. This was revealed yesterday by State's Attorney Swanson, who issued a statement which, in effect, compared the accomplishments of his stewardship with those of his predecessor, Robert E. Crowe.

According to Mr. Swanson's figures, a total of 675 persons were sent to the penitentiary between Jan. 1 and July 31, as compared with a total of 350 in the same period in 1928.

328 Sentenced to Pontiac.

"A marked increase was also shown in the number of sentences to the state reformatory at Pontiac," says the statement. "A total of 328 have been sent to Pontiac so far this year, while only 272 were sent there between Jan. 1 and July 31 last year."

The number of guilty verdicts won from juries also increased this year, the records showing 448, as compared with 189 for the first seven months of 1928, the statement points out. In addition, Mr. Swanson reveals that the number of indictments on hand Aug. 1 was only 1,199, while 1,754 were pending on Aug. 1, 1928.

2,810 Indictments Voted.

"During the present year [up to Aug. 1] the grand jury returned 2,810 indictments, while during the same time in 1928 a total of 2,685 were returned," the statement asserts.

Other figures compared in the statement are: House of correction sentences: 1929, 340; 1928, 370; county jail sentences: 1929, 54; 1928, 80; asylum: 1929, 12; 1928, 5; death sentences: 1929, 6; 1928, 1.

Tear Down Holden School Which Was Built in 1867

Workmen are razing the old Holden school building, erected in 1867, at 3055 South Loomis street. In 1893 the "new" building edition was built, which faces 31st street. The "new" building will remain, but on the site of the old building of the Holden school will arise a $450,000 structure which will include twelve classrooms, an assembly room, and a gymnasium for the accommodation of the elementary schools' 1,200 pupils.

MODERN WOODMEN'S INSURANCE BATTLE THROWN INTO COURT

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 26.—(AP)—District Judge J. A. Roeser today granted a temporary injunction against officers of the Modern Woodmen of America, a national fraternal order, restraining them from putting into effect increases in insurance rates recently voted.

Hearing was set for Oct. 1 when it will be decided whether the injunction shall be made permanent. The injunction action was brought by a number of petitioners represented by Dr. Henry Wuerzinger and his attorney, A. M. Gunn, both of Minneapolis.

The petitioners, who claim to represent more than 1,000,000 members of the organization, charge that officers of the organization are seeking to institute a change in insurance to old line policies while the charter of the organization provides only for fraternal insurance.

G. O. P. TARIFF IS NO EASY TARGET, DEMOCRATS FIND

Try in Vain to Map Out Attack.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Democrats of the senate finance committee appear to be finding difficulty in agreeing upon a program of opposition to the Republican tariff bill. The Democrats held another lengthy conference today but failed to reach any decisions as to particular duties. They will continue their conferences throughout the week with a view to the completion of a program by the time the senate resumes work Sept. 4.

It is understood that the Democrats are finding that defections from their ranks are probable in the case of many rate controversies. Many of the Democrats have home industries which they do not wish to disturb, even while joining with the other minority party members in attacks on the bill in general.

Majority to Report Tomorrow.

Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee, made it known during the day that he now expects to file the majority report on the bill with the senate on Wednesday in order to get the bill and report printed in advance of the opening of debate.

The senate held a perfunctory session today, the only action being the adoption of resolutions, out of respect to the memory of Senator L. D. Tyson [Dem., Tenn.], who died on Saturday, and the appointment of a committee to attend his funeral.

The senate adjourned until Wednesday, at which time adjournment will be taken until Saturday. The next session thereafter will be Wednesday, Sept. 4, when a quorum will be present and work will be resumed in earnest.

The question of enactment of the tariff bill into law in advance of the regular December session is receiving considerable attention from both Republicans and Democrats. It is understood that President Hoover will do everything possible to have the legislation disposed of not later than November.

Postponement Talked Of.

A threat by Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], majority leader, to force postponement of further tariff consideration for one year if the bill is not out of the way by Jan. 1, is being interpreted by the Democrats as meaning that the Republicans are becoming afraid of their own bill and want to delay its enactment until after the 1930 elections.

The Republicans admit that they do not care to be forced to make a campaign without sufficient time to prove that the effect of the tariff bill will not be harmful.

Sees Tariff as Blow to Trade of U. S. with South America

The United States is building a wall of tariffs which makes it impossible for the principal republics of South America to deal on a reciprocal business basis with us and as a result our greatest future foreign market is slipping away from us into the hands of Great Britain and other European powers. This was the statement yesterday of E. M. Newman, traveler and lecturer, upon his return to Chicago from a three months' sojourn in South America.

Mr. Newman said that the United States in the last ten years had made great progress toward capturing South American business, that our business and the use of our products almost automatically grew there. But he added that an intense resentment against the United States has grown up there since President Hoover's good will tour.

Says Tariff Ruins Good Will.

"Our business had grown to great proportions when Mr. Hoover made his good will tour," the traveler said. "It was an excellent move on Mr. Hoover's part and at that time the good will towards the United States reached its height in South American countries.

"But since that trip this country has been setting up high tariffs on almost all the goods we rightfully ought to buy from South America and the good will has changed to resentment which is still growing.

"I ran into it all over the principal republics. They have been using our goods in preference to British or German or other goods. But they say to us: 'You want us to buy from you, but you make it impossible for us to sell to you. We cannot understand it.'

"The United States must guard the advantages she has gained in South America. Ten years ago Great Britain had almost everything. Now the British are so worried about our inroads on their business that they have appointed a commission to study the problem and to see how they can regain some of the trade they have lost to us.

"Ten years ago you would not see 100 automobiles on the streets of Puenos Aires or Rio de Janeiro. Now there are 28,000 cars registered in the former city and 18,000 in the latter, and 90 per cent of them are American cars.

American Goods Liked.

"I saw American goods of all sorts in these cities. One merchant told me that they have just started to wear American clothes. I saw some Chicago made suits in his window and walked in and asked him about them. foundation for the future."

"'They are new here he told me 'but our people like them. Every man whoy buys a suit sends five of his friends around to buy some.'

"Now we are raising tariff barriers which is losing us all that we have gained. We should adopt reciprocal tariffs."

Tammany Leader Pays $7,281 Customs Penalty

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Lewis Nixon, former public service commissioner and Tammany leader, called at the customs house today and paid $3,640 duty and a penalty of $7,281, on wearing apparel and other articles brought from Europe by Mr. Nixon and his wife Friday on the Cunarder Berengaria.

Chicago Police Arrest 3 Smuggled In from Canada

Three Czecho-Slovakians, who said they had paid an unidentified man $200 each to smuggle them from Canada into New York and bring them to Chicago in an automobile, were captured by the police at South Park way and 61st street and held for federal authorities. They are Martin Hanus, 27 years old; Andro Turcan, 24, and Tony Kolesta, 25. They said the man who had brought them to the city had left them in the automobile while he made a telephone call. He did not return.

The Gayest Cruise of All

Giant S.S. Noronic closes summer schedule with gala 7 Day Sail from Detroit to Duluth and return, starting

September 6th

SPECIAL RATE

$60 and up All Expense

PERHAPS because many congenial people have waited for this last gala cruise of the season; or because the weather is so bracing and the scenery so beautiful at this time of year — certain it is that the last cruise of the S.S. Noronic will be a memorable affair.

First port of call Sarnia, Canada, and a day ashore to play golf or enjoy the ship's picnic. On by moonlight through Huron's historic waters to the "Soo", where your ship passes the celebrated locks. The vast reaches of Lake Superior and you dock at Canada's Twin Cities, Port Arthur and Fort William. Here a day is spent in sightseeing with a "camp dinner" served among the sunlit pines of Chippewa Park. Duluth, last port of call outward bound, looms across the starboard bow at dawn. There is ample time to explore this city built upon a mountainous rock and to enjoy a thirty five mile motor trip through its beautiful residential districts.

Every evening there is dancing to an excellent orchestra. A masquerade party takes place the last night at sea. Never a dull moment on land or aboard ship. Long tramps around the decks to the stirring music of Bagpipe and Drums whet the appetite for wonderful meals. The "Noronic" is like a floating hotel. Book now for these seven glorious days.

DEAN ABBOTT TO AID U. S. BOARD STUDY OF CRIME

Laws and Foreign Born to Be Her Specialty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—University of Chicago experts, under the leadership of Prof. Edith Abbott, dean of the university's graduate school of social service administration, will conduct a study of the subject of criminal justice and the foreign born for the Hoover law enforcement commission, it was announced today.

Criminal justice and the foreign born is one of the eleven principal phases of the commission's investigation, and Dean Abbott was chosen, it was said at the commission's offices, because of her extensive research into both crime and immigration. Selection of the staff which will assist her will be left to Dean Abbott.

Former Chicago Statistician.

In 1914, Dean Abbott served as statistician for the Chicago city council crime committee and in 1921 she prepared a comprehensive statistical report for the Cook county jail survey.

She is a past chairman of the committee on probation of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology and is now chairman of the committee on crime of the Illinois state conference and vice chairman of the division on corrections of the national conference of social work. In 1925 she was a delegate to the international penitentiary congress in London.

Has Written Several Books.

Dean Abbott, who has written several books and papers on crime and immigration problems, was for three years chairman of the committee on scientific aspects of human migration for the social science research council and is a member of the executive committee of the International Conference of Association for the Protection of Migrants which has headquarters in Switzerland.

18 ROCK ON IN MARATHON, BUT ONE IS SEASICK

In spite of the heat all eighteen contestants of the rocking chair marathon kept their chairs on the move last night at Croation hall, 96th street and Commercial avenue, as they passed their 79th hour of the race. Clara Wagner, 21 years old, 8325 Kingston avenue, however, was beginning to feel a bit seasick, Promoter Newbould reported, though she was still in the race. Whether it was the hot day or a desire for something colorful during the monotony of the endless rocking, fancy bright striped and figured pajamas made their appearance among the contestants as a token of generosity from neighborhood merchants.

WOMAN WITH GUN GUARDS HOME FROM FEDERAL DRY AGENTS

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The announcement in a woman's steady voice that she would kill the first man who tried to enter her home at 8 Port drive, Gray Haven, this evening kept seven federal dry agents at bay for four hours, and the siege promises to continue.

Whether Marshal J. Morrish, druggist, and his wife had liquor in their boat, as the agents suspected, or sand for their children to play in, is an unanswered question, but Mrs. Morrish insists it was sand and is willing to back up her claim behind a large caliber gun. She convinced the officers that it would be just too bad for any one to try to force an entrance into her home.

A river patrol boat with three men had seen the Morrishes entering the channel leading to their boat house at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They pointed in after them. The Morrishes were first home, however. They drove their boat into its berth, locked the channel door, and ascended to upper living rooms by an inside stairway.

The federal men banged on the house door until Mrs. Morrish appeared, armed with a gun, and there was nothing shaky about the way she held it.

"This is our home," she said. "What's the idea of trying to force your way in."

The agents said they would watch the house until morning when a warrant would be secured.

NEW DEVICE AIDS GREEN CIVILIANS QUIT SUNKEN SUB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Aug. 26.—Ten persons escaped from the submarine F-17 at Spezia naval base from a depth of 18 feet in 48 seconds, less than five seconds apiece, in a test of the new "Belloni Basin."

The total operation, including closing the metal doors behind the escapes and opening the outer hatchway to let them into the tube which is part of the contrivance, required six minutes, which the Italians assert is several times quicker than the "latest fast American methods."

Novices Take Part.

Five of the ten men taking part in the experiment were civilians and were never so much as even in a submarine before and were utterly unacquainted with the contrivance invented by Commander Belloni. They were not provided with a diving bell or other apparatus, simply plunged into the water-filled escape tube, wriggling free from that and rising to the surface.

The operation is without danger to escaping persons and does not affect the interior of the submerged submarine.

Naval Experts Check Tests.

The other five taking part in the experiment were members of the crew and were provided with a Belloni "hood," which is a light weight diving apparatus. The test demonstrated that the speed of escape with the use of the hood is only slightly less than when it is not used.

The experiment was officially checked by the Italian submarine general staff, whose comment was that the Belloni contrivance will prove a remarkable boon to submarine crews.

ORDER AUTOPSY ON BABY; DENY GLYCERIN DEATH

Conflicting medical views were expressed yesterday at an inquest into the sudden death Sunday nigh of John Walsh, 2 years old, 5240 South Peoria street. Deputy Coroner Ray Conerty continued the inquest until Sept. 10, so that an autopsy could be made to determine whether death was caused by a dose of glycerin. Mrs. Anna Walsh, the boy's mother, testified she obtained the glycerin in mistake for castor oil at William F. Eggert's drug store at 5258 South Halsted street. Eggert admitted his error, but maintained the glycerin was no more harmful than castor oil. Dr. Meyer M. Marbel, who attended the child, testified the boy had been suffering from pneumonia, and might have died from hyperstatic pneumonia induced by the overdose of glycerin.

SELZ ESTATE OF $3,275,000 LEFT TO WIDOW, SONS

$50,000 Given to Charity by Manufacturer.

The will of J. Harry Selz, president of Selz, Schwab & Co., shoe manufacturers, was filed yesterday before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Horner. It leaves practically all of his estate of $3,275,000 to his widow and two children.

Under the will, $50,000 is to be distributed to charities selected by his family. The balance of the estate is to be held in trust until his younger son reaches his majority. At that time the estate is to be divided equally between his widow, Mrs. Bertha Austrian Selz, and the two sons, Frank E. and Austin.

Given $30,000 Yearly Income.

The will provides that Mrs. Selz shall receive an income of $30,000 annually until the division is made. The document was filed by the law firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt. It contains no other provisions. The attorneys announced that the charities to be benefited will be named after the estate is probated.

Mr. Selz died Aug. 11. He was 65 years old and had been confined in bed since last January with a heart ailment.

In Firm All His Life.

Mr. Selz had been identified all his life with the business founded by his father, Morris Selz, in 1871, and was active in the affairs of several other corporations. He was a director of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company. He was a member of the Union League, Midday, Standard, and the Lake Shore Country clubs.

Mr. Selz had a winter home at the Drake hotel. He was survived by two brothers, Emanuel F. and A. K. Selz, both officials of the shoe company, in addition to the immediate members of his family.

SIDNEY J. EUSON, FORMER THEATER OWNER, IS DEAD

Sidney J. Euson, who gave up his burlesque theater twenty years ago to become a Christian Science practitioner, died as he slept at his home, 1434 Carmen avenue, yesterday morning. He was active to the last, having been at his offices at 39 South State street the day before his death. He was 70 years old.

When Mr. Euson closed Euson's theater at Clark and Kinzie streets in 1909 it was one of the best known Chicago burlesque houses. He dropped out of the theatrical world, and when former associates found him practicing his new calling, he told them the theater business no longer held any interest for him.

Mr. Euson had been in the theatrical field since he was 16 years old. At one time he was with Forepaugh's circus. Later he was manager of Sam T. Jack's theater in Madison street for many years. He was part owner of this theater. Subsequently he opened his own house across the river.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel at 2701 North Clark street at 2 p. m. tomorrow. There will be Masonic services at Graceland cemetery chapel at 3 p. m. under the auspices of Covenant lodge, No. 256, A. F. & A. M.

INDICT FORMER NEW YORK STATE BANK EXAMINER

Charge He Got $25,000 from Bank.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Frank H. Warder was indicted on three counts today for the part he, as superintendent of banks, is alleged to have played in the $5,000,000 failure of the City Trust company.

FRANK H. WARDER.
[A. P. Photo.]

The most serious of the charges alleges that Warder received a gift of $25,000 from the late Francesco M. Ferrari, president of the City Trust until his death on Feb. 1, ten days before the complete collapse of the financial institution he had built up and then looted.

Now Out On $25,000 Bond.

Warder was not at the Criminal courts building when the grand jury handed the indictments. Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora announced that Warder's attorney had promised to produce the former banking department head at the Criminal courts building tomorrow for arraignment. Warder now is at liberty on a bond of $25,000.

There has been a great deal of testimony before Robert Moses, who investigated the crash as Moreland act commissioner, that Warder had taken many gifts of expensive furniture, rugs and payment of his rent from the banker. There also had been testimony of an employé of the bank that he had taken $10,000 on two separate occasions to the Warder apartment on Riverside drive and given it to Mrs. Warder, now deceased.

General Handy Man.

On Thursday Anthony di Paola, cashier of the City Trust, manager of its main office in Harlem, secretary of the board of directors, of which General Sessions Judge Francis X. Manusco was president, and general handy man for Ferrari, appeared at the office of Acting District Attorney Pecora and agreed to tell all of the details of the bank's failure. He was taken before the grand jury and today's indictment was the result.

It was while Warder was superintendent of banks that Ferrari was permitted to change his shaky private banking business to a state bank and later to a trust company. He was represented in the negotiations with the banking department by Edward J. Glynn, nephew of the then Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who was retained by Ferrari immediately after he passed the bar examination and while he still was on the pay roll of the banking department.

JULIA MULLIONS OF LAKE FOREST DIES IN FRANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAINT-JEAN-DE-LUZ, France, Aug. 26.—Julia Tolman Pickford Mullions, aged 23, daughter of Elmer Tolman, banker, of 38 S. Dearborn street and Lake Forest, died here last night after four days' illness from ptomaine poisoning.

Her mother was the former Mrs. Betty Tolman, now wife of William Warner, author, living at Cap d'Antibes.

Mrs. Mullions married William H. Pickford of Washington, D. C. on Jan. 9, 1927. Mr. Pickford died in Switzerland in July, 1928. She married John "Jock" Mullions, a New Yorker, in Paris last October. Since then the pair have resided in Jean les Pins. The body is arriving tomorrow in Paris, whence it will be sent to New York.

Miss Mexico in Prison Cell After Murdering Husband

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26.—[U. P.]—Maria Teresa de Landa, the "Miss Mexico" of 1928 at the Galveston beauty contest, who shot and killed her husband Sunday because of the disgrace she claimed he had brought upon her when he was placed on trial for bigamy, was in a prison cell today. The husband, Gen. Moises Vidal, was accused by his first wife of illegally marrying the beauty. Last week he was arrested. His first wife charged he was the father of her two children.

Poison in Their New Home Kills Three; Two Others Ill

Lufkin, Tex., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A poison found in a house into which they had just moved has caused the death of three children and the serious illness to two others near Apple Springs, Trinity county. The victims were children of Mrs. Margaret Rogers, a widow. The two still alive will recover, physicians believed today.

REV. DR. COLLINS FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The Rev. Dr. William Russell Collins, late rector of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church, Winchester avenue and Adams street, who died Sunday afternoon, will be buried from St. Paul's church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Presiding Bishop Rudolph of the Reformed Episcopal church of Philadelphia will officiate.

REV. COLLINS.

Dr. Collins succeeded Bishop Fallows as rector of St. Paul's. He was one of the first two graduates of the Reformed Episcopal seminary, Philadelphia, of which Bishop Rudolph is the president. Dr. Collins was 67 years old. He is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters. Interment will be made at New York.

H. S. Football Player, Injured in Practice, Dies

Raymond Venema, 16 years old, son of Maynard Venema, a printer, 1633 South 14th avenue, Maywood, a sophomore at the Proviso Township High school, died at his home yesterday of cancer, which developed following an injury to his right temple in May in the spring football practice. Venema suffered an injury to his head, but when he returned home the injury was rubbed and the pain stopped. Recently he became ill and a physician decided that the boy was suffering from a cancer.

Mrs. Martha Arter, 83, Dies; Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Martha Arter, 83 years old, died yesterday at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. Wills O. Nance, 7003 Clyde avenue, where she had lived for some time. Her death was attributed to a heart affliction, aggravated by heat-prostration last week. Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 5203 Lake Park avenue. Burial will be in Mount Greenwood cemetery.

M. E. Power Extension 'L' Executive, Funeral Today

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the chapel at 4141 Cottage Grove avenue for M. E. Power, for seventeen years a sales executive with the La Salle Extension university. Mr. Power, who was 70 years old, died on Saturday of injuries received in an automobile accident. He was a member of the Chicago Sales Managers and Executives club. His wife and three daughters survive.

11,000 ON SHIPS DELAYED; LACK U. S. INSPECTORS

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—That the boarding division of the immigration service at the port of New York is undermanned was revealed today when 13 liners, bringing 11,000 persons from Europe, arrived to find only 27 men available to examine passengers and crews for entry into the United States.

By noon ten large ships with a total of 4,980 passengers had passed to their piers and 22 of the 27 immigration inspectors available were working as rapidly as possible to clear them.

This left five men to handle the big Lloyd-Sabaudo liner Conte Biancamano, which came in from Mediterranean ports with a crew of 500 and 1,517 passengers. The Biancamano was not cleared until late tonight.

The customs inspection service, also short handed, is almost as badly off as the immigration service.

Normally, the immigration boarding service has a working force of 41 and even this number, Ellis Island officials admit, is insufficient to handle incoming passengers rapidly enough.

Today, however, vacations, illnesses and other causes cut the working force to 27.

"Jack the Ripper" Kills German Girls with Knife

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—The Duesseldorf district is alarmed by the "Jack the Ripper" who yesterday crowned a long series of murderous knife attacks by three murders in one day. All the victims were women, those yesterday being 6, 13, and 22 years old, respectively.

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing-aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 509-M, 180 North Michigan Blvd., Chicago, Ill., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the re-creation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. Send them your name and address today.—Advt.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Ambassador Dawes will celebrate his 64th birthday tomorrow and a section of the British press seizes the occasion to applaud his efforts with Prime Minister MacDonald to reach an accord in Anglo-American naval reductions and review the ground thus far cleared. There is a feeling here that a report will be issued soon from Washington and London and that, while it will define the main preliminaries already agreed upon, it will expose also for the first time those snags, or what Mr. MacDonald has described as "hard realities," which the negotiators are up against. The snags may be labeled parity and reduction, and the United States is pledged to both.

OPEN TRIAL OF 16 FOR DIXIE POLICE CHIEF'S MURDER

Labor Leader, Strikers Have Ten Attorneys.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—After preliminary legal skirmishes this morning, an enforced lull in the court battle for the lives and freedom of the 16 charged with the murder of the Gastonia police chief followed while the venire of 200 prospective jurymen was summoned.

Changed from Gastonia, where the defense feared it would not be able to obtain a fair trial, the case opened in the Mecklenberg county Superior court before Judge M. V. Barnhill, North Carolina's youngest jurist.

Selection of Jury Tomorrow.

Selection of the jury to try the labor leaders and strikers accused by the state of murdering O. F. Aderholt on the night of June 7, is to begin Wednesday.

The police chief was shot as he and four other policemen entered the tent colony near thee Loray mill in Gastonia to investigate reports of fighting there. He died the next day.

This morning's session was taken up largely with the presentation of motions by the defense and arguments before Judge Barnhill in support of them. Arthur Garfield Hayes of New York, chief counsel of the American Civil Liberties union, made most of the argument, taking the lead for the defense.

Defense Loses Two Motions.

Judge Barnhill, however, ruled decisively against two of the motions, refusing to quash the bills of indictment and also refusing to strike from the bills certain phrases which, to the defense, were objectionable. He heard them on the bill of particulars and ordered Solicitor John G. Carpenter to make the bill more specific as requested. On this he will hear further argument tomorrow morning.

It generally was predicted today that a week would be consumed in selection of the jury. The state will have 48 peremptory challenges and the defense 192. The state has four challenges for each defendant and the defense 12 each. It is possible another venire will have to be summoned.

The state aded another attorney today, Jake F. Newell, bringing the total to ten. The defense has nine attorneys.

NUDE CANADIAN SECT HOWLS AT LAND LAWS; POLICE ROUND UP 250

NELSON, B. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Rounded up by the provincial police, 250 Doukhobors, members of a religious sect, were camped beside the highway at Bonnington Hall, near here today. They had been frustrated in an attempt to march into Nelson bearing a banner denouncing the Canadian land laws and demanding the grant of an acreage on which to make a living. They demand no taxation.

Police expressed the belief that one of their motives in marching to Nelson was to protest against the arrest by one of their number in Grand Forks, B. C., on a charge of setting fire to a Doukhobor school.

Officers said the banner proclaimed that if their demands were not met, the Doukhobors would disrobe. Marching nude into a town is one of the Doukhobor's favorite methods of registering their objection of police activities within their colonies. The 250 were composed of women and children as well as men. The Doukhobors practice communism, believe that Christ was wholly human, and oppose rulers, priests, and churches. They have no marriage ceremonies.

PEACE SUCCEEDS MEXICAN "DIN," SAYS PORTES GIL

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26.—President Emilio Portes Gil on his return to the city gave out his first interview in several months.

He said he had seen everywhere the result of the government's policy to bring peace to Mexico through arranging the difficulties separating the parties, and among others, the settlement of the church question. He denied rumors and statements that he would make changes in his cabinet, saying he was satisfied with the members.

Several days ago the chief of police of Mexico City issued a notice that persons, circulating stories of probable revolutionary uprisings and general trouble for the government, would be arrested and punished as disturbers of the national peace.

When asked concerning these rumors, the president said the stories were most illogical with the church at peace, rebels surrendering in all parts of the country and returning to work, and commerce and trade extending into once turbulent regions. These sections, he said, are rapidly becoming peaceful and industrious, with towns, villages and rural communities dedicating themselves to the labor of building up the country.

"The government was never stronger than now," said the president, "because it has the good will of people of all classes except political troublemakers, who we always have with us."

The president was enthusiastic about his trip into the southern parts of Mexico, where he became greatly interested in the arts and trades of the Indians, survivals of pre-Columbian cultures. He declared he had formed a plan for establishing a permanent exposition of native arts and trades. He would encourage them as part of Mexico's precious heritage coming down today out of the Indian past.

Perfecting Business Methods

University training for business—twenty years ago a challenging idea—to-day a definitely established principle.

Extensive contacts with commerce and industry have resulted in the collection of business data, the analysis of business practices, the formulation of business policies, the development of a technique for adult instruction, and the perfecting of business methods.

Young men preparing for business, as well as those actually engaged in it, have approved this service since 1908.

Call Superior 4500, or write to Educational Adviser, care of the School, for bulletin describing the courses. REGISTRATION OPENS September 7, 1929.

HOOVER'S STAND KNOCKS LIES OUT OF SOVIET RADIO

Nanking Put Under Martial Law After Blast.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HARBIN, Manchuria, Aug. 26.—All newspapers here, Chinese, English, and Russian, yesterday featured on their front pages a cabled report from the CHICAGO TRIBUNE giving the exact status of President Hoover's efforts under the Kellogg pact to prevent the outbreak of war between China and soviet Russia.

Publication of the report served to disarm the anti-American propaganda prevailing here for several weeks.

Set Up U. S. Bogey.

The soviet radio station broadcasting programs from Khabarovsk, Siberia, every night has been telling the Chinese that America and France are plotting to set up an international commission with the purpose of seizing control of the Chinese Eastern railway. The soviet object has apparently been to frighten the Chinese into permitting the resumption of Russian control.

The white Russian newspapers here added to the confusion by publishing a report emanating from Shanghai alleging that President Hoover had approached nine powers with the proposal for the appointment of a commission for the purpose of investigating the Chinese-Russian crisis. The report claimed that the President had notified China and Russia immediately to open transportation on the Chinese Eastern railway, or otherwise America would act.

SHELL DUMP EXPLODES

BY EDGAR SNOW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26.—Martail law was proclaimed at Nanking, the national capital, today, following the explosion of the government's largest arsenals in the city. The initial detonation severely rocked the city and was followed by a series of small explosions lasting until noon time. At first there was a mild panic among the populace.

Large quantities of shells and bullets exploded and the bursts of flame were witnessed from all over the city. The arsenal fire soon spread to nearby buildings. Inadequate fire fighting equipment allowed the blaze to spread, but it is now believed to be under control.

It is impossible as yet to report on the loss of life which is said to have been small, but the property damage is estimated at $1,500,000.

Defective Shells Present.

A satisfactory explanation for the blast has not been advanced so far, except the usual assignment to communists. It is supposed that it was due to the extreme heat. It is also known that a consignment of defective shells were received yesterday from Hsuchowfu.

Although it was officialy reported from Nanking that the Chinese government has reached a decision to alter its policy regarding the basis of the Chinese-Soviet negotiations, Dr. C. T. Wang, minister of foreign affairs, prior to his departure from here for Nanking, denied knowledge of a change in attitude.

He added, "If there is no interference by a third party, Russia and China will soon reach an agreement. There is little fear of actual warfare."

There is an apparent lull in the Manchurian skirmishes, but the situation is kept alive by reports emanating from Marshal Chang Hsuehliang, warlord of Manchuria, today that the soviets are preparing to launch new attacks all along the frontier of eastern Outer Mongolia into Heilungkiang.

The Souks of Fez

Fez, with its many Mosques and Medersas, is the center of religious culture in western Islam. The Souks, or "shop lanes," all leading to a central Mosque, are often shaded with palm lattice which throws patterns of sunlight on the people passing through. One Souk is noted for its leather, another for its brass another for its rugs.

CUBS' 8TH INNING RALLY ROUTS REDS, 9 TO 5

LINCOLN FIELDS MEETING OPENS; MY DANDY WINS

Whips Martinique by Four Lengths.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The summer racing season of 30 days opened at Lincoln Fields yesterday with My Dandy, owned by the Reichert Brothers of Belleville, Ill., making a show of his field in the Olympia Fields handicap.

Running the mile in 1:37 3-5 just after a heavy shower had soaked the course, he beat former Senator Johnson N. Camden's Martinique by four lengths. The latter beat Typhoon from the Kenton Farm stable by a neck.

Flat Iron, running in the silks of Stuyvesant Peabody, president of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club, was fourth, but beaten 25 lengths by the three leaders. War Eagle, heavily backed, was 15 lengths behind Flat Iron and wound up in last place.

15,000 See Races.

My Dandy raced to his easy victory before a crowd of more than 15,000. The attendance was two thousand greater than on opening day at Lincoln Fields a year ago, Col. Matt J. Winn, president of the American Turf association and executive director of the Lincoln Fields course announced.

Every box in the clubhouse was occupied by persons prominent in Chicago's social and financial affairs. The Patio, new clubhouse for the general public, was the scene of one of the gayest crowds at the track. Even the persons in the clubhouse proper journeyed down to the new structure and joined in the promenade on the verandas and lawns of the Patio.

There are few more beautiful tracks than Lincoln Fields. It was never more picturesque than when the opening crowd reached the course yesterday.

My Dandy Pays $3.62.

My Dandy's victory was rolled up just as the son of Porte Drapeau-Scepter and Staff pleased. He jumped into the lead as the field left the Bahr gate in the mile chute. It was hardly a contest from there until the finish. At times he was six and eight lengths in front with those behind him all floundering.

Only in the final furlong did My Dandy ease up from the stiff pace he was making. But he was so far in front then that he couldn't have been beaten. Martinique and Typhoon staged a merry battle for the second end of the purse and Martinique got the decision in the last couple of strides. My Dandy was the odds on favorite and paid $3.62 in the mutuels.

The Reichert Brothers attempted to score a double when they sent Brown Wisdom, a 1 to 2 shot, into the Lincoln Highway purse, which was the second best race on the card. But V. Smith rode W. R. Coe's Aquaplane to victory by five lengths, with Eskimo second and Uluniu third. Brown Wisdom was ridden by Jockey C. E. Allen, who was restored to good standing during the day after a suspension at Hawthorne.

No Fault of Allen's.

When Brown Wisdom finished out of the money the crowd booed the boy. But it wasn't Allen's fault that Brown Wisdom lost. He rode the horse perhaps harder than any horse he ever tossed a leg over. But Brown Wisdom wouldn't run. He hasn't won a race since the Reichert Brothers bought him. And from the way he refused to extend himself yesterday it seems doubtful if he ever will win another.

The third best race on the opening program was the Thornton purse engaging a band of smart 2 year olds. Lahor from the Rancocas stable was the winner, beating Lightning Jones by a narrow margin. Lahor paid $13.50 and was lucky to get through on the inside where he saved enough ground to bring him the triumph. Lightning Jones hung on long enough to beat Camp Boss out of second money.

Alvos, owned by former Senator Camden, but running in the silks of Roscoe Gooes, was badly cut down in the race.

Helen Wills Wants a Rest From Tennis

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Having won the singles championships of France, England and the United States for the second year in succession, Helen Wills is ready for a rest from tennis. She said today that she would leave for her home in Berkeley, Calif., on Wednesday, stopping over in Chicago for a few days to break the trip.

Asked why she had decided not to compete in the national mixed doubles championship at Brookline, Mass., this week, Miss Wills said: "You know, I've been away from home for five months now. I'm anxious to get back to California."

At this time she has only one tennis engagement definitely on the program. She will compete with a team of Californians against the British Wightman cup team at San Francisco. She may enter the Southwest tournament at Los Angeles, as well, but has not yet definitely decided as to that.

The date of the tennis champion's coming marriage still is undetermined. "I'm not ready to announce that yet," she said.

PEBBLE BEACH JUST ONE MORE COURSE TO JONES

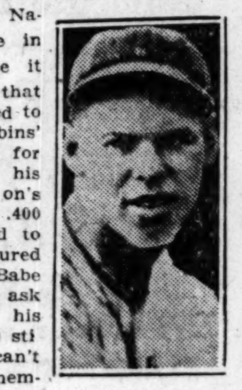
Del Monte, Cal., Aug. 26.—[U. P.]—Apparently without trying very hard, Robert Tyre Jones equaled the record for the Pebble Beach course, where he will defend his national amateur golf championship next week, in his first trip over the course late today.

Jones was playing in a foursome and turned in a card of 73, one over par. George Von Elm, Charles Black Jr., Atlanta, and Howard Hughes of Los Angeles, were his companions in his practice here.

The climax of the titleholder's performance was when he shot an eagle on the 555 yard fourteenth hole. He was on in two and dropped an eight foot putt for a three. Experts who followed him believe he will be able to shoot the course in 68 before the tournament ends.

Babe Herman to Demand $100,000 in Pay Envelope

New York, Aug 26.—[Special.]—Babe Herman, Brooklyn slugger, now leading the National league in hitting, made it known today that he is prepared to ask the Robins' management for $100,000 for his next season's work. The .400 hitter is said to have it figured this way: If Babe Ruth can ask $100,000 for his next season's stipend, why can't he? If a member of a Bronx team can expect that much compensation, why not a representative of Flatbush?



"BABE" HERMAN.

The answer may be that the McKeever-Ebbet interests can't begin to pay what Col. Ruppert with his prosperous Yankees can. The belief prevails that Herman will be lucky to get a quarter of what he plans to de-demand.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, the golfing mother from Kansas City, Mo., whizzed around the historic, rugged Mayfield Country club links today with record shattering golf to snatch medalist honors in the women's western championship from her arch rival, Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, by a single stroke.

Mrs. Hill, reigning champion of trans-Mississippi women golfers for the past two years, breezed over the 6,461 yard stretch in 77 strokes, going out in 41, one over par, and returning with an assortment of six birdies and four pars for 36. It was the first time during her seven years of championship winning that she has won a tournament medal, and the score was recognized as a new Mayfield record, as Miss Van Wie's 76 last year was shot from front tees.

Shows Perfect Iron Play.

Perfect iron play on the second nine holes netted Mrs. Hill her brilliant round, which equaled men's par on the water spliced, undulating course. Even on the 340 yard second, where she went over par for the first and last time, she saved herself from a damaging seven by laying a perfect niblick shot 75 yards to within two feet of the pin and getting a five.

Scores were high in today's qualifying round, however. In addition to Mrs. Hill and Miss Van Wie, only one other entrant, Mrs. Larry Nelson of Dayton, O., shattered par. Mrs. Nelson went out with a bad 43, but came back strong with 37 for an 80 and third place.

Virginia Wilson Shoots Par.

Virginia Wilson of Chicago, Canadian women's champion and runnerup in the women's Western last year, stroked along in even par 82, as did Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit champion. Mrs. Harry Pressler of Los Angeles, who is trying for her third straight championship, tied with Kathleen Wright, Los Angeles star, for next place with an 83. Other scores ranged upward to far above 100, and as a result 93 was good enough to land among the low 32 who will battle for Mrs. Pressler's title over the 18 holes match play route starting tomorrow. Three tied for thirty-second place with 94s and were forced to play off for the extra position.

Miss Van Wie, runner-up in the 1928 National tournament, shot good enough golf to win almost any tournament medal today. She clipped two strokes off par going out and coming home with her 38-40. She took a stroke over par on the first, tenth, and thirteenth holes and got five birdies and an eagle. The eagle came on the 370 yard 15th, an uphill drive, where she got a three because of a perfect drive, a long brassie shot, and a 20 foot putt.

Gets Eagle and 5 Birdies.

Mrs. Nelson had an erratic but nice round. She got one eagle—on the bottle-necked 400 yard fourteenth, with three strokes, and five birdies. Offsetting these good holes, she went over par on four holes.

Mrs. J. W. Herron of Akron defeated Jane Weiller, Wilmette, Ill., and Clara Stoer of Cleveland in the play-off for the last place among the qualifiers. Each shot a 94. Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago was second with a 78. Mrs. Weiller was the only one of 15 entrants from the Chicago district who failed to qualify.

In the Wake of the News

HELEN WILLS.

IN the Wightman cup international tennis matches Helen Wills was given a "hard" match by Betty Nuthall of England. Several eastern critics saw fit to express concern lest the world's premier woman player was "going back" as our sport vernacular has it.

At that time The Wake declined to become alarmed. In fact, we wished our golf game would go back the way Helen's tennis was going back, if any. Now Miss Wills has won the American national title for the sixth time. It was "the hardest final round since 1925," we are told. Mrs. Phoebe Watson of England, Helen's opponent, secured six games in two sets. That result is our idea of nothing to worry about so far as Miss Wills' prowess is concerned.

Of course, that time will come when Miss Wills' game will begin to fade or some new player will develop to a point where a match with the champion will be a contest rather than a foregone conclusion just as has happened to Big Bill Tilden. Miss Wills always has been known for her stroking rather than her court agility. In fact, in the attempted "goat-getting" when Suzanne-Helen rivalry was high before Mlle. Lenglen turned pro, Suzanne referred to Helen as "slow of foot." This remark did not particularly enhance international net amity, but it was, perhaps, relatively true.

Well, anyway, Miss Wills will appear at Skokie in an exhibition Thursday, stopping off on her return to her home in California. Mrs. Phoebe Watson, Betty Nuthall and the other English cup players will be at South Shore Country club next week. So The Wake will take a little peek for ourselves. Meantime we refuse any hysterics de-cause an opponent in a final round took six games in two sets from our national champion.

Old Lazy Day—II.

Old Lazy Day sat by the way
Beneath an oak tree by the fence . . .
You know, old Lady Summer Day . . .
Counting his money, thirty cents.

A fickle Wind beside him strayed,
Like humming bird he flipped that way,
And stopped a minute in the shade
To say "Hello, old Lazy Day."

"I saw you counting up your pence.
Have you enough to feed two crickets?"
Sighed Lazy Day: "Just thirty cents!
And oh, what price world series tickets?"

He put his fortune in his vest,
That labor done, he took a nap.
Old Lazy Day . . . a child at rest
Contented on Dame Nature's lap.

BECKA, MORGAN TIE FOR MEDAL IN CHICAGO JUNIOR

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Two lads who have played such successful tournament golf that it is a surprise to find they are still eligible to the Chicago district junior championship led the field in the qualifying round yesterday at Onwentsia. Charles Becka, semi-finalist in the Western junior, and Ralph Morgan of Park Ridge each scored 151 for the 36 holes.

The tournament, which supplants the Chicago open, drew a field of seventy boys. Big fellows wearing footballs on their watch chains and nearing their nineteenth birthdays to 12 year old Charles Strook Jr. of Maywood, played for places in the three flights of sixteen each.

Trains Future Greats.

Intended as a training ground for the future greats of Chicago golf, the tournament gave every evidence of being a success, as it took two rounds of 83 to qualify in the championship bracket of sixteen. The two subordinate flights demanded relatively as good scores. The highest to get into the first flight was 177 and nothing over 192 got into match play in the second flight.

Becka's two rounds were 36—39—75 and 39—37—76, while Morgan scored 38—40—78 and 37—36—73, his afternoon round being the lowest of the day. Tony Swantek of Briergate was next in line, two shots back of the twin medalists, with 76—77—153, and Dick Mullen of La Grange, former western junior champion, scored 76—79—155, and C. A. Hart of Evanston, 78—77—155.

Becka Has 19 Pars.

Becka had two birdies and eleven pars in his forenoon round. Among his slips were four three-put greens and two traps. In the afternoon he was less steady with two sixes on his card, though he dropped two birdies and sank a 12 foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 470 yard third hole. But he got only eight pars and took one more shot than on his morning round.

Morgan played the first seven holes in par, but got only six pars in the next eleven. He three-putted four greens and twice found traps for his morning total of 78. He played brilliantly in the afternoon, missing a six foot putt for an eagle on the first home but getting the birdie and following it with a par. He missed another eagle by an inch on the third, getting another birdie. A pitch into a trap on the fifth, a missed mashie niblick shot on the seventh and three putts on the ninth were his only other variations from par going out and his score totaled 37, one over par.

On the in nine he missed a short putt on the tenth but came back with a three on the 405 yard eleventh. He missed a tee shot on the twelfth, taking six, but after two pars dropped another birdie to put him even with par. Three putts on the sixteenth again put him over par and he finished with two pars for 36, again one over.

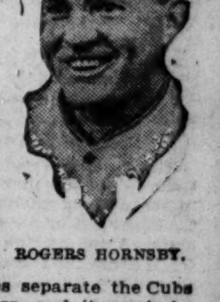
BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Same old story about those treasure hunting Cubs. They were quiet again yesterday until some 31,000 homecoming greeters gave up. Then the act changed. With the same punch that has withered hostile pitchers almost daily they tore away from a losing score in the eighth and, with the help of a trick homer by Norm McMillan, pounded seven runs across to whip the Reds by 9 to 5. Now thirteen and one-half games separate the Cubs from their pursuers, and it won't be long now.



ROGERS HORNSBY.

Prior to the rebellion in the eighth the entire show had been decidedly along Red lines. Except in the fourth, when the future titleholders accomplished enough to create a brief 2 to 2 tie, part of which had been contributed by Charley Tolson to mark his return to the majors, Eppa Rixey had southpawed them into distraction. And meanwhile Charley Root had suffered so extensively that when he finished in the eighth there were five runs and ten hits against his record.

Eppa Passes Out.

When Eppa the Patriarch went into the home eighth with his 5 to 2 lead he probably thought he was going to escape the hitting torrent for which the Cubs are famous and feared. When he walked a man to start this round he probably figured it an inconsequential item. In about one minute more he learned differently. A couple of hits rattled through the inner defense, so Eppa went away and Rube Ehrhardt strolled in to try his luck.

Ehrhardt was immediately recognized as a long lost cousin. Two more blows went booming through an atmosphere now laden with straw skimmers hurriedly discarded after a summer of faithful service. That much tied the score. Then there was a pass that jammed the bases, and finally a two base drive that became a funny homer because the ball scooted up the sleeve of Penner's jacket, which was on the ground in the bull pen. A searching party discovered the elusive bulb after the bases had been cleared.

Today it will be Fred Blake's turn.

The Attack Begins.

Now for the series of thrills that occurred in the course of the eighth inning riot of runs and hits. It started innocently enough with Rixey giving Taylor free passage. Moore was called in to serve as Taylor's runner. Stephenson batted for Root but bounced one only as far as the pitcher.

Then came the string of four successive hits. English drove a single to right and Moore raced home. Heathcote hit safely through the same spot and English dashed to third. That was enough for Rixey and he departed amid a fifty-fifty break of cheers and boos. Just what offense the big Virginian had committed wasn't made clear.

Ehrhardt came in and Hornsby welcomed him with a line single over short, English scoring. Not to be outdone by Hornsby, Old Hack slapped one to the same place and Heathcote ran home with the tying run.

The bases were filled on a pass to Cuyler and Tolson was next. He bounced to Ford whose throw forced Hornsby at the plate. Then McMillan drove the ball just inside third base. It was a double in any league. Swanson chased over to pick the ball out of the gutter near the Cub bullpen but was surprised to discover the object of his visit had vanished.

Meanwhile there were clouds of dust leading to the plate. Wilson, who was on third, hustled home. In his wake was Cuyler and following him was Tolson. Then McMillan, not caring whether they ever found the ball and hoping they wouldn't, rounded third and legged it for the plate with the seventh and last run of the inning. This was followed by singles off the bats of Pinch Hitters Moore and Stephenson but English bounced to the pitcher to end the orgy. Then Pat Malone stepped to the hill and set the Reds down three in a row in the ninth.

A Red run in the opening inning might have been avoided if Taylor hadn't committed a blunder at the plate. Swanson opened the fight by popping out and Dressen looped one of those flukey singles into short right. Walker followed with something more legitimate. He banged a double down the right field line. Heathcote captured the ball out in the neighborhood of the flag pole and whipped it to the plate in time to spoil Dressen's attempt to score, but Taylor failed to hold the ball. Then Kelly drew a pass and started for second after Taylor had gone to the stand for Allen's foul. Walker tried to sneak in from third as soon as Taylor heaved to second, but they caught him in a tight play at the plate.

Cubs Start Slowly.

The Reds' third session was almost a duplicate of the first and it let them add another run to their lean margin. Rixey, who at best is a terrible hitter, led off with a single between short and third. Swanson tapped to Root, whose throw to English forced Rixey at second, but Swanson moves so swiftly that there was no chance to double him up at first. Dressen survived on a pass. Walker ripped off a single to right, Swanson scoring and Dressen hiking to third. After Kelly had been demoted on strikes the Reds decided to attempt another twin burglary. Taylor threw to English, English whipped it back to Taylor, and Dressen was flagged at the plate.

Until the Cubs broke out with one of their usual sprees and tied it at 2 and 2 in the fourth they had done only a limited amount of business with Rixey. In three rounds they produced only two hits. Hornsby made things a bit different when, with one out in the fourth, he picked off a 3 to 1 pitch and sent No. 29 into the seats in right. Wilson figured on doing the same, but fanned in the attempt. Cuyler renewed the rally by singling to right and stealing for his thirty-second base of the season. A moment later Tolson bounced a single over second base and Cuyler ran home with the knotting run.

Reds Break Tie.

The deadlock apparently didn't meet with the fancy of the Reds. They stepped right out and clicked another pair of hits in the fifth, making the count 3 and 2. Sukeforth opened the chapter with a one base blow to right. Rixey returned to normal as a hitter and fanned. Root must have thrown one in Swanson's alley. Anyway the young speedster whacked it against the wall in left for two bases, Sukeforth scoring. Swanson immediately got overambitious. He tried to steal third and arrived there to find Taylor's throw in McMillan's hands. Dressen's pop up completed the inning.

After the Cubs tied the count in the fourth they didn't make another threat until the seventh. Cuyler tempted them to start something by leading off with his third single. Tolson came through with a bounder to deep short, but Pittenger stretched out for the ball, whipped it to second without even looking to get aim, and Ford whipped it along to first base to complete a double killing. Without this stop by Pitt there certainly would have been developments. The inning ended with McMillan bouncing to Rixey.

Reds Score Two in Eighth.

Three hits were employed by the Reds to score a pair in the eighth and increase their advantage to 5 against 2. Rixey led off by fanning. Swanson bounced one off the left field bleacher for a triple and raced home on Dressen's long fly to Cuyler in left. The next mishap was a double to the right field flag by Walker. Kelly then dribbled an apparently harmless roller toward third. It hopped past McMillan. English was behind him, but the ball hopped some more and went into short left for a single, Walker scoring.

LEONA FARMS DEFEATS ROVER POLO TEAM, 10-6

Of the Leona Farms goals Bob Bullock accounted for six, while Art Naylar of the same team and Barney Balding of Onwentsia made three each.

Capt. Naylor stated after the match that Leona Farms will start the same lineup as won yesterday in the Chicago eight goal championship tourney, starting tomorrow with two Onwentsia teams playing at Lake Forest and Oak Brook meeting Leona Farms on the latter's field. Lineup:

LEONA FARMS [10]		OWENTSIA ROVERS [6]
Beatty	No. 1	Gardner
Naylor	No. 2	Rader
Bullock	No. 3	Balding
Childers	Back	Featherstone

Night Hawks Hit Air Trail for the South

BY BOB BECKER.

Butternut Lake, Three Lakes, Wis., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The nighthawks are on their way. And when we say "on the way" a trip of something like 5,000 miles is meant, because this acrobatic flyer, whose zooming and side slipping in the air is familiar to thousands of bird lovers, figures on an aerial journey to South America, including Argentina, to spend the winter.

Every evening, after we have laid aside the fishing tackle up here in this beautiful lake and virgin timber country, we have taken time out to watch the flight of the nighthawks and the swallows. It is quite a spectacle and lasts about an hour. A few nights ago we were in the log cabin camp on the west shores of this lake when the show began around 6:30.

Although the magnificent virgin timber, with great basswoods, hard maples and birches with a scattering of hemlock and pine, presses close to the shore of both Butternut and Franklin, here at camp there is quite a clearing so we can look up and out across the lake. One minute the view showed nary a bird and then suddenly out of the forest came the flyers. There must have been at least 150 nighthawks in the air at one time—all darting and twisting on powerful wings, some high in the air, some low over the water, as they snapped at flying insects.

These birds are already migrating, although the insect hunt which we watched would seem to indicate that they are not traveling southward. However, the nighthawks are irregular migrants. They travel slowly by day, feeding as they move. In the morning possibly an hour and a half is the extent of their activity. In the evening they fly another hour or hour and a half. The total distance traveled in one day may not exceed 30 or 35 miles. Day after day they keep up this "feed as they fly" program in order to reach South America.

It May Interest You to Know That—

OUTFIELDER RIGGS STEPHENSON, who has been out of regular work for several days because of a groin pain, is going to return. His ailment will be taken care of later. He was examined yesterday and the doctor discovered a slight hernia. After the world's series the Alabaman will undergo an operation.

World's series ticket applications from those who believe the early bird gets the worm, are pouring into the Cubs' offices daily. As fast as received the requests are put back into an envelope and returned with a notation that no applications can be accepted until the seat sale actually opens.

Pitcher Horne, who was turned over to Los Angeles in the deal for Tolson, started for his new work shop last night. He found it pretty tough to leave a team that is about to clinch a pennant. The boys probably will not forget him when the series melon is cut.

Hack Wilson likes to play the part of the big hard guy but they made a cake eater out of him before the game. A young lady dressed like the flag stepped to the plate and gave Hack the cake. At the same time Cliff Heathcote was presented with a pearl handled ukelele.

The Great Shires was among a number of the White Sox players present. After watching that eight inning explosion he said he was beginning to believe the stories he had read about the Cubs being pretty good country hitters.

The Cubs have compiled a lot of runs in the late innings recently. Last Saturday they beat the Phils by scoring eight times in the last three rounds. Two days before that they scored nine in the seventh and eighth against the same team. They won the second affair at Cincinnati Sunday with eight runs in the seventh. And then that explosion yesterday.

BUSHY GRAHAM GETS DECISION OVER GREGORIO

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Bushy Graham of Utica, N. Y., recognized by the Pennsylvania athletic commission as bantamweight champion, won the decision from Vidal Gregorio of Spain in a ten round battle tonight. Both were over the bantamweight limit, Graham scaling 120 and Gregorio 119.

HERRERA BEATS CHARLES.

DORFMAN WINS ON FOUL.

Phils' Rally Upsets Cards in 9th, 7 to 6

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Phillies cast cold water on the final eastern appearance of the St. Louis Cardinals today by rallying in the last two innings to score a 7 to 6 victory.

Trailing by 6 to 2 in the eighth, Davis came up as a pinch hitter and put the Phils back in the running by slamming a home run with two on base. Three singles in the ninth followed by a wild heave by Orsatti brought two more tallies for a Philadelphia triumph.

Claude Willoughby was hit freely in the early stages of the game and gave way in the ninth to Dailey, who got credit for the victory. Harold Haid went the route for the Cards but gave fourteen hits. Score:

PYLE'S TROUBLES PILE UP; THORPE SUES FOR $259

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A second complaint, charging theft of labor, was ordered filed today by City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix against C. C. Pyle, sports promoter, in connection with allegedly unpaid labor bills pending from his transcontinental foot race of a few weeks ago.

The complaint was signed by Jim Thorpe, famous Indian athlete, who charged that $259 due him in connection with the Pyle "bunion derby" had not been paid. Saturday a complaint charging Pyle with violation of the state labor laws was issued by Nix, following failure of the promoter to satisfy a $483 labor claim filed by Paul Hickman, leader of a troupe of actors.

SKATERS TO RACE FOR $500 PRIZE

Fourteen of the best of the roller skaters who competed in the recent world's championship at the Chicago stadium will clash tonight in a special 25-mile team race for a $500 purse, put up by Paddy Harmon, stadium president and promoter. They will comprise seven two-men teams who will race around the eight and one-half lap track 212½ times for the purse.

Roland Cioni, winner of the world's championship Harmon cup, by virtue of victories in four of the six championship races, will be in the race. He will be teamed with Vic Frasch, veteran Chicago skater.

Favorites Come Through in U. S. Doubles Net Tourney

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Flying from Newport to the sick bed of his mother in Sunapee, N. H., this morning Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle returned to Boston this afternoon by airplane to join William Tilden in winning their first match in the national doubles championship as the tournament started on the turf court of the Longwood Cricket club.

GEORGE LOTT.

In spite of the trying day he had gone through, Hunter showed no effects of the ordeal in his play, and with Tilden also in prime form the Davis cup veterans made an impressive start in their effort to regain the title they won in 1927 and failed to defend last year.

A. Baisley Sheridan, and Melvin Partridge, members of the New Rochelle Tennis club, were their opponents and three games were all that they were able to salvage from as may sets, the match going at 6-0, 6-0, 6-3.

Sixteen Teams Left.

Thirty-two teams were entered in the lists when Richard Bishop and Irving C. Wright launched the field on its way at the end of a last two hour struggle in which Junior Coen and Harris Coggeshall escaped defeat at the hands of George E. Abbot and Walter Weld, by the margin of a point in a 12-10 fifth set, all of the favored pairs were included among the sixteen survivors.

John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, Wimbledon champions and winners of the Davis cup inter-zone and challenge round matches; George M. Lott Jr., of Chicago, and John Doeg of Stanford, winners last week in the Newport doubles; Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J.; H. W. Austin and J. S. Olliff of England and Gregory Mangin of Georgetown and Norman Farquharson of Cambridge all came through without encountering any great difficulty, although Van Ryn and Allison, and Mangin and Farquharson were carried to four sets.

The young Wimbledon champions, who were beaten at Newport last week by Philip Neer of California and Bruce Barnes of Texas, are still in need of practice after their vacation in Maine but except for their uncertainty overhead, they were going along smoothly in defeating E. W. Feibleman of New York and J. Brooks Fenno of Boston at 6-3, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1.

Allison's in Form.

Van Ryn and Allison were at little over-anxious to make a good showing after their setback at Newport and there was not quite the complete understanding between them in their work up forward that usually exists. But after losing the third chapter they hit into an irresistible streak in the final set, and, with Allison getting in most of the telling blows as his volleys and smashes intercepted everything in sight at the net, they quickly dispatched their opponents.

Lott and Doeg gave a brillian account of themselves in defeating Neer and Barnes at 6-2, 6-1, 6-4 and on the strength of this showing they loom as fully as strong a team as were Lott and John Hennessey last year when they won the tournament.

MIKE MANDELL, MADEY MEET ON GRIFFITH CARD

Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City, Ia., heavyweight, who is now making Chicago his home, and Big Boy Peterson of New Orleans, who meet in the main event of Promoter Mique Malloy's boxing show at Mills stadium Thursday night, resumed training yesterday. Griffith boxed six rounds at Kid Howard's gymnasium and Peterson worked four rounds at Barry's gym.

Niemzowitsch of Denmark Wins Chess Championship

CARLSBAD, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 26.—(AP)—M. Niemzowitsch of Denmark tonight won the international chess masters' tournament by defeating Dr. Tartakower of France. M. Niemzowitsch's score was 15 after his victory against 14½ each for Jose R. Capablanca of Cuba and Rudolf Spielmann of Austria.

Hornsby Gains 3 Points; Raises Averages to .362

With only two members of the Big Six scheduled to play yesterday, it developed upon Rogers Hornsby to uphold the honor of the organization and he did. The Rajah went to bat four times against Cincinnati and hit a home run, a double and a single. His net gain in the batting averages was three points, lifting his mark to .362. Chuck Klein failed to hit in three attempts against St. Louis and dropped two points into a tie with Babe Ruth for the cellar post with a .352 mark. The standing:

Pola M'Elwyn Loses Race; Interference

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Interference in the final 50 yards cost the favorite, Pola McElwyn, the 2 year old trotting event on the grand circuit program here this afternoon. She won the first heat and lost the second to Margaret C. In the third heat Margaret C. tried to come through on the rail but Pola McElwyn worked her way over and cut her off.

Protest by Lon McDonald against the driving of Harry Stokes brought an investigation by the judges, after which they awarded the heat and race to Margaret C.

Walter Dear, oustanding trotting juvenile of the year, broke the season's mark for three year old trotters when he covered the first mile of the American horse breeder futurity in 2:03. The event was just a buggy ride for Walter Cox.

Refusal of the racing officials to consent to a three horse event forced the calling off of the 2:07 pace when it failed to fill. Peter McRae had some sturdy competition before he took the claiming trot from Guy Worthy, the favorite.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton, who is estimated to have spent more than $1,000,000 in his unsuccessful attempts to wrest the America's cup from the United States, sails tomorrow for New York to inspect the course at Newport where the next race will take place.

He divulged that the new Shamrock now under construction will be more seaworthy than his previous racers and that the designers expected it to develop more speed than any other sailing vessel yet constructed.

GREENSKEEPERS CONDUCT CLINIC AND PLAY GOLF

J. H. Kincaid's 77 Leads Committeemen.

Modern methods in golf course maintenance were described to 300 greenskeepers, greens committeemen and professionals from Chicago and other central states clubs at the new turf experimental station of the United States Golf association greens section at the A. D. Lasker private course five miles west of Lake Forest yesterday.

In the afternoon 170 of the guardians of the greens got out their clubs and tried out several of the innovations in good use on the beautiful Lasker course.

McPhail Tops Greenskeepers.

Don McPhail of University and C. Becker of Beverly set the pace for the greenskeepers, finishing with 78 strokes. Four tied for low net.

J. H. Kincaid of Rolling Green was low gross winner among the committeemen with a 77, while W. L. Reisner, 92—23—69, also of Rolling Green, and William Roloff, 88—19—69, of Glendale, tied for low net.

Lou M. Miller, professional at the Maplewood Country club of Bloomington, was 2 over par with a 38—34—72 to achieve the best card of the day. Miller's score is among the best ever made over the heavily trapped course.

The clinical work in the morning was in charge of John Monteith Jr., of the U. S. G. A. research department at Washington, D. C., who, with the aid of the station's new experimental plats, explained the management of greens, the development of turf, control of weeds, disease, subsoils and characteristics of the various grasses. The United States Golf association, he explained has made a ten year agreement with Mr. Lasker to carry on experiments that will improve golf conditions in this section of the country.

New Ball Rolls Farther.

Variations in the speeding of putting surfaces, long a subject of debate among golfers, was explained by Monteith to be due more to the difference in care provided the greens, rather than a difference in the particular strain of bent.

With aid of a putting machine, he demonstrated his theory. Incidentally the demonstration provided an angle of interest to the golf fraternity at large. It showed that the larger sized golf ball, which will become standard next year, putts 6.89 per cent farther than the old ball. On downgrade putts it went 18 inches nearer the cup and on upgrade, 15 inches. A uniform stroke was provided by the putting machine.

Several new jockeys joined the Chicago colony for the Lincoln Fields opening. L. Pichon came from Saratoga, M. Knight, J. Kellum and Tony Greco were arrivals from Canada. Jockey Heinie Schutte who won the Golden Spurs at Hawthorne departed for Saratoga to ride the Audley farm horses shipped there by Trainer Kay Spence.

Stuyvesant Peabody, president of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club, entertained the members of the Midwick, Fort Leavenworth and Oak Brook polo teams at a luncheon in the clubhouse.

J. B. Ford, vice president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois lines, took out a party on his private car which was attached to one of the regular trains.

Former Senator Johnson N. Camden was among the visitors from Kentucky and was so impressed with the new Patio clubhouse he spent most of the afternoon down in that section with Dan Stewart and Roscoe Goose, who trains his horses.

Jack Dempsey, the new Chicago fistic promoter, was a guest of Col. Matt Winn. He was accompanied by Gene Normile from the Agua Caliente track in Mexico.

Jockey Carl Meyer was hit in the left eye with a flying clod while astride Make Believe in the first race. He was forced to cancel the remainder of yesterday's engagements.

Prince Pat Is Easy Winner of Dull Race

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—There was little excitement to the Burgomaster handicap, today's feature, in which the four starters ran in Indian file and finished in a quiet and sedate manner, without a whip being swung or a boot lifted.

Prince Pat, from the Three D's stock farm of W. T. Waggoner, was the winner by three lengths over Sunvire, owned by Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt. Ten lengths more and Sweet Verbena drifted over the line with Stick Around bringing up the rear. A more leisurely procession could hardly be imagined, but it was a hot, heavy day and this may have had something to do with it.

From a smooth, even break down in the mile chute the field ran with but one change. This was when Prince Pat went up in the first furlong from second place to take the lead from Sunvire. This 11 to 10 favorite fell back a notch with no show of virility, and Prince Pat continued on his way to the finish line to pay 8 to 5 to his supporters. He carried the top weight of 116 pounds and was conceding from 4 to 8 pounds to the others.

In the last fifty yards, Sweet Verbena got up to take the show money from Stick Around. Perhaps it would be better to say that Stick Around dropped back, for he had run above himself to stay third so long behind horses as fair as Prince Pat and Sunvire. The mile was run over a fast track in 1:39.

RYAN PRESENTS HIS GUESS ON BIG TEN SEASON

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—John J. Ryan of Milwaukee, assistant football coach at Northwestern university, predicted today before the Professional Men's club that Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan will be in the front rank among Big Ten football teams this fall. Divided into groups according to their estimated strength, the other teams would place as follows: Northwestern, Purdue, and Indiana in the second class; Ohio and Chicago in the third division.

Michigan will be the weakest of the four teams in the first division, Mr. Ryan said.

TWO GREAT OIL MERGERS ARE REPORTED NEAR

Deals Involve Over 1 1-3 Billions.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Two great oil mergers involving properties valued at more than $1,350,000,000 appeared in the offing yesterday. Consolidation of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company is virtually assured, while negotiations for a union of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company and the Prairie Oil and Gas company are going forward.

The Standard Oil stockholders will meet in Whiting, Ind., this afternoon to vote on increasing the capital stock from $375,000,000 to $450,000,000, or from 15,000,000 to 18,000,000 shares of $25 par value. They also will vote on the proposal to exchange seven shares of Standard Oil stock for six shares of Pan-American.

"The proposals are said to have the approval of the majority of Standard of Indiana stockholders and will undoubtedly be ratified at the meeting," a statement emanating from the Standard Oil offices last night said. "Meanwhile, letters received by the Indiana company from Pan-American stockholders indicate that a large percentage of them will welcome the exchange."

Already Holds Control.

Standard of Indiana already controls Pan-American through ownership of a majority of the latter's class A, or voting stock, which totals 1,000,000 shares of $50 par value. However, there are 2,422,041 class B shares outstanding, so that Standard of Indiana owns only 15 or 20 per cent of the total. It is for the purpose of effecting a complete merger that the exchange of stock will be offered.

The merger will make Standard of Indiana one of the largest factors in the oil industry. It now is one of the great refining and marketing companies, with a dominant position in the middle west. It owns the Midwest Refining company and holds a half interest in the Sinclair Pipe Line and Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing companies. It has total assets around $500,000,000.

Pan-American Petroleum is one of the chief producers of crude oil, with properties in this country, Mexico, and South America. It owns the Mexican Petroleum and Lago Oil and Transport companies. It has total assets around $240,000,000.

Negotiations for a merger of the Sinclair Consolidated and Prairie Oil companies are in a state of preliminary discussion, according to a statement made by Chairman Harry F. Sinclair yesterday. However, he added that "there are many obstacles to be overcome before any merger or purchase can take place."

"Engineers now are surveying the properties of both companies for valuation purposes," Mr. Sinclair said. "But properties valued at $600,000,000 and owned by 50,000 stockholders are not usually disposed of by a gentleman's agreement or without the consent of the owners. All that can be said now is that if a purchase or merger takes place, it will not be by absorption of Sinclair by any other company and that I have no intention of retiring from the oil business."

Total Assets.

So the statement intimates that Sinclair Consolidated plans to take over Prairie Oil and that Mr. Sinclair hopes to head the combination. The Sinclair company had total assets around $402,000,000 at the end of 1928, while Prairie Oil had assets around $131,000,000. The Sinclair organization is one of the largest oil concerns outside of the Standard group and is a complete unit, embracing oil and gas production, refining, and distributing. Its producing properties are located primarily in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Wyoming, and Louisiana. Prairie Oil is primarily a producer and dealer in crude oil. It has properties in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, and Wyoming, and operates extensive pipe lines, but has no refineries.

Obstacles to Rail Combines Are Outlined

BY SCRUTATOR.

Railroad consolidation plans are of such importance to the public that, despite the present condition of stalemate that seems to have been reached in plans of the biggest roads in the northeast part of the country, discussion of proposed mergers continues in and out of railroad circles.

The demand for consolidation under government auspices seems to be rather artificial, so far as the shippers are concerned. Also it appears that the combination proposals already advanced are doomed to failure for two reasons. One is that the big eastern railroads cannot agree among themselves on a division of smaller roads to make their systems. The second is that a number of the small roads' owners don't want to sell out to big holding companies.

Consolidation has been hanging fire since 1920. The transportation act required the interstate commerce commission to prepare a plan for the consolidation of all the roads in the country. One of a tentative nature was drawn up, but the commission has since asked to be relieved of the stupendous task. Congress has not, however, taken any action toward this relief.

Present Status.

The present status is roughly as follows: The Pennsylvania and New York Central systems, in the northeast territory, are already fairly complete. The aim of the Baltimore and Ohio system and the Chesapeake and Ohio system is to grow approximately as great as the other two giants. Each has presented a plan that is based on the idea that there should be in the territory involved a four system arrangement, each of the four having something like equality in tonnage and earnings.

A further complication has been added by the Wabash railroad, which has advanced a plea for permission to form a fifth big system. The Pennsylvania and the New York Central have not announced any plans they may have. However, the Pennsylvania has apparently gained financial control of Henry Ford's road, the D., T. & I., through the Pennroad corporation. This road, a big money maker for Ford through a combination of circumstances, was wanted by the Baltimore and Ohio.

Attitudes of Big, Small Roads.

There is here and in other instances evidence that the officials of the proposed consolidating roads are not able to agree on the division of small roads. Nor does it seem logical that the two biggest systems would be content to sit back and see rivals become as great. It would be to the advantage of the B. & O. and the C. & O. and the Wabash to expand into huge, closely knit organizations. Just where this would help the Pennsylvania and the New York Central is far from plain.

There comes, then, the second factor, the disinclination of little railroads to be gobbled up. The Baltimore and Ohio originally named the Monon as one it intended to incorporate in its system. President Kurrie of the Monon protested vigorously, as did the Southern and Louisville and Nashville, owners of the majority of Monon stock.

Another road which has made a protest about the way in which its name has been kicked about in the consolidation melee is the Toledo, Peoria and Western. George P. McNear Jr., president of the latter corporation, has forwarded to this office a copy of a letter sent to his patrons in answer to one that had been sent to them by the Wabash consolidators. The Wabash wishes to include his road in its program.

From Public Standpoint.

An extract from the letter follows:

"It is sufficient at this time to say that there is not the slightest foundation for the statement made on page 41 [of the Wabash application to the interstate commerce commission] that the stock of this company is understood to be in the hands of interests willing to sell on fair terms. . . . We do not feel it to be in the best interests of our patrons, our company or the community we serve to become a part of the Wabash or any other system."

From the public standpoint the only question at issue is whether consolidations with government approval and control would result in better and cheaper transportation. Natural combinations have been freely made in the past, but there is grave doubt that a small number of big railroad companies over the whole country would operate more efficiently and economically than many smaller ones.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE SURVEY

PENNSY, N. Y. C. ROADS REPORT SOARING INCOME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—The reports of the east's two major railroads—the Pennsylvania and the New York Central—for the month of July show very sharp advances in net income over the preceding month and over the same month last year.

For the Pennsylvania the net railway operating income for July was $13,858,510, which represents an increase of $4,142,413 over the same month last year. From Jan. 1 to July 31, the net railway operating income was $78,360,307, an increase of $17,884,147 for the corresponding period last year.

For the New York Central the July net was $6,119,606, an increase of $643,770 over the same month last year. For the seven months to July 31, the net was $37,367,094, an increase of $3,345,944. The ratio of operating expenses to gross revenues for July was 71.4 as compared with 75.7 for July, 1928, and for the seven months it was 75.6 as compared with 76.4 for the same period of 1928.

New York, Aug. 26.—Cash paid by stockholders of the Cuba Cane Sugar corporation in the exercise of subscription warrants received in connection with the reorganization of the company will be returned in full if the reorganization plan is not consummated, the reorganization committee stated today. Aug 30 has been set as the last day for deposits under the plan, while the last day for the exercise of subscription warrants is Sept. 6.

Wall St. Reports Involve Chase Bank in New Merger

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Wall street again today heard reports that the Chase National bank, which today merged with the National Park bank, is planning to merge the Bank of the United States, one of the oldest financial institutions in the city. Such a merger would give the Chase total resources of about $1,800,000,000, and bringing it closer to the leaders, the National City, with resources of more than $2,000,000,000, and the Guaranty Trust company, with nearly $2,000,000,000.

ANOTHER SEAT DIVIDEND HELD EXCHANGE PLAN

Stock and Grain Men Adopt Agreement.

Reports were current last night that the board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange will meet within a day or two for the purpose of declaring another "seat dividend," estimated at 100 per cent.

Last February the board recommended a membership dividend of eleven per cent, creating twenty-five new memberships and raising the total to 260. With the additional dividend the number of seats on the exchange will be increased to nearly 500. The highest price ever paid for a seat on the Chicago exchange was paid Saturday to Charles T. Atkinson, secretary of the organization for about twenty years. He received $110,000. After the increase goes into effect it is estimated that the price of memberships will be reduced approximately one-half to around $50,000. The present memberships have sold around this level within the last six months.

Seen Competitive Move.

La Salle street frequenters see in the reported increase in memberships a move towards stricter competition with the Board of Trade. In announcing its intention to trade in stocks, the Board of Trade has pointed out the usefulness of its far flung wire connections. It was believed the the stock exchange will seek a fuller complement of out of town members throughout the country. This would help build up a greater market for securities sold on the exchange, it was asserted.

While the reports of competition among the grain and stock exchanges were circulating, a working agreement between them designed to prevent a conflict when the Board of Trade begins trading in stocks on Sept. 16, was announced.

A working agreement between the Chicago Stock Exchange and the Board of Trade designed to prevent a conflict between the two when the Board of Trade begins trading in stocks on Sept. 16 was reached yesterday.

At the same time it was definitely pointed out by the Stock Exchange that the prospects for the merger of the two are still in the remote distance.

The movement of the Stock Exchange for peaceful relations with the Board of Trade is contained in a resolution passed by its board of governors instructing the listing committee not to consider any application for the listing of any security listed on the Board of Trade. This "order" is contingent upon whether the governors of the Board of Trade take similar action concerning the stocks listed on the Stock Exchange.

Appoint Joint Committee.

Action of a similar nature is expected to take place at the next meeting of the Board of Trade governing committee. In the meantime, a joint interlocking committee of four members from each organization will meet at intervals to work out problems that might develop between the two exchanges. R. Arthur Wood, president of the Stock Exchange, appointed four members to represent the exchange. They are: Robert J. Fischer, chairman, Wallace C. Winter, Sydney Gardiner and Harvey T. Hill.

That the Stock Exchange plans not to step down from its attitude of prohibiting members from holding a seat on the Board of Trade after Sept. 16 if the Board of Trade lists stocks traded in on the Stock Exchange is

Measuring the Utilities

Public utility companies generally possess certain inherent elements of stability, such as the public necessity for the services rendered, their favorable competitive position, the ever-widening application of utility services for industrial and home uses, and the normal increase in consumption due to the rapid growth of population. These factors are responsible in a large measure for the high investment position of public utility securities, but far-sighted investors are giving increasing recognition to those factors which make for continuing prosperity, such as character of territory served and future possibilities of growth, competence of management, financial stability and similar important influences on future earning power.

UTILITIES POWER & LIGHT CORPORATION furnishes, through subsidiaries, electric power for the entire city of Indianapolis and also serves gas in the entire city of St. Louis, in which electric service is also rendered. Besides furnishing utility services in these leading cities of the United States, the system also provides electric service in Birmingham, England's great industrial centre, and has substantial stock interests in a company supplying electricity in a portion of the city of London. Other Public Utility Systems controlled by the Utilities Power & Light Corporation operate in more than eight hundred cities and towns in the United States, the American subsidiaries serving more than half a million gas and/or electric customers.

With the continued prosperity of the United States clearly outlined, and the unlimited prospects for the development of the electric power and light industry in Great Britain, the future operations of the Utilities Power & Light System should meet with increasing success.

The Corporation's Common Stock is traded on the New York Curb Exchange and has been placed on an attractive dividend basis.

Strong Points Are Noted in Erratic N. Y. Curb Session

(New York curb list page 28.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—Trading was irregular on the curb market today despite unusual activity but there were many strong points, especially in the utility and oil groups with many industrial specialties advancing to new peaks. The investment trusts were divided in trend.

In the utility sections gains were led by American Super Power, Electric Bond and Share, American and Foreign Power warrants, and Rockland Light and Power, while Cities Service, United Light and Power B, Arkansas Natural Gas, American Commonwealth Power B, and International Super Power advanced to new high levels. Losses occurred in American Gas and Electric, Niagara Hudson Power, Houston Fuel Gas, United Gas, United Gas Improvement, and United Light & Power A.

Push Shares Higher.

The Mellon stocks—Aluminum company and Gulf Oil—and the Gianinni issue—trans-America—found favor and were pushed higher. Aluminum more than made up its last week's net loss of 10½ points, getting up to 480 on an advance of more than 19 points. Gulf rose more than 3; Trans-America, which declared a 150 per cent stock dividend, reached a new high above 156¼ on a rise of more than three points.

The Arkansas Natural Gas issues both scaled a new peak as did Cities Service. Their gains, however, were small.

The oils with the exception of Gulf encountered selling pressure. Standard Oil of Indiana scored a fractional gain but Continental Oil, Humble, Ohio, and Vacuum all worked lower.

Continues Climb.

National Investors continued its climb into new high ground, getting up to 243, an advance of 13 points but lost a large part of its gain in profit taking. Fourth National Investors, the third member of its group of investment trusts, was formally launched today. The Blue Ridge issues eased off a fraction on profit taking.

The mining stocks were quiet. Newmont sold off but Consolidated Copper was firm. A high was established by Anchor Post Fence. This stock has almost daily been advancing into new high ground. These securities of two British companies were admitted to trading: Newcastle and the Underground Electric Railways company of London.

New York, Aug. 26.—Traders who make a point of looking always on the bright side of things marketwise had a heavy storm of realizing to weather on the stock exchange today, but the demand was slightly in excess of the supply and the appearance of an advance was maintained.

The list was a pretty wobbly affair at the close, but the more substantial changes were on the plus side of the column, with a good proportion of the old line leaders showing stout and sustained resistance to selling pressure.

CHICAGO STOCK PRICES SAG OFF IN LATE TRADING

Gleaner Combine Harvester Down 5 Points.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Chicago stock prices became a bit soggy in late trading yesterday and the close revealed a peppering of net declines throughout the list, ranging from one to five points.

Gleaner Combine Harvester led the movement with a loss of five points to 138, and United Gas, which shot up five points on Saturday, finished the day three points lower.

There were a few exceptions in the general list and these included Yates Machine and Ground Gripper Shoe, which were up nearly two points. The movement in Yates was attributed to expectations of a favorable earnings statement to be issued in a few days. Ground Gripper reflected reports of increased business as a result of the physical completion of the acquisition of Cantiveler Shoe corporation, Crittenden Bootery company and Henne & Co., Inc., manufacturer of physical culture shoes.

Business Expands.

The company now has four factories in operation, a chain of 257 stores and 2,250 licensed agencies. The business is the outgrowth of activities of pioneer shoe builders in the orthopedic field dating back as far as 1853, and is designed to benefit from this grouping through central management and chain store methods of merchandising. The idea of this type of chain was developed by Norman K. Winston, who began by buying the Dr. Peter Kahler shoe business in 1918. Mr. Winston, now 35 years old, is chairman of the board of the corporation.

The utilities were mostly lower. On light trading Middle West Utilities was down 6½ points and Commonwealth Edison eased 3½. Insull Utilities Investments finished 1½ down while the second series preferred was off a point. Associated Telephone Utilities was active and ran contrary to the rule, closing up 1¼. Grigsby-Grunow was down 1½, while the remainder of the radios list was quiet.

Borg-Warner Up 2⅜.

Borg-Warner led the active shares in the automotive group with an advance of 2⅜. Bendix was down 1½ and Great Lakes Aircraft eased a point. Auburn Automobile sold up 4¾ on small sales.

Brown Fence and Wire "B" was down a point on light trading. The company reported net for the fiscal year ended June 30 of $624,930 after all charges and taxes, equal to $4.99 a share on the "A" stock and $2.50 a share on the "B" stock. This compares with $782,161 or 6.01 on the "A" stock and $3.76 a share on the "B" stock in the preceding fiscal period.

American Yvette advanced a major fraction in connection with the listing of the stock on the New York curb exchange. Butler Bros. also gained a fraction in reflection of a statement by Frank S. Cunningham, president, that the company will show a greater business volume and earnings capacity in the last half of this year than in the first six months when earning ran 4 per cent ahead of those for the same period of 1928.

Goldblatt Bros. was not traded in. The company announced the purchase of the merchandise stock and fixtures of five Green Dollar stores in Chicago and one in Decatur, Ill. It was not disclosed whether the company intends to operate the stores or dispose of the stock.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Cotton goods were firm and unchanged. Inquiry for late deliveries revealed strength of recently pegged print cloth values. Moderate to fair sales of print cloths, sheeting, drills were made. Fine goods were quiet. Cotton yarns in moderate demand and firm. Burlap futures situation was unchanged with spots and afloats easier. American Woolen company opening of men's wear suitings for spring 1930 at 2½@3 per cent decline from previous season interested wool goods markets. Trade in silk merchandise continued fair.

RAW SILK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—SILK—Raw futures closed steady; sales, 1,260 bales; August, $4.98; October, $4.94; December, $4.94. Open market quotations [sixty day basis], Shanghai steam, extra B, $4.90. Canton double extra A, 14@16s, $3.85; Japanese crack double extra, $5.10.

BANKS REDUCE STOCK LOANS, INVESTMENTS

Not only are the banks withdrawing funds from the stock markets in order to furnish more credit to business but they are finding it a good time to reduce their own investments. This is shown in the weekly statement of condition of the reporting federal reserve member banks, issued by the reserve board last night.

During the week ended Aug. 21, these banks reduced their loans on securities by $62,000,000, but increased other loans by $58,000,000, making the respective totals, $7,513,000,000 and $9,432,000,000. Compared with a year ago, loans on securities are up $768,000,000, while other loans are $421,000,000 higher. During the week investments were reduced by $23,000,000, now standing at $5,488,000,000, which also is $442,000,000 below a year ago.

During the week the banks reduced their borrowings at the reserve banks by $40,000,000 and the current total of $686,000,000 also is $112,000,000 below a year ago. Deposits of $19,798,000,000 show a decline of $127,000,000 for the week, but are $190,000,000 above a year ago.

June Income of 99 Phone Companies Is $22,081,563

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—June operating income of 99 telephone companies as reported to the interstate commerce commission aggregated $22,081,563, compared with $21,606,022 in June, 1928. For the first six months of the year the total was $137,624,982, against $128,645,121 in the corresponding period of 1928.

New Air Financing in July Totals $5,394,049

New York, Aug. 26 —(AP)— New financing of aviation enterprises in July totaled only $5,394,049, the smallest for any month since August, 1928. Will Place Curtiss-Wright Shares on $2 Basis: Hoyt

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—Richard F. Hoyt, board chairman of the Curtiss-Wright corporation said today that from the start it has been the intention of the organizers that old stockholders of the Wright company and Curtiss company shall not have any interruption in their dividends. It was for this purpose that the class A stock of the new corporation was issued, according to Mr. Hoyt, and it is the intention to place the stock on a regular yearly basis of $2 a share.

ANOTHER SEAT DIVIDEND HELD EXCHANGE PLAN

Stock and Grain Men Come to Agreement.

indicated in the formal statement concerning the action of yesterday's governors' meeting. The statement ends with a quotation from the constitution and bylaws of the exchange.

The rule provides that a member cannot, either through a partner or otherwise, be connected with another exchange or similar organization in the state of Illinois which permits dealings in the same securities listed on the Chicago exchange.

Liable to Fine.

It also provides that any member who directly or indirectly deals upon such an exchange shall be fined or suspended by the governing committee for sixty days and in case such a member shall not cease his connection and pay his fine within sixty days he shall be expelled from the exchange.

In the sale of his membership in the stock exchange it was revealed that Mr. Atkinson paid $2,500 for it in 1909. He has never traded on the floor and kept the membership to qualify for his position.

The rule making it compulsory for the secretary to be a member was changed by the governors in order that a new secretary can be secured should Mr. Atkinson resign.

Freight Container Service May Be Extended to West

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—Expansion of freight container services as far west as St. Louis between the Canadian line and the Potomac and Ohio rivers is planned by the United States Freight company, as a result of the report filed with the interstate commerce commission on Saturday.

The time of the expansion of the service depends on the establishment of rates by the railroads which will be used, and the report raises a question as to the justice of the rates which have already been established. The company now operates a container service within a radius of Boston, Cleveland, and Baltimore with New York as the hub.

English Sterling Rate Drops to New 1929 Low

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Foreign exchanges were irregular, with sterling again under pressure, the demand rate dropping to $4.84 3-16, the lowest of the year. Sterling cables, however, were fairly steady at $4.84 25-32, giving rise to rumors that it was being pegged to prevent further drain on London's gold supply.

Group Insurance in Force Approximates 8 Billions

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Group insurance, which really came into being about 1911, had increased to approximately $8,000,000,000 by Jan. 1 of this year, of which $1,915,000,000, or nearly one-fourth, was written in 1928. In 1911, $14,172,198 in group policies were written.

PHONE ISSUES AT NEW HIGHS IN BOND MART

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—Price changes were considerably wider than usual in the listed bond market today with several of the convertible issues scoring new highs for the year to date and a number of the railway issues moving substantially higher. However, a scattering of the infrequently traded rail bonds were a point or two net lower for the day.

American Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s and International Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s, which have been running neck and neck in prices for many weeks, were featured yesterday by a rise of 2⅜ points in the former, with the close 219¾ after touching a new high at 222½. The latter also reached a new peak at this same figure, but closed at 218, up 2½ points.

Ken-Rad Tube & Lamp.

A. A. A.—Ken-Rad Tube and Lamp corporation was incorporated Jan. 28, 1929, in Delaware, and acquired all of the capital stock of the Ken-Rad corporation (Kentucky) and the Kentucky Electric Lamp company. The corporation's subsidiaries manufacture radio tubes and incandescent electric lamps at plants located in Owensboro, Ky.

Capital stock consists of 175,000 shares class A common and 25,000 shares class B common, of which all the class B and 150,000 shares of the class A are outstanding.

Both classes of stock have voting privileges and share equally in the assets of the corporation on liquidation. No dividends of any kind may be paid on the class B stock. The latter, however, is convertible, share for share, into class A stock whenever the net income of the company for any fiscal year shall amount to $450,000 or more.

Consolidated net income of the Ken-Rad corporation and Kentucky Electric Lamp company was $347,010 for 1928, against $315,213 for 1927.

Based on 150,000 shares of class A stock, earnings in 1928 would have been equivalent to $2.31 per share.

Ken-Rad Tube and Lamp corporation reported business totaling $131,000 for July, 1929, as compared with $86,000 for July, 1928.

Dividends on the no par class A stock are being paid at the annual rate of $1.50 per share.

National Electric Power.

P. L. L.:—National Electric Power company reported net income of $4,792,328 for 1928, against $2,057,736 for 1927.

After dividends there was a surplus of $2,053,619, against a surplus of $1,703,536 for 1927.

Earnings in 1928 were equal to $37.93 per share on the preferred and $3.55 on the A and B common, against $4.67 on the preferred and $1.83 on the common A and B in 1927.

Dividends on the no par class A common are being paid at the annual rate of $1.80 per share.

The preferred stock is rather high grade.

United States Rubber.

H. A. G.—United States Rubber company 6½ per cent notes, due annually to March 1, 1940, are a direct obligation of the company, but are not secured by mortgage. The company agrees that no mortgage other than the first and refunding mortgage, dated Feb. 15, 1917, will be placed upon any of its properties or assets or its subsidiary companies' properties or assets, unless the notes of this issue then outstanding shall be secured equally and ratably with any other obligation secured under such new mortgage.

Consolidated earnings of the company and its subsidiaries for 1928 were 1.70 times interest charges, against 1.99 times in 1927.

These notes are somewhat speculative.

FORMER JOHN W. GATES RESIDENCE MAY BE FACTORY

National Kindergarten Is Seller.

BY AL CHASE.

Joseph P. Loftus, representing an undisclosed purchaser, took title yesterday to the former property of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college at 2938-44 South Michigan avenue. The buyer paid $63,000. The 174x178 site is improved with three buildings, one of which was at one time the residence of the late John W. Gates, famous millionaire stock market plunger. This house, his stables and another building were used for several years by the National Kindergarten and Elementary college prior to moving to their present campus in Evanston and Wilmette.

Although practically every one connected with the deal refused to comment on the transaction, it is understood that the new owner will take possession as soon as leases permit and remodel the property for manufacturing purposes. What is to be manufactured no one seems to know, or at least, wants to talk about it.

Synagogue for Hyde Park.

Congregation Anshe Dorem Beth Hamedrash Hagodol, now on the east side of Indiana avenue, just south of 51st street, has bought the fourteen room brick residence at the northeast corner of Greenwood and 64th, lot 63x164, for a reported $35,500. The building will be remodeled and used for religious purposes. Later on it will be torn down and a new synagogue erected. A. G. Mahony & Co. and B. F. Nicholson were brokers.

The Briggs Flower company, of which D. Papatony is owner, has sold the southwest corner of 63d street and Racine avenue, 66x125, improved with six one story stores, to C. L. Anderson. Harry A. Nichols was the only broker.

Greenwood-55th Corner Sold.

The stores and flats at the northeast corner of Greenwood avenue and East 55th street, lot 112x164, have been sold by Sam J. Cohen, Robert Lee Straus and Morris Bernstein to Gertrude Fried for an undisclosed consideration. Sonnenschein, Berkson, Luatmann & Levinson were attorneys.

William H. Nieder has signed a ten year lease on the store and basement at 752 East 63d street, from Tom and William Chamales. The lease starts May 1, 1930, and calls for a term rental of $50,100. The lessee already is occupying the premises.

Negotiate $700,000 Loan on New Catholic Hospital

The large hospital at 95th and California is again under construction after several weeks' delay in financing. The Sisters of the Little Company of Mary were unable to negotiate, through their financial connections in Chicago, a loan of the size required to complete the work of the first unit of the new project. Cardinal Mundelein notified Frank A. Mulholland, of the Eppig-Mulholland company, of these conditions and the latted negotiated a loan of $700,000 with the Bain banks. The first unit will cost a reported $1,500,000.

Fred W. Anderson Quits Active Work; Will Travel

Fred W. Anderson has resigned as vice president of Whiteside & Wentworth on account of poor health. He will spend a year or two in travel and other recreation. Mr. Anderson has been a director of the Chicago Real Estate board and at present is chairman of the house committee of that body.

Realtors Touch 90 Mark in Drive for 100 New Members

The Chicago Real Estate board announces that it has passed the ninety mark in applications for active membership in the recent drive to secure at least 100 new names in order that the reduced initiation fee of $50 may apply.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Cottonseed Oil was steady early today on covering and in sympathy with cotton but eased off under September liquidation and on the decline in lard. The close was steady at 1 to 8 points net decline. Sales, 13,400 barrels. Prime crude 7.62½c nominal; prime summer yellow spot 9.00c; Sept. closed 9.24c; Oct. 9.32c; Dec. 9.48c; Jan. 9.53c; March 9.69c.

Chicago Investors' Corporation

(A Delaware Corporation)

150,000 Shares $3 Convertible Preference Stock

Without par value; preferred as to assets in liquidation up to $55 per share; entitled to cumulative annual dividends at the rate of $3 per share, payable quarterly on the first days of March, June, September, and December; redeemable as a whole or in part at $65 per share on sixty days' notice.

Each share of Convertible Preference Stock will be convertible into one share of Common Stock with adjustment of cash dividends. The Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation will contain provisions designed to safeguard the conversion privilege against dilution. The conversion privilege on Preference Stock called for redemption will remain in force up to and including the day before the date of such redemption. The Convertible Preference Stock will have equal share voting rights with the Common Stock. Neither class of stock will have any pre-emptive rights to subscribe to future issues of stocks or other securities.

*280,000 shares reserved for conversion of the authorized and outstanding Preference Stock. The remaining 270,000 shares to be issued for such purposes and on such terms as the Directorate in its discretion may determine.

COMPANY: Chicago Investors' Corporation was incorporated under the laws of Delaware in August, 1927, to buy, sell, and trade in stocks and securities of any kind, to participate in underwritings and syndicates, and to engage in such other investment activities as its Board of Directors may determine. There are no restrictions on the investment authority of the Directorate within the broad provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation.

Coincident with the sale of these 150,000 shares of Convertible Preference Stock, the Corporation has offered 100,000 shares of Common Stock to the present common stockholders (which offering has been underwritten) and has sold 50,000 shares of Common Stock to Field, Glore & Co. The Corporation will receive from the entire financing approximately $9,975,000 in cash. This capital will be used to retire $1,000,000 of Prior Preferred Stock and to enlarge the scope of the Corporation's activities.

MANAGEMENT: The present officers and directors will continue to manage the Corporation's affairs.

some time during the day, but most of them were hit by waves of profit taking sooner or later and final prices were generally below the highs of the day, with early gains giving way to net losses in numerous instances. Nearly every group of the list came in for a turn of popular attention, giving the impression that public interest is broadening. Volume increased to about 4,420,000 shares.

Support for Bears.

Bear operators derived their chief support from a growing belief that the spell of easy money is nearing an end for the time being, and that the next day or two will see a general tightening up preparatory to month end settlements. However, the rate held at 7 per cent today and the supply was adequate enough to meet all requirements.

An encouraging feature of the day's price movements—from the bull viewpoint—was the high class character of stocks leading the advance. Unquestionably the ability of the highest grade stocks to go on to new high levels day after day, without anything approaching the unrestrained speculative activity of a year ago, has done much to preserve the market's reputation.

Best Group Showing.

The rails, coppers, and utilities made the best showing of the day as groups. American Telephone and International Telephone were the star individual performers, both reaching fresh high ground on large turnovers. Accumulation of International was particularly marked. American, in reaching a new peak of 303½ became the country's first corporation to show a market value for its common stock of 4 billion dollars.

Pacific coast utilities were again strong features in their corner of the market. Pacific Lighting had an advance of 5 points to account for its day's activity when the gong sounded on trading. American & Foreign Power advanced nearly 3 points.

A long list of rails moved up, many of them reaching new high levels. New York Central, Pennsylvania, Chicago & North Western, New Haven, B. & O. and Delaware & Hudson were in the van of the procession. Popular attention was directed to the rails by the fresh batch of earnings statements coming out during the forenoon. Six or seven of the roads figuring in the activity are expected to lift their dividends and at least two are preparing offerings of common stock involving valuable rights.

In one "run of the tape" involving a turnover of only 150 shares, stock of the Hocking Valley Railway company advanced 25 points. The stock, classified as an inactive issue, is infrequently traded in and only in odd lots. In today's flurry the stock sold at 525 on a ten-share transaction and then jumped to 550 on 140 additional shares, divided into six transactions. The largest block was fifty shares. The stock closed at 550, showing a net gain of 40 points. The transactions for the day involved 190 shares. There are only 110,000 shares of the stock outstanding. The road is controlled by the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Another rail stock which excited comment by its market action was Chicago & North Western which crossed 100 for the first time since 1919. It closed at 102, showing a net gain of 5¼ points.

Up Nearly 4 Points.

New York Central was up nearly 4 points at the close of trading. Various others of the division went ahead two to 4 points or more. The coppers came to life again to the tune of reports that another boost in the price of the red metal is in imminent prospect. Well informed members of the trade were inclined, however, to scout the idea. They feel that copper has had its fling with high prices and that the producers will do better to sell more metal at or near the 18 cent level than to let the market develop into a runaway affair again.

Although there is every prospect of a stiffer money rate before the week is out, the market apparently thinks there is no cause for more than passing attention to an ordinary month-end development.

REPORT RAINS CHECK DAMAGE TO CORN CROP

Prices Slump; Wheat Market Closes Lower.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Deterioration of the new corn crop has been checked by good rains over parts of Iowa, eastern Nebraska, and Missouri, and while there were many reports of considerable damage from other parts of the belt, the more favorable weather led to free selling of futures yesterday and a decline of 2¾@3c from Saturday's finish with fairly general local and commission house selling on the way down. Buying against bids, and support on resting orders caused a reaction from the inside figures, but net losses were 1¼@1½c.

Failure of export business to develop in wheat with weakness abroad increased bearish sentiment, but the market developed an oversold condition, and short covering brought a rally of over 2c from the early low with the close 1⅛@1⅜c lower. Oats were ½@¾c lower. Rye lost 1½@2⅛c in sympathy with wheat.

Iowa Gets Good Rain.

With the exception of southeastern Iowa that state was privately reported to have received an average of ½@1 inch of rain over the week-end, and the moisture is expected to put a damper on the damage reports that have been coming from there of late, although whether the crop will improve or not remains to be determined. The same applies to the rest of the belt, although in parts of Nebraska, Kansas, and Missouri irreparable loss has occurred according to recent returns. Receipts of 355 cars of cash corn and increased country offerings had considerable influence on the September delivery which dropped to 99⅞c before aggresive buying appeared.

A decrease of 1,306,000 bu in the visible supply brought the total down to 5,799,000 bu against 10,223,000 bu a year ago, while local corn stocks decreased 561,000 bu, and are only 999,000 bu against 8,803,000 bu in 1928.

Wheat in Sharp Rally.

Scattered liquidation was on in wheat early, and there was also free short selling by local operators, but the general trade was not large and the market rallied sharply as soon as the pit element started to reverse their position. The increase of 7,459,000 bu in the visible supply was somewhat less than the trade anticipated, although the total is 176,827,000 bu, a new record, against 84,140,000 bu last year.

Part of the buying on the break was said to be due to uncertainty as to what might transpire at the meeting of the farm board with coöperatives held here during the day. Liverpool was weak and 1¾@1⅞d lower with a very limited demand for parcels, and world's shipment of wheat direct to the United Kingdom. Nothing was heard regarding export demand at the seaboard. Cash houses were free buyers of September against sales of December at around 9c difference, absorbing the scattered liquidation in the September. Buenos Aires finished 2⅝@2⅞c lower.

Hedging pressure had a depressing effect on oats, with part of the sales absorbed by other cash interests. Commission houses bought December on scale orders. An increase of 6,011,000 bu in the visible supply was a surprise to the trade. Rye weakened with wheat and on scattered liquidation.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While there were some bids for hard winter wheat in the market at the gulf they were below sellers' views. No. 2 hard, Galveston, was quoted at 3½c under Chicago September for August loading and 2½c under for first half September, the latter being equal to about $1.29 on the basis of closing quotations. No. 4 Manitobas, f. o. b. Montreal, was quoted at about $1.52⅜. Local handlers sold 5,000 bu wheat; 71,000 bu corn, and 41,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

There was little change in the local spot wheat basis with No. 2 red, 4@4½c; No. 2 hard, 4½@5c, and No. 1 northern, 4½@5½c under September. Cash corn basis declined ½@¾c with No. 2 mixed, 1¼@1½c under; yellow, 1@1¼c under, and white, 1c under September. Basis on oats was unchanged to ½c lower with No. 2 white, 3¾@4¼c, and No. 3 white, 5@6½c under September.

FAIR BUYING OF COTTON

Cotton met fair general buying yesterday with weather conditions mainly bullish in the southwest, where rain is badly needed and the crop is deteriorating, while in the middle west there was fairly high temperatures favorable for the crop. Hedging sales were of moderate volume and the market had fair support.

Southern mills reported increased sales of goods and eastern interests made a fairly favorable showing as regards trade conditions, with the east reporting more interest of a general character.

Trade is moderately inclined to be bullish, but prices are kept within a moderate range. At the close futures in Chicago were 6 points higher to 9 points lower with other markets 4 to 17 points lower. Spots in New York were 5 points lower at 18.60c, with New Orleans 18.55c and spot sales 7,276 bales. Galveston was 18.50c and Houston 18.42c. Prices follow:

UNLOAD SEPTEMBER LARD

September lard was offered freely yesterday by holders and taken by packing interests, who are changing their spreads in deferred deliveries. One of the largest packers took the bulk of the offerings. There was fair buying of more deferred deliveries and prices receded and closed 12½@20c lower. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 6d lower. The big run of hogs here and in the west, exceeding recent weeks and last year, with a break of 10c in prices, stimulated selling of product and at the same time checked buying. Cash trade was fair.

Exports of lard for the week were 9,662,000 lbs, against 6,487,000 lbs last year. Of bacon there were 3,071,000 lbs, against 6,077,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

SHEEP—Western range lambs yesterday	$12.00@14.00
One month ago	12.50@13.50
One year ago	13.75@14.75
Top yesterday, $14.00; average $13.10.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 8,000 cattle; 26,000 hogs, and 21,000 sheep.

Hogs held steady at the opening yesterday, but broke 15@25c in midsession, with closing sales largely 25c under the general selling at the close of last week. Extreme top opened at $12.00, but later in the day best selections were quoted at $11.80. The general average price was forced down 20c at $10.50, the big proportion of packing grades in receipts helping to bring average costs down.

The relatively high position of the Chicago hog market made larger houses bearish and closing sales were lowest of the day, with 8,000 still in the pens.

Adds to Weakness.

An advance estimate of 26,000 for today added to the weakness late. Other nearby markets, usually in line with Chicago, reported tops from $11.50 to $11.65. Low western markets sold top hogs at $11.00.

Cattle prices scored a "come back" yesterday on smaller receipts, some medium classes that suffered sharpest on the recent break, scoring gains of as much as 25@50c on the bulge. A string of 1,126 lb steers and 40 averaging 1,375 lbs, reached the $17.00 line, while more cattle sold at $16.00 and above. The bulk of sales, however, is still 50c to $1.00 below a week ago.

Butcher stock sold steady at the recent decline. Calves were unchanged. Stockers and feeders were more plentiful and demand slow at recent price cuts. About 5,500 western range cattle arrived, the largest supply of the season from range states, and partly offset the big decrease in the supply of natives.

Lambs Hold at $14.00.

The market for fat lambs held steady yesterday, top natives reaching $14.00, with western range stock selling upwards to $13.85. The decrease in westerns was offset by an increase from native states, the total supply standing about equal to a week ago.

Demand for feeding lambs continued good and with offerings smaller prices were strong again. Best light weight feeders are quoted upwards to $13.50@13.75. Buyers from Maryland, Virginia, and New York are taking yearling ewes for breeding at $11.00@12.50. Aged sheep for slaughter ruled weak to 25c lower.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter was in good demand and prices 1c higher while fresh eggs were up ½c. Live spring chickens gained 1c. Other poultry was unchanged. Receipts by freight, 6 cars. Potatoes sold fairly despite hot weather and prices unchanged. Wisconsins brought $2.10@2.50, and Minnesotas $1.85@2.10 per 100 lbs. Receipts, 189 cars, with 310 cars on team track.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A good percentage of local pit traders are bearish on wheat and sell on all bulges. It is said that there is comparatively little short selling outside of the pit, as traders are afraid of strong interests taking hold and causing sharp advances. Elevator interests continue to buy September and sell December wheat at around 9 cents difference and there is buying of December and selling of May at 10 cents premium for the latter. Until delivery day is past and the movement of spring wheat in the northwest is over a nervous and unsettled market is expected.

"The long range view of the world's statistical position is anything but bearish and many excellent market judges feel that May wheat held for a long pull will show substantial profits," says S. C. Harris. "Our feeling is that a trading attitude should be pursued for the moment. Avoiding over-extension either way will probably result in the most satisfactory returns."

"The week ended Aug. 24 was exceeding dry everywhere and the area of drought was widened and intensified," says B. W. Snow of Bartlett Frazier Co. "Corn crop continues to suffer severely, especially west of the Missouri river."

BUTTER AND EGGS HIGHER

Stronger spot markets were reflected in higher prices for butter and egg futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange. Butter led the advance with the August gaining $96 per car, and closing ½c higher at 42½c, while the December was ⅛c higher at 44½c. Storage figures were bearish, but had little effect. Sales were 36 cars, and receipts, 11,257 tubs. November eggs were ⅛c higher at 37¼c, the advance of ½c in the spot market and a gain of only 586 cases in the storage stock being a factor. Sales were 59 cars and receipts 14,935 cases.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw market was quiet today, and with buyers and sellers apart no sales were reported. Nearby sugars were offered at 3.83c, but refiners showed no interest above 3.77c. The feature in futures was the evening up in September in advance of first notice day tomorrow. Prices were irregular throughout and closed at the lowest and from 1@3 points below the previous close. The volume of business was not large, and of the total transactions of 52,250 tons fully half were in the form of exchanges from the September to later positions. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
September	1.99	2.00	1.97	1.97	2.00
December	2.11	2.12	2.10	2.10	2.12

July	2.36	2.36	2.35	2.35	2.36

Refined was unchanged, with listings at 5.50c and seconds available around 5.20@5.25c. Demand was moderate and supplied through second hands.

Security Salesmen

Men experienced in the sale of high class securities are wanted immediately in connection with the offering of a listed stock, now being actively traded in on the Chicago Exchange on a basis which makes it the outstanding issue of the day.

The compensation is unusually liberal—a man who is mentally alert and who will follow instructions can make from $300 to $500 a week, while building a clientele of satisfied customers.

For personal interview, call between 10 and 12 A. M. at 6 N. Clark St. (third floor), and ask for Frederick S. Dudley.

The Steel was Right
the Heat was Wrong

There was a certain manufacturer who found his power take-off gear-sleeves too brittle for the service required of them and he attributed the fault to the steel being used.

The manufacturer now applies a certain lower temperature, recommended by this expert, and produces a gear-sleeve that withstands severe strain in a most satisfactory manner.

The same wide experience and sound advice of Interstate Metallurgists are available for your problems without cost or obligation.

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Capt. Beresford, a flyer, comes to the London residence of Jabez Malleron, well known amateur connoisseur of the arts, to report that another of the latter's pilots has been lost at sea. It is obvious that Beresford hates his chief, and has been blackmailed into his service. Malleron declares that since they are in such urgent need of another pilot they will rescue Douglas Harris, a famous one now in prison.

INSTALLMENT II.

ESCAPE.

At two o'clock on a breathless afternoon the gates of Dartmoor prison clanged behind a working party of convicts. Pushing a handcart containing their tools, they trudged slowly along the road in the merciless sun. Now and again one of them would glance at a passing party of pleasure seekers, but most of them kept their eyes on the ground as though they preferred to see nothing.

"Now, then, 271. I'm watching you."

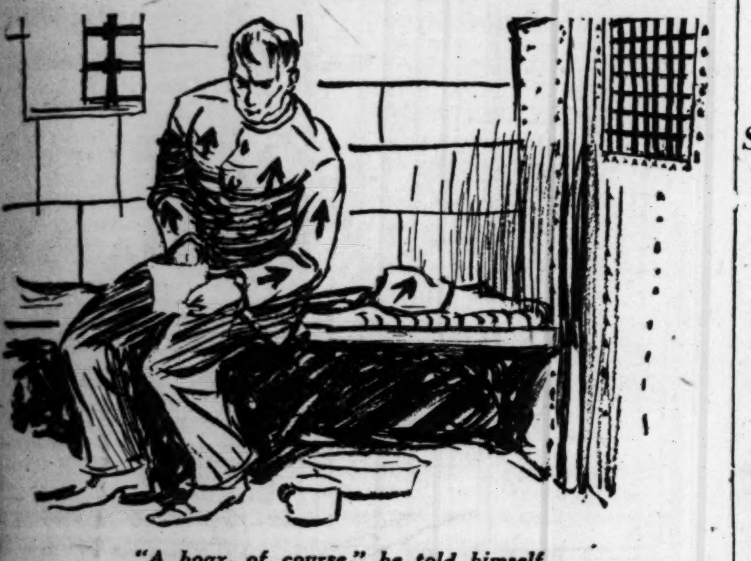
Convict 271 took no notice. He alone had no work mate. He was resting on his pick, and continued to rest. The sensitive hands that had helped build up his reputation as an aviator were limp and blistered with the unaccustomed toil. The once straight back stooped now, and the trim, athletic figure had coarsened. Now and again the shoulders would twitch as if from some nervous affection.

With a quick, convulsive movement he caught up the pick and for a moment stood poised on tiptoe. "O, you fool, you fool! You're going mad. You will really commit murder. Keep hold of yourself," he muttered. "D'you hear? Keep hold of yourself. Your nerve is going."

It was nerves that had driven him out of the star class and degraded him to the laboring gangs. He had picked up an offending warder like a baby, held him upside down for a moment, and then set him, unhurt, on his feet.



"A hoax, of course," he told himself.

"I nearly killed Spileman then. He probably has a wife and children. I've sunk pretty low. A pity I couldn't kill myself with this pick."

Again and again the pick fell, jarring the sensitive muscles. He had been working for three weeks on a tiny section of stone. Doubtless he would work at that same tiny section for weeks more, months, years.

Something on the stone caught his eye, near the spot where his pick had last struck. It was a small tobacco tin. Instantly in a hot rush came the craving for tobacco. For half an hour he worked steadily, his eye never leaving the tobacco tin. Then he judged it safe to make the attempt to pick it up. He stooped slowly. If Warder Spileman noticed, he said nothing.

That evening in the cell he opened the tin. To such an extent had his nerve been shattered that he burst into hysterical tears when he found that the box contained nothing but a roll of paper. One side of it was typewritten. The first word that caught his eye was the name under which he was known as a brilliant aviator.

"Dear Mr. Harris," he read. "Today as you were leaving the prison you may have noticed a furniture van bearing the name of the well known firm of Hartock. Did you also notice a special handrail fitted on the near side? That has been put there for your special benefit. Grab it when it passes you at the same time tomorrow—and leave the rest to us.

"As this letter may well fall into the hands of the authorities, it would be futile for me to sign it. The fact that you are reading this letter should prove to you that we are not without measures. Grab that rail tomorrow—and you will be a free man."

A hoax, of course, he told himself, as he carefully tore the letter into a thousand pieces.

A pretty heartless hoax, for it had set him thinking vividly of freedom—and that way lay madness. If he were free—if only for a day or two—he might contrive to see Cecily. Cecily was a part of the life that was wholly over—the life that had been blotted out of existence by Cora Sefton.

At that moment he could see Cora Sefton, as if with his physical eye, standing in the witness box, giving her deadly, perjured evidence against him. He remembered the infinite hatred in the smile she had given him. And the court, moved by her strange ethereal beauty, had thought she smiled in pity.

Cecily—Cora. In these two words lay the history of his tragedy. If he had not been so much in love with Cecily he might not have been so disgusted with Cora. He might, at least, have refused her favors more gently. It was on the day he had won the Tresman trophy at Southampton. It was a dangerous test—and before he went up he had decided he would write to Cecily. He remembered every word of the letter.

"Dearest Cecily. In a couple of days I am off to Africa, and shall not be back again, as you know, for some months. Before I go I wish to tell you a secret—as a preliminary to something else which you will find at the end of the letter. You know me as Douglas Dorling, an obscure country peer who has never actually taken his seat in the house of lords. I am something else, Cecily. I am also Douglas Harris—I felt rather a pig when you were raving about him the other day. Yes, I really can manage an airplane quite nicely, thank you.

"There is nothing really lurid in this 'double life' of mine. Briefly, I had a row with the dear old guv'nor while I was at Oxford. I came 'down,' then after a bit of training got employment with an aviation company, taking the name of my 'scout,' which chanced to be Harris. Then I happened to do one or two stunts that got in the papers. The guv'nor and I made it up long before he died, thank goodness. I told him what I had been doing, and the dear old boy was frightfully pleased. But he made me promise not to tell my mother—as you know, my brother Dennis was killed flying—and so we decided to stick to 'Harris' and treat it as a dark secret. I don't think any one now alive knows—except you. And the reason I'm telling you is——"

Convict 271 turned on his bed as fresh memories awoke. He had stopped writing, he remembered, in the middle of a sentence. Groping for the right words in which to tell her of his love. And then he had suddenly been wanted at the airdrome—and the letter had been unfinished. After he had won the trophy there had been a boisterous, merry evening, in the course of which he had found himself with Cora Sefton.

She was, he supposed, a wealthy, idle woman—one of the crowd of such women who always haunt an airdrome. He had taken her up once, and thereafter she had perpetually sought his society. He had struggled as long as he could against the conviction that she was in love with him. Finally, on that fatal night, it was she herself who made any further doubt on the point impossible.

"I'm frightfully sorry," he had faltered. "But, you see, I already—I——"

"O, I guessed you had some simpering miss in the background you'll marry some day. I'm not jealous of her. Is she as beautiful as I am?"

"I don't know. And a comparison is needless," he answered stiffly.

"Don't you like me—just the tiniest bit?" Her rich voice had been wheedling, yet utterly confident of success.

"I'm afraid not," he answered, coldly, whereupon she had sprung from him like an angry cat.

"You're the first man who has ever told me that," she hissed. "By heavens, I'll make you pay for it."

Chance had favored her insanely. She had made him pay that night. He had drifted with his party to a local night club—a tawdry little place, more stupid than sinful. Cora Sefton was there but took no notice of him. Then came the police raid and the lights were put out. In the subsequent scramble he was separated from his party, slipped out by a back way, and returned alone to his hotel.

The next morning he learned that a plain clothes policeman had been struck by a bottle and died of his injuries. Cora, it was, who had sworn she had seen him strike the blow while he was taking her home. One arm of his, she swore, was about her waist when the blow was struck.

As Douglas Harris he was charged. As Douglas Harris, since his true identity could not save him, he was convicted.

He spent the night, wide eyed, reliving the scenes of the past. He did not think of the strange letter again until he was being marched with the gang through the gates of the prison. Then came the savage passion for freedom, the sickening fear that the van would not appear.

The van came up behind them, and he decided to let it go. The driver sounded his horn. By some queer trick of the brain the horn seemed to galvanize him. Of a sudden he was intensely alive, aflame with the love of adventure. He sprang, caught the rail, and swung himself on to the van. Warder Spileman fired.

The Scrub	Harry Todd.
Sally	Mary Doran.
Mike	Sheldon Lewis.

By Mae Tinee.

Good morning!

"The River Woman" is an entertaining picture, well acted and directed. It is synchronized but doesn't talk.

The action revolves around the hostess of a levee dance and drink joint, the owner of the place who worships her and the laughing, honest young river boat sailor with whom she falls in love. A flood and a killing prove the active agents in bringing to the girl the things she secretly has yearned for, and cutting the cord that has bound her to the life at "Lefty's."

"The Duchess," as she is called, is adored by the habitues of the resort, but hated by a gang, one of whose members has gone to the penitentiary because of testimony she has given against him. The convict has promised faithfully to get even with her upon his release—which is due at the time the picture opens.

In general the film is honest, believable and exciting. Lionel Barrymore gives a convincing characterization of a rough egg, essentially decent and good at heart. Jacqueline Logan's portrayal of the same sort of human, feminine and plus much charm, is engaging. Charles Delaney does well with his rôle of an honest feller, who has his belief in Santa Claus shattered by the lady, pursues her to scoff and remains—to perform as the picture shall show you. Harry Todd is excellent as the joint's general utility and scrub man. Other parts are aptly handled including that of Ole Man River who certainly knows his stuff.

The Castle theater is small but it is well run and draws a nice class of people whom the management tries earnestly to please.

"HALF MARRIAGE."

Directed by William Cowen.
Presented at State-Lake.

THE CAST.

Judy Page	Olive Borden
Dick Carroll	Morgan Farley
Charles Turner	Ken Murray
Ann Turner	Ann Greenway
Tom Stribling	Anderson Lawler
Sally	Sally Blane
Mrs. Page	Hedda Hopper
George Page	Richard Tucker

KIND: Drama.

QUALITY: Inferior.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Okay.

DIRECTION: Not good.

ACTING: Olive Borden is utterly disappointing. Richard Tucker and Hedda Hopper struggle nobly with stupid situations. The day is only one quarter saved by Ken Murray who is a clever entertainer and almost succeeds in injecting some pep into this aimless and haphazard offering. Minor rôles are played—and that's about all you can say for them.

STORY: George Kibbe Turner wrote the original. In is about a rich girl and a poor boy who wed secretly, and the trials and tribulations attendant on their venture.

Widow of Vernon Booth Jr. Bride of Philip L. Dodge

St. John, N. B., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—A fashionable wedding was solemnized here this afternoon at Berwick Brae, the summer home of the bride's parents, David B. Forgan, Chicago banker and Mrs. Forgan where their daughter, widow of Vernon Booth Jr. of Chicago, became the bride of Philip Lyndon Dodge of New York, a member of the banking firm of Potter & Co. of that city. About 100 guests attended the ceremony. The bride's sister, Mrs. H. G. Freeman of New York, was matron of honor. Frank Dodge, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Dodge will go to Europe for their honeymoon.

Women Will Wear Sun-Tan to Party on New Year's Eve!

Wearing that summer sun-tan to next New Year's eve party was a problem that confronted the National Association of Cosmeticians and Hair Dressers yesterday.

At their opening of the tenth annual convention in the Hotel Sherman, it was predicted, however, that the sun imposed tints might continue until snow flies.

"Women have never before had such a surface to powder," declared Mrs. M. B. Gavran, Kansas City, president of the association. "One can't have sun-tanned arms without a sun-tanned neck and face. The women used to rush to the beauty parlor to get bleached, but it's a question this year if they will, due to the "sun craze."

The sun-tan fad has brought on the added excuse for the lipstick, Mrs. Gavran added. Brunettes, especially, require red lips for contrast, when their arms and shoulders reflect sun-tan, she said. She added:

"America's twenty million women of lipstick age—and that age we can safely say is from 14 to 64—will use enough lipsticks the coming year to paint all of Hollywood's bungalows and some more, too. As for using rouge, it will be lightly brushed on the cheeks, smoothed in as naturally as possible, and for good measure the tips of the ears will be touched—just behind the lobes and slightly to the front."

Those silver threads among the gold are no longer necessary, according to one exhibitor. If one sees old age creeping on in the mirror, merely take out the little box of paste colors similar to a child's paint box, and brush them over that obtrusive white streak. And presto—you're fifteen years younger.

Last night a comedy: "The Rejuvenation of Sal," was acted in which one of the latest style hair bobs, the "Lake Michigan breeze," was demonstrated. More than 500 beauty shop owners from over the country are in attendance.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Hope Elizabeth Hutchison, Lake City, Ia., was awarded $5.

The Question.

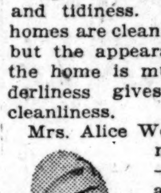
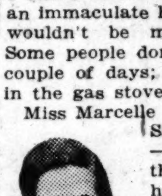
The Answers.

Miss May Mackinnon, 10427 Avenue F, South Chicago, nurse—I abhor the lack of system. System is one of the main things in housekeeping; this is recognizable as order and tidiness. Many homes are clean enough but the appearance of the home is muddled, not neat. Orderliness gives the impression of cleanliness.

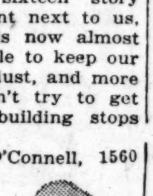


Mrs. Alice Wolfner, 9832 South Damon avenue, housewife—My pet peeve is cigaret ashes lying around in ash trays. The sight of them suggests their stale odor. I like to see a house in an orderly condition, but still not stiff. A paper here or a book there, slightly out of place, makes one feel comfortable and at home.

Mrs. John H. Cavanaugh, Medinah Athletic club, housewife—I will admit right straight that I am a very particular person; I want everything very, very neat and clean. If I didn't intend to keep an immaculate house I wouldn't be married. Some people don't wash dishes for a couple of days; they even hide them in the gas stove. Wonderful!



Miss Marcelle Miller, 1110 North La Salle street, secretary—Dust is the main thing that I dislike. I hate a house that is dusty. They are building a sixteen story apartment next to us, and it is now almost impossible to keep our house free from dust, dust, and more dust. In fact, we don't try to get rid of it until that building stops spreading it.



Miss Margaret F. O'Connell, 1560 Oak avenue, Evanston, Ill., school teacher—I like to see everything in order, the normal condition that bespeaks for the housewife a deft neatness. Such a house is attractive for the occupants, and such a one arouses the respect and admiration of the visitor.

Chicago Chief American City, Meissner Says

German State Secretary Attends Banquet.

Dr. Otto Meissner, secretary of state, for the German republic, left Chicago last night for Detroit with a parting compliment that Chicago is the most prosperous and progressive city in America. He added that the people of Germany know little of Chicago's exaggerated reputation for crime. Last night Dr. Meissner was guest of honor at a private dinner given at the Chicago club by W. E. Schiller of the German consular service. The guests included Dr. Paul Schwarz, also of the consular service, who is Dr. Meissner's companion; Rufus Dawes, Prof. Ernest Freund of the University of Chicago; E. J. Buffington, Dr. Walter Lichtenstein; Holmes Onderdonk; Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, Hermann Waldeck, and Dr. Hermann Schmid-Krutina, vice consul here.

Insisting that his mission in the United States is private, Dr. Meissner declined to comment on world affairs. He expressed his pleasure at the world girdling feat of the Graf Zeppelin. When asked for his comment on prohibition, Dr. Meissner chuckled and replied, "I like your American ginger ale very much. It is very refreshing."

Yesterday Dr. Meissner visited the Union Stock yards, as well as the Sears Roebuck plant, the Tribune Tower, the University of Chicago, and other points of interest. Sunday his party visited the home of former governor Frank O. Lowden at Sinissippi farm, Oregon, Ill., and later the country home of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, near Rockford, Ill.

After visiting in Washington Thursday and Friday, Dr. Meissner will depart for Germany Sept. 1.

Raeburn's "Lady Elibank" Sold for About $150,000

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Raeburn's portrait of Lady Elibank, painted about 1810, has been purchased in Scotland by the Ehrich galleries and soon will be brought to New York for resale. Harold Louis Ehrich, who announced the purchase, would not discuss the price but it was estimated at $150,000.

GAAR WILLIAMS

THEATER

NEXT WEEK'S bill-topper in the Palace will be William Harrison Dempsey, at one time a well-known and successful pugilist. He is announced to appear in a sketch, "The Roadside Razz," written for him by Willard Mack, who has devoted the last year to thinking up things for the sound-films.

George Grossmith has been brought from London by A. H. Woods to act the principal rôle in the German farce named "Hokus-Pokus." This is the rôle for which Mr. Woods sought to obtain Albert Carroll. . . . Mr. Grossmith is a son of the like-named actor who originated Ko-Ko, The Lord-Chancellor, and other comic rôles in the Gilbert-Sullivan pieces. He afterward came to this country as an "entertainer." Another son, Laurence, has acted successfully in this country in what used to be known as silly-ass rôles. He may be recalled in Chicago for his amusing performing in "Nobody Home!" Another Grossmith known here was Weedon, brother of the senior George: he was here with the late Rosina Vokes, and returned to take part in a costly failure called "The Night of the Party," a Cockney farce of his own writing.

Miss Helen MacKellar is to be the principal actress in Maurine Watkins' new piece, now named "Happy Ending." It may or may not be necessary again to identify Miss Watkins as the reporter for THE TRIBUNE who wrote the good, racy fun named "Chicago."

That Arthur Hopkins is about to stage a play named "Blow the Man Down!" has been told here. Now comes information that a sea-tale of like title is due on the book-stalls, and that the author is Thomas W. Broadhurst, who is a paid officer of the Theatrical Managers' Protective Association. One of the objects of the association is that each manager who joins it shall have protection against all the other managers who are members.

It is told that R. C. Sheriff, author of "Journey's End," will in all likelihood own an income of $10,000 a week in royalties from that play before the season ends. The immediate prospect is for three casts in England and three in this country. Of course, the estimate is based on the assumption that Mr. Sheriff made a good bargain when he turned his play over to professional producers.

Francis Wilson, not especially active since he and De Wolf Hopper were co-stars in an overstuffed revival of "Erminie," is this week having a go at the rôle of the First Gravedigger in a revival of "Hamlet" up in Skowhegan (Maine). Norman-Bel-Geddes has designed the settings and attire for the revival.

Miss Katharine Cornell is to make a tour in Mrs. Cecil Barnes' dramatization of Edith Wharton's good novel called "The Age of Innocence." She went through a New-York run in it last season.

"Mountain Fury" is the name of a new play dealing with life, love and the like in the Alleghenies. . . . And "Button! Button!" is the name of something else new.

The Provincetown Players, named for the Massachusetts hamlet where Eugene O'Neill's earlier plays were first exhibited, are taking over as their New-York home the little Garrick Theater, built for his own uses by the celebrated Edward Harrigan, leased and managed for a brief and profitless time by Richard Mansfield, and in the course of the years the first refuge of the Theater Guild.

American Business Women Visit and Surprise Paris

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 26.—A delegation of American business and professional women, numbering nearly a hundred, arrived in Paris on a good will tour and received an official reception at the Hotel De Ville by a committee exclusively composed of men.

The French interviewers showed great interest and wanted to know at length exactly what sort of business position each member of the delegation held in America. French newspapers publish as astounding information the fact that one of the delegates heads an insurance company and another runs service auto cars.

French women also are making progress, the delegates were informed, by members of the overseas league, which is a Paris organization of American women who served in France during the war and who acted as hosts to the women visitors. There are many French feminine lawyers, and the French no longer, as they did before the war, look askance at a young woman who holds the post of stenographer or business secretary.

This morning the delegates were received at the American embassy. There they were joined by Miss Edna Peters of Miami, Fla., who is touring as a typical American girl and had come from London via airplane.

American Girl Tells of Thrills at London Court

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—What happens to an American girl who is presented at court and stays to enjoy the London season may be gathered from the following, written by one of them for a London Sunday newspaper. That journal vouches for the authenticity of this.

"Now that it is all over and I shall soon be sailing for America and my home in the south, I can't say what thrilled me most—seeing a real queen wearing the Koh-i-noor diamond, having 40 new frocks, or saying a sympathetic 'No' to four proposals of marriage."

"At the beginning, when I arrived in June, I was just a scared stranger and dreading being presented at court. The more I looked at places like the abbey and watched the guards in Whitehall the more scared I felt. It was all so historic and impressive.

"All last winter I had hired a diction teacher to teach me to speak English; our accent is so crude.

"I managed to learn to say 'I beg your pardon' instead of 'Pardon me,' and, I hope, to soften my a's and lighten my r's—but people took me 'fur' an 'American' right away.

"When I first met Englishmen at dances I was stiff with fright. They were so perfectly groomed, so stylish in their speech, and so aloof, and—well, we call it 'high hat.'

"But beneath all that I found them real nice, good dancers, and great men for paying pretty compliments.

"Now I have to admit that the Englishman is a marvel. He looks a peach in evening dress, a modern sheik in a lounge suit, adorable in yachting clothes, stunning in morning dress, and a hero in masquerade costume. Yes, I have to hand it to the Englishmen.

"There is nothing in America to touch them for personality or appearance.

"Then, I never have seen anybody at home like the queen, beautiful individual, and so attractive to everybody, whether they are visitors or Londoners.

"When I was presented I wanted to stand where I could watch the queen, but it was all like a dream, curtsying and passing on in a long line.

"Then the duchesses! For the first time I have seen duchesses who are young. I knew the duchess of York was young and pretty, but I had an illusion that all duchesses were elderly; there are many young and lovely ones here in England.

"The most romantic dance of my whole life was at the Earl and Countess of ——'s home in an old London square, given for their two granddaughters. We danced in an Adam ballroom, and one of my partners was a tall, fair viscount who was a friend of the prince of Wales. I shall never forget that waltz or the conversation about the prince.

"Fancy me, George Lincoln ——'s daughter, talking to a viscount about the heir to the British throne!

"It was later the same night—morning rather—in glorious moonlight, that an American friend, short and square, asked me if I would marry him as soon as we got back to the states. But how could I? I thought of the blonde viscount, and the waltz and the earl, and I just said 'No.'

"We had several trips to Paris; I bought 20 of by frocks there and 20 here. The English models turned out best.

"In Paris a French nobleman, poor and proud, asked me with old world ceremony, bending over my hands and kissing them, if I would become his 'femme,' but I could never marry a foreigner.

"Then a very gay young Oxford undergrad, a chum of Dick's, my cousin, asked me to be his bride and stay in England. That was during 'Eights week.'

"My really exciting proposal came from a man much older than I, a lonely Scottish engineer, home on holiday from Rhodesia. I liked him real 'weel and was tempted—but Rhodesia! Gee, I couldn't. Besides, there was the lovely viscount and that waltz.

"I'm taking my debutante's dress and the white feathers back home, so that I can put them on and show our folks exactly how a young girl goes to court. We have the usual fairy book idea about kings and queens and palaces and the royal court, but actually it is more like a pageant in history."

Single Track Folk Don't Get Real Kick Out of Life, It Seems

BY DORIS BLAKE.

The lack of play, to paraphrase Dr. Eli Moschowitz of Mount Sinai hospital, undermines homes. The doctor said undermines "health." The evidence he advances proves that homes are just as much in jeopardy with the pursuit of one track interests as the individual health.

The type he meets and characteristic of the one track mindedness that leads to unhappiness of body and spirit, "have no illusions. They are tense, irritable. Their mental horizon is narrow and they are terribly tense, pursuing their aims with grim determination.

"Many of such individuals," says Dr. Moschowitz in the Journal of the American Medical association, "belong to the class called successful, if by 'success' one refers to the accumulation of wealth or power that is not always accompanied by a spiritual or ethical uplift."

However, the one track minded may be found among the weak and the failures, among people who have had a hard life, beginning with a struggle for existence and a continued battle to fill the stomach's need.

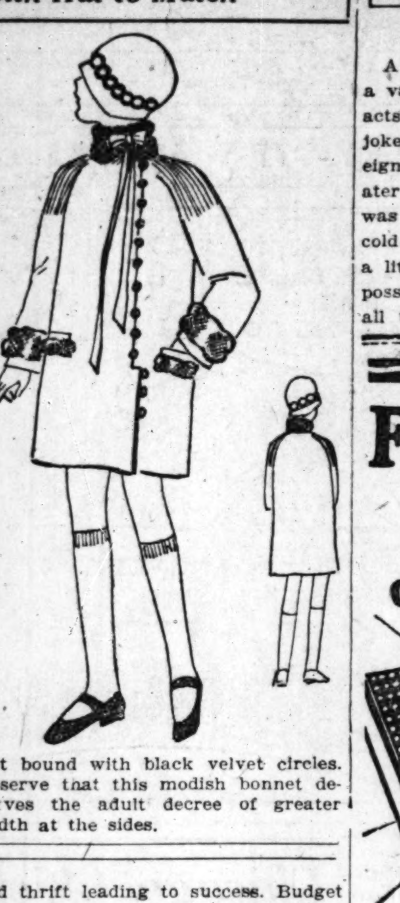
"They have not time to play," Dr. Moschowitz says. "And here again the child that is in all of us goes early, and once it is gone, it rarely heeds the summons to return."

There are contrasting homes side by side in a nearby suburb, parallels of which you may find in every community. In one is a father and mother who bought their car on time so that they could pile the youngsters in and get out somewhere, picnic and play for a day. If the notion takes them, they'll bank the supper dishes and run off for an hour or two's fun. They haven't much money and their home is not perfect, but they have an awfully good time.

Next door lives the family, the heads of which subscribe to the letter to copybook mottoes about work and thrift leading to success. Budget systems, cleaning days, mending days, and savings book are attended to with fanatical rigeur. They may be having a good time, in their way—but they don't look it, nor do they give an outsider the impression that life has its reckless moments, too.

Burnt Orange Coat with Hat to Match

BY LOLITA.



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—No burnt orange child need dread the fire of criticism. For following the vogue of the yellow and brown range which has so enlivened our summer landscape, these tones are being sustained for autumn and nobody shares in their dividends of charm more thoroughly than does the very young belle.

Of course there are certain children of wealthy parents who never wear anything more pretentious than a plain little navy cloth coat and a plain little navy beret or cloche. But if you do not belong to such restricted circles of society you may indulge your child in some individuality. Such individuality is well exemplified in this delightful autumn coat for the girl of from 4 to 9. Of course the color, burnt orange, is more partial to the brunette young lady and the small blonde had much better adapt this model in some more becoming tone.

As the French models so often do, this one compromises adroitly between sophistication and simplicity. Preserving the classic straight line, the broadcloth wrap does a little step movement with black velvet buttons; adds bow and streamers of black velvet ribbon to its adorable chocker of seal, and, last of all, accentuates the raglan and kimono modes of today by drawing fine hand tucks down over the shoulder.

Worn with this is a hat of matching felt bound with black velvet circles. Observe that this modish bonnet deserves the adult decree of greater width at the sides.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A Part of the Cast.

A good many years ago I went to a vaudeville show and in one of the acts a comedian was telling funny jokes. In the midst of the act a foreigner came into the rear of the theater with a basket on his arm and he was yelling, "Ice cold bananas! Ice cold bananas!" Each time he yelled a little louder, making it almost impossible to hear the comedian. Nearly all the people sitting near me were complaining and finally an usher came down the aisle, and in a loud and irritated tone, I said, "I wish you would please throw that dizzy bozo out. I didn't pay good money to hear him yelp." At that moment the dizzy bozo stepped up on the stage. He happened to be in the act. The audience laughed at me so I had to change my seat. I certainly was embarrassed. F. L. C.

HEAD ACHE?

A DOZEN different things may cause a headache, but there's just one thing you need ever do to get relief. Bayer Aspirin is an absolute antidote for such pain. Keep it at the office. Have it handy in the home. Those subject to frequent or sudden headaches should carry Bayer Aspirin in the pocket tin. Until you have used it for neuritis, neuralgia, or some other deep-seated pain, you've no idea how marvelously effective Bayer Aspirin is. It means quick, complete relief to millions of men and women every year. Doctors everywhere declare it does not depress the heart. Any drugstore.

Society Group Rather Small at Lincoln Fields

BY THALIA ——.

It wasn't an auspicious day for the opening of the Lincoln Fields race meeting, out near Crete, Ill., what with showers blowing up at the most inopportune moments and most of the usual smart contingent of race fans absent.

Stuyvesant Peabody was there, of course, but Mrs. Peabody hadn't been able to get down from the Lac du Flambeau country in northern Wisconsin, where the Peabodys and their kids have been most of the summer. Mr. Peabody had with him Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Strotz, the latter in an ensemble of figured blue crêpe and a bright blue felt hat in the new shape, the kind that goes down in the back in a frill arrangement.

Mrs. Strotz's brother-in-law, Paul Butler, was also with them, and several of the polo players from the Fort Leavenworth and Midwick teams, who had stayed over after last week's matches at the Oak Brook club.

Jack Dempsey was one of the spectators for the opening events and was the cause of much craning of necks and commenting. Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, who has been present at most of the important race events this year, also was at Lincoln Fields for the afternoon.

The annual Sheridan regatta will be sailed at Lake Geneva next Saturday, and the various families of the summer colony will have house parties after the Labor day week-end. The Lake Geneva Yacht club will hold its annual meeting on Saturday after the regatta, and the presentation of the season's prizes will be held at the Lake Geneva Country club in the evening, after which there will be a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosmer Morse have issued invitations for a dance for their daughters and their respective husbands, the William S. Covingtons [Elizabeth Morse] and the Carl B. Stibolts [Martha Morse], to take place on Saturday evening, Sept. 7, at their Lake Forest residence. A new art gallery has recently been completed on the Morse estate, and the party is to be given as a sort of initiation affair for the new addition. The Morses are in Hayward, Wis., now until after Labor day on a fishing trip.

The F. Dorsey Montgomerys Jr., the Peter Connors, and Burford Porter took off from Grant park on Saturday afternoon and flew to Green Lake, Wis., for a week-end there, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Rowley of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Selby of East Orange, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Esther Isabel, to William Taggart Meloy, son of Mrs. John Young Meloy of 1210 Astor street. Miss Selby is a graduate of Ogontz school. Mr. Meloy was graduated from Yale in 1928 and is a member of the Cloister club.

Mrs. Emmons Blaine gave a tea on Saturday at her camp on the Upper St. Regis lake, N. Y. About 75 guests from the St. Regis camps and the other Adirondack centers attended.

◆

Mr. and Mrs. William Rufus Abbott Jr. of Evanston are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Dana Cox Abbot, on Aug. 8 at the Martha Washington hospital. Mrs. Abbott is the former Barbara Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Cox.

◆

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan and their daughter, Mrs. Woodbury Ker, and the latter's baby daughter, Nancy, are getting back this week from Brule lake, Wis., where they have been camping for the last several weeks.

◆

The Charles H. Lobdells of Hubbard Woods and their small son have gone out to Estes Park to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lobdell over Labor day. Mrs. Lobdell's mother, Mrs. R. G. Bush of New Orleans, is spending her time on the south side during their absence.

◆

Mrs. Lloyda Smith Shaw has as her guest Miss Julia Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August L. Church of Brunswick, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Church are to arrive soon to be guests of Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of 448 Barry avenue.

◆

Marjorie Letts, Inc., will start business Sept. 3, with sports clothes, hats, sports accessories, etc., on sale. Miss Harriet McLaughlin is associated with Mrs. Letts in the venture, and the shop is occupying the same space as Miss McLaughlin's book shop.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

◆

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ward Olney will return to Mayfair House next week from Maine.

◆

Mr. and Mrs. Martin S. Watts and their sons have been abroad since the early summer and for the present are at the Grand hotel, Villa d' Este at Lake Como. They plan to return late in September.

Monday Tag Day for Varied Charity; Hundreds Will Help

Chicago will be asked to have a heart on next Monday, when the ninth annual tag day of the Chicago Federated Charities will be conducted. Little heart-shaped tags will be pinned on the lapels of Chicagoans on that day by hundreds of workers stationed at busy corners of the city.

Miss L. Ellen Babcock is president of the organization which comprises forty-two charitable institutions. Chicago's old and infirm, the crippled children, mothers and babies will all be aided from funds collected by the workers for each institution.

Among those benefited will be the Chicago Consumptive Aid society, Chicago Osteopathic Free Clinic for Children, German Evangelical orphanage and Old People's home, Martha Washington Home for Crippled Children, Misericordia Infants' home and Service Council for Girls.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover are again in the white house and have with them their younger son, Allan, who came from the camp on the Rapidan river this afternoon. Mrs. Hoover and her son have been at the camp for three weeks.

◆

Secretary of State Stimson came back to his apartment this morning after spending several days with Mrs. Stimson in their Long Island home.

◆

Secretary of Labor Davis will arrive tomorrow morning from Sunbury, Pa., where he spent today and made an address. Secretary Davis has been absent ten days, much of the time spent at Mooseheart, Ill.

◆

Miss Marianne Jaeger, who has lived for several years in Chicago, spent the week-end at the Dodge hotel on her way to New York from where she will sail Saturday for her home in Munich, Germany. Miss Jaeger spent a fortnight with relatives in Springfield, Ill., before coming east.

◆

Mrs. George Walson will sail Saturday, Sept. 7, aboard the Leviathan for an extended trip abroad. Mrs. Walson is an accomplished musician

Grant Park Concerts Planned, and Some Other Musical Events

The series of thirty band concerts in Grant park stadium will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 3, and not on Labor day as at first announced. The band will have a membership of 100 and is playing under the sponsorship of the Chicago Federation of Musicians. Max Bendix, formerly concert master and assistant conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will direct the first two concerts on Sept. 3 and 4.

In the following two weeks the conductors are thus listed: Sept. 5, Giuseppe Sirignano; 6, George Dasch; 7, Hobart H. Sommers; 8, Martin Ballmann; 9, Adolphe Dumont; 10, Pietro Cavallo; 11, Michel Mowschine; 12, Richard Czerwonky; 13, Walter E. Blaufuss; 14, Armin Hand; 15, Victor J. Grabed; 16, Casimir Jasinswi; 17, Rudolph Mangold.

The American Opera company will open a season of two weeks at the Majestic theater Oct. 7 with "Yolanda of Cyprus." This is a new work with book by Gale Young Rice of Evansville, Ind., and music by Clarence Loomis of Chicago. Other works in the répertoire include "The Marriage of Figaro," "Martha," "Carmen," "Faust," and "Mme. Butterfly," all to be sung in English.

The company's appearance here is sponsored by the American Opera Society of Chicago, Inc., of which Mrs. Waller Borden is president and Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick honorary president. Plans for the presentations are being made now through various group leaders, and a men's committee which will include leaders in the business and social life of the city is in process of formation. An elaborate social schedule is being planned in addition to the operatic offering.

An office has been opened in the Majestic theater, 22 West Monroe street, through which details of business and publicity will be handled. Vladimir Rosing is the artistic director of the opera company and Isaac Van Grove its conductor. E. M.

Co-ed Beauties Model.

Helen and Lois Dodd, University of Chicago twins who were recently judged as the most beautiful co-eds in America by John Barrymore, Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., and F. Scott Fitzgerald, were helping other co-eds get ready for school yesterday. The twins with Harriet Cunningham and Jean Mead of Wells college, modeled the suitable attire for the college girl at Marshall Field & Co. as the opening of the Get-Ready-for-College week.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needs Coat and Dress.

"I am greatly in need of a dress, coat and other clothing, size 36, and I cannot buy them. I am absolutely alone in the world, am 67 years old, and an inmate of the county farm. I have been a shut-in for about 20 years and seldom leave my room.

"S. N."

There is so little of happiness in life for this poor woman, I hope we can send some her way. If you have clothing in her size it would at least provide her with some of the necessities she is deprived of now.

Weather in Chicago Is Still Reminding Public of Ice Fund

It may be the last of August and September is near but the calendar has nothing to do with the brand of weather. The sticky heat of the last few days has brought suffering back to the stuffy little homes of Chicago's underprivileged families.

In one home yesterday two children, both babies, were making a brave effort to live until the cooler days come. The younger—six months old—weighed twelve and a half pounds when born, but now he weighs only two pounds more. The father of the family has been out of work for a month. The mother, worn with worry, is fearful that she will lose her babies. She cannot keep a twenty-four hour feeding of milk. Their house does not harbor such a luxury as ice.

It is for such a family that THE TRIBUNE's free ice fund exists. To hundreds of homes all summer long the TRIBUNE ice wagons have taken cheer to needy families, preventing illness and saving the lives of babies whose milk must be kept fresh and sweet. Your contribution will help send the wagons as long as the hot days persist. All gifts should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE.

Dance Masters Show Styles as Parley Opens

Such graceful dances as the "sorority sway" and the "sea gull waltz," and such choppy ones as the "chug" were being demonstrated yesterday at the opening sessions of the Chicago Association of Dancing Masters at the Hotel Stevens. The convention is to last six days and everything from ballroom to ballet and musical comedy dancing is being discussed and demonstrated.

Thomas Birchler, president of the organization, laid the responsibility for the wild hops and bobs, jumps and weaves of the latest modes in night club and other dancing, at the door of the high school and college youths. He said it is these young men who dominate dancing and set the precedents.

Bright Sayings of the Children

A short time later I went to see if she had obeyed, and upon seeing her in a yard two doors away, called to her to come home. When she arrived home I asked her why she didn't remain in the yard as daddy told her to do. Whereupon she replied: "Well, mother, daddy said I was not to go out of the gate and I didn't. I just climbed over Evelyn's fence and Kerwin's and got in Tommy's yard."

P. ✱.

Three year old Louise had heard her mother regret that none of the children have blue eyes and hair like their father's. She had her hair trimmed and was waiting for the barber to finish with her daddy. Mr. Smith, wishing to hear her talk, said: "I would like to know why you like that old daddy of yours so much." Louise looked adoringly at dad in the chair and said: "Cause he is the only pretty blue eyed, curly headed daddy I is got."

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Brown Curry.

The experience of this summer has inspired me to remark that in order to make an inexpensive curry it is not necessary to use the cheapest cuts of lamb stew meat. With both pork and veal, which require less work and care to prepare, we may make exceedingly economical curries. A curry properly is a thick, fine sauce, served over boiled rice. A stew with great pieces of the thinnest cuts of lamb covered with a wrinkled skin, which really requires reprehensible words to describe it adequately, and with the liquid part watery, is nothing like a sauce even though some curry powder has been used in it—the two without a blending agent or several make anything but an appetizing dish. The odor may even be sickening. The odor of curry powder used without nice mixing hinders it from achieving popularity.

◆

One of the best little curries I have ever made has already received attention in this column several times over, but after having the lamb stew sort in an "inn" recently I thought I had justification for printing this again, and especially as this is the chutney season. A chutney is often just a cold and fruity curry sauce, and if it is a strong one it contains all the ingredients needed to season a dish of meat—cut fine and cooked to make a nice gravy.

◆

For one cup of this type of curry sauce, or enough for four good servings of boiled rice, take one-fourth of a pound of pork, one tablespoon of butter or other fat in which to cook it, one large onion cut fine, one teaspoon of salt, one heaping tablespoon of mango and pineapple chutney if you cannot get one containing tamarind, one cup of cold water, and, if you like, a little fruit, like raisins or grapefruit, and perhaps a little fresh ginger root.

Cut the pork into the thinnest of slices, or dice it, fry in fat until it is well browned on all sides—all stew meats need this browning—push it to one side of pan, and stew onion in the fat until it is soft; add the chutney and other seasonings, stir until it simmers, and simmer gently for one hour.

Arrange the boiled rice in the shape of eclairs, and put the curry sauce across its narrowest part, like a ribbon.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Well, girls and boys, are you in a whirl yet, from the whirlwind finish the Cubs put on in yesterday's game with the Reds to turn a 5 to 2 licking into a 9 to 5 win, a finish that reads almost like a story?

Can't you see it now—how they came trooping in—fire in their eyes, for their share of the eighth? And how they went to it after Taylor drew a pass! A regular hurricane of hits—murderer's row cracking them out as a machine gun spits bullets—until seven runs had clattered over the plate. Then the game was on ice! It was just as my guest Eddie S. told me.

"That's world champion stuff, Miss Sally, and don't you forget! The Athletics can't stop that team any more than the Reds! Say, I can hear both flags flapping right now—right over there on those two poles!"

That's the way we all felt about it from the minute we filed into the wonderful box seats William Veeck, president of the Cubs, had set aside for our party. We could see that championship form from the minute the two teams came on the field, and Chicago let out its first roar of welcome for its homecoming heroes.

Even when the Cubs were trailing before that dazzling eighth, not one of my guests felt blue for an instant. "Cheer up, Sally," one of the guests told me when I let myself wonder, "do you think those Reds can stop this gang? Here comes Hornsby now—line 'er out Rogers! Never mind—Hack's coming next—then Kiki and Stevie—they'll break your heart, Ehrhardt!" And if Roger, Hack, Kiki, and Stevie didn't do it right at the start, they and their teammates sure came through in the inning that counted most.

And I'm certainly glad they did, girls and boys, not only for their chances to win the flag, but because it gave us such a glorious wind-up for our summertime of parties. Next week school starts, you know, and as I told you in last SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE, yesterday's glorious good time was the last we'd have together until next summer.

Why Pass on Your Fears and Aversions to Your Children?

Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Prayers and Graces for Children" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A lovely wriggly worm came to light in the digging.

"Sally! Put down that nasty worm! Ugh!"

"Kill it—kill it! I hate snakes."

"Come, look, Mother! See his stripes."

"Hold it for me a minute, Mother."

—o—

Does all or any of that strike home with you?

If it does, try to change it. I will acknowledge that if you have strong, full-grown aversions to looking at dead animals, or to holding squashy worm, soft slippery frogs, turtles, etc., it is hard to overcome it. In fact, you may not succeed, at all. But you can cover up your feelings so that your child doesn't become a victim of these small fears or aversions, too.

The way you act when your children want to hold or examine these creatures you can control. You don't have to show disgust when they want to look at them or take them in their hands. You don't have to stop them It is a great mistake if you do.

The fewer aversions, the fewer fears your children have, the happier and freer their lives will be. And you are the one who can determine these things.

Also, the closer a child can come to the natural world in his childhood, the better it is for him. This is the time in his development when there is a closeness to the primitive and the natural—a fundamental craving for it. Let him be free with all forms of natural life. It is his right. It is his need. Don't stand in his way.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

This chic dress fastens in an entirely new manner at the side, adding considerable length to the silhouette. The applied band trimming that extends down the skirt should be of a contrasting color. The back is straight and slim looking, and the front of the skirt is cut circular and generously full, to give a graceful swing in motion.

The pattern, 3320, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 40 inch print with ½ yard of 27 inch plain.

FARM AND GARDEN
BY PAUL POTTER

Gardeners and truck farmers who have experienced that unexpected aging of celery that foretells "goin' to seed" will be interested in the results of a study of this seemingly unnatural occurrence recently reported by Cornel university garden specialists.

Their conclusion is that cool weather has more to do than any other factor in premature seeding of celery. Dr. H. C. Thompson, at the Ithaca experiment station, subjected young, vigorous celery plants to rather low temperatures—40 to 50 degrees F.—for two weeks, in several tests. His results may surprise many growers who make a practice of hardening plants in the cold frame by subjecting them to such low temperatures.

It is not necessary so to harden celery plants, Dr. Thompson believes. The same result can be obtained by withholding water. He adds that when low temperature is used it should be only for a short period, and that water should be used sparingly during that process.

On the other hand, relatively high temperatures have been found to prevent seeding of celery, regardless of previous treatment, unless the seed stalks have been started before the plants get the warmer temperature. This probably accounts for the fact that in some seasons less seed stalks develop even though the plants started in cool spring weather.

The more rank growing and earlier varieties and strains are more likely to go to seed, Dr. Thompson's experiments indicate. Conditions under which the plants are grown, especially during their earlier stages, largely determine whether the variety or strain characteristics appear. In other words, the environment in which the celery is grown seems to control, to a large degree, the tendency toward premature seeding.

Short Period of Liquid Diet Will Make Pounds Fly

by Antoinette Donnelly

The wisest, the best, and the safest reducing system from a health and beauty point of view is to catch the superfluous padding young, treat it as described below, and tell it adieu, if not good-by.

Some persons are so constituted that reducing talk bores them to tears—mainly because they haven't any fat contribution to enter. And some are so constituted that it is a question of getting off five pounds now and then keeping in good mettle. Some again, of course, are what might be classed as "pilers-up." Another day we'll tell them what they want to know.

But for persons whose problem is a five pound assault now and then we suggest the three or four day liquid diet. We've tried it ourself, to our great satisfaction. And correspondents have tried it, also, with great success. And I should judge that easily eighty-five per cent of the persons who do talk and do reducing could put themselves in the position of needing only this form of treatment occasionally to keep in trim. But it is all in catching the five at five pounds and not waiting until they have doubled, tripled, or quadrupled.

Anyway, here's Mrs. A. L.'s testimonial to add to my own recommendation:

"For some time I've been wondering why all the fuss about special diets, intensive exercising, and all the mechanical means of reducing, when it is so simple to take a three or four day liquid diet and just watch five pounds, at least, disappear. I have tried it three or four times in the last year, and it gives exactly the same results each time.

"I have set a weight for myself at which I feel my best and look my best. It happens to be 130. Occasionally, after a series of too many parties and less physical activity, I find myself 133 or 134. Immediately I stop solid food, and in three or four days—usually three—I am at 127 pounds.

"I shudder when I remember the lamb chop and pineapple or the worse boiled egg and milk diet. One feels so fit on liquids. I use one quart of buttermilk daily and juicy fruits. I find I can slip in ripe tomatoes and a bit of lettuce at dinner time, so I can sit at table with my family and still not have my diet attract too much attention. Other reducing courses rarely netted me more than two or three pounds a week, and a good deal of physical discomfort."

Summer frocks demand this inconspicuous sanitary pad

Designed for inconspicuous protection—and so light, so cool, so comfortable in summer

WEAR your sheerest clothes day after day the whole summer through, without the slighest fear of embarrassment... ever. Kotex makes it possible.

Kotex is the shaped sanitary pad that is non-detectable. The corners are rounded and tapered. There is no awkward bulk.

85% of hospitals use Kotex filler

Can you imagine any more eloquent tribute to Kotex than this? Surgeons in 85% of the hospitals in this country select Kotex filler (Cellucotton absorbent wadding) for their patients! Not only for sanitary pads, but also for surgical dressings. This is the same, identical, Kotex-made Cellucotton.

Kotex gives complete protection. It actually absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture. So bulk and weight are unnecessary. In their place, you have lightness ... coolness ... perfect comfort ... even in warmest weather.

Kotex deodorizes, too—so much more important in summer. And disposes instantly like tissue. The Cellucotton absorbent wadding layers can easily be adjusted as needs change. For all these reasons Kotex ... favored by millions for year-'round use ... becomes absolutely indispensable in summer. For sale everywhere.

KOTEX IS SOFT ...

Safeguard the health with adequate diets

AN EXAMINATION by health authorities of a million New York school children—not limited to the poorer families—disclosed that a little more than 17% were up to normal. More than 60% were on the border line of malnutrition, and 20% were in immediate need of a doctor's care. What a warning of tuberculosis and other diseases there is in this survey, if the children of the rest of the United States are comparable to those of New York City—and they doubtless are.

Let mothers guard the health of the children of the land by regular meals of milk, fruits, vegetables and other nourishing foods. Encourage young people to eat by making the diet appetizing and attractive. Sprinkle a little sugar on the cereal. Make milk-shakes and milk desserts to encourage the taking of enough milk. Serve stewed fruits daily, mellowed and flavored with a little sugar.

TRIBUNE TOWER

Every south, east, and west window has an awning.

The building is kept immaculately clean.

Windows stay up. It is quiet. The air is pure and there are no buildings to cut off light and breeze and radiate heat in your office.
